Romance on a Global Stage Nicole Constable, 2003-09-18 Publisher Description Love and Intimacy in Online

Cross-Cultural Relationships Wilasinee Pananakhonsab, 2016-11-16 This book challenges assumptions about the motivations that drive women from relatively poor developing countries to use intermarriage dating sites to find partners from relatively wealthy developed countries It is generally assumed that economic deprivation or economic opportunities are the main factors but this book instead focuses on the work of women s imagination in online cross cultural relationships including the role of desire love and intimacy The experiences of Thai women are used to explore how they initiate develop and maintain love and intimacy with Western men across distance and time The book shows that in the absence of opportunities to search and meet partners from geographically distant parts of the world the technology of the internet offers new ways of searching for and managing relationships and has significant consequences for local experiences and expectations of love and partnering The book will be of interest to scholars and students with an interest in family and intimate life gender and sexualities Asian and Thai studies globalization and nationalism culture and media sociology and anthropology Marriage

Making and Faking Kinship Caren Freeman, 2011-11-22 In the years leading up to and directly following rapprochement with China in 1992 the South Korean government looked to ethnic Korean Chos njok brides and laborers from northeastern China to restore productivity to its industries and countryside South Korean officials and the media celebrated these overtures not only as a pragmatic solution to population problems but also as a patriotic project of reuniting ethnic Koreans after nearly fifty years of Cold War separation As Caren Freeman s fieldwork in China and South Korea shows the attempt to bridge the geopolitical divide in the name of Korean kinship proved more difficult than any of the parties involved could have imagined Discriminatory treatment artificially suppressed wages clashing gender logics and the criminalization of so called runaway brides and undocumented workers tarnished the myth of ethnic homogeneity and exposed the contradictions at the heart of South Korea s transnational kin making project Unlike migrant brides who could acquire citizenship migrant workers were denied the rights of long term settlement and stringent quotas restricted their entry As a result many Chos njok migrants arranged paper marriages and fabricated familial ties to South Korean citizens to bypass the state apparatus of border control Making and Faking Kinship depicts acts of counterfeit kinship false documents and the leaving behind of spouses and children as strategies implemented by disenfranchised people to gain mobility within the region s changing political economy

New Dynamics in Female Migration and Integration Christiane Timmerman,Marco Martiniello,Andrea Rea,Johan Wets,2015-04-10 This book explores the dynamic interplay between cross national and cross cultural patterns of female migration integration and social change by focusing on the specific case of Belgium It provides insight into the dynamic interplay between gender and migration and especially contributes to the knowledge of how migration changes gender relations in Belgium as well as in the regions of origin To this end an analytical model for conducting gender sensitive migration research is developed out of an initial theory driven conceptual model Employing a transversal approach the researchers reveal similarities and differences across national backgrounds disclosing the underlying more universal gender dynamics

Arranging Marriage Marian Aguiar,2018-01-02 The first critical analysis of contemporary arranged marriage among South Asians in a global context Arranged marriage is an institution of global fascination an object of curiosity revulsion outrage and even envy Marian Aguiar provides the first sustained analysis of arranged marriage as a transnational cultural phenomenon revealing how its meaning has been continuously reinvented within the South Asian diaspora of Britain the United States and Canada Aguiar identifies and analyzes representations of arranged marriage in an interdisciplinary set of texts from literary fiction and Bollywood films to digital and print media to contemporary law and policy on forced marriage Aguiar interprets depictions of South Asian arranged marriage to show we are in a moment of conjugal globalization identifying how narratives about arranged marriage bear upon questions of consent agency state power and national belonging Aguiar argues that these discourses illuminate deep divisions in the processes of globalization constructed on a fault line between individualist and collectivist agency and in the process critiques neoliberal celebrations of culture as choice that attempt to bridge that separation Aguiar advocates situating arranged marriage discourses within their social and material contexts so as to see past reductive notions of culture and

grasp the global forces mediating increasingly polarized visions of agency Handbook of Migration, Ethnicity and Diversity Takeyuki Tsuda, 2024-07-05 This Handbook provides a framework for analysing migrant diversity utilising case studies that illustrate the social dynamics and consequences of such diversity for both migrants and host societies By engaging with a wide range of literature and theoretical perspectives related to race and ethnicity diasporas gender superdiversity and intersectionality it examines how such diversities can result in social processes of inclusion exclusion and hierarchical inequalities Marriage and Marriageability Chigusa Yamaura, 2020-07-15 How do the Japanese men and Chinese women who participate in cross border matchmaking individuals whose only interaction is often just one brief meeting come to see one another as potential marriage partners Motivated by this question Chigusa Yamaura traces the practices of Sino Japanese matchmaking from transnational marriage agencies in Tokyo to branch offices and language schools in China from initial meetings to marriage the visa application processes and beyond to marital life in Japan Engaging issues of colonial history local norms and the very ability to conceive of another or oneself as marriageable Marriage and Marriageability rethinks cross border marriage not only as a form of gendered migration but also as a set of practices that constructs marriageable partners and imaginable marriages Yamaura shows that instead of desiring different others these transnational marital relations are based on the tactical deployment of socially and historically created conceptions of proximity between Japan and northeast China Far from seeking to escape local practices participants in these marriages actively seek to avoid transgressing local norms By doing so on a transnational scale they paradoxically reaffirm and attempt to remain within the boundaries of local marital ideologies Mobility and Place Jørgen Ole Bærenholdt, Brynhild Granås, 2016-04-15 The Northern peripheries of Europe which are covered by this book are associated with remoteness the frontier isolated communities colonialism and resource extraction Recently huge projects in petroleum and hydropower have been located there and the region has become better known as an attractive tourist destination Although these spaces are perceived as being marginal they are inhabited and linked into globalization and international agendas This book examines how people live in such remote spaces in an emerging global world of connectivity interdependency mobility and non linear dynamics The various case studies examine a wide range of experiences ranging from tourists and local settlers to those who migrate for labour in old or new industries or to pursue the hybrid urban rural life of the periphery In this book mobility and place come together The analyses demonstrate how mobility and place mutually constitute each other and how specific relationships between the two aspects are crucial in the making of societies The authors study attempts to reinvent places together with connections and the opening of new scapes in order to sustain businesses municipalities and people s livelihood Learning to Love Raksha Pande, 2021-03-19 The politics of marriage and migration in postcolonial Britain Becoming modern and British enacting citizenship through arranged marriages Continuing traditions as a matter of arrangement Becoming a suitable boy and a good girl Learning to love The ties that bind marriage belonging and identity

Family Issues on Marriage, Divorce, and Older Adults in Japan Fumie Kumagai, 2014-10-14 This book provides insightful sociological analyses of Japanese demography and families paying attention not only to national average data but also to regional variations and community level analyses In analyzing Japanese family issues such as demographic changes courtship and marriage international marriage divorce late life divorce and the elderly living alone this book emphasizes the significance of two theoretical frameworks the dual structure and regional variations of the community network in Japan By emphasizing the extensive cultural diversity from one region to another this book represents a paradigm shift from former studies of Japanese families which relied mostly on national average data The method of analysis adopted in the study is qualitative with a historical perspective The book is thus an invitation to more in depth qualitative dialogue in the field of family sociology in Japan This book will be of great interest not only to Asian scholars but also to other specialists in comparative family studies around the world

Religion and Transnational Citizenship in the African Diaspora Mattia Fumanti, 2022-12-30 This book focuses on Akan speaking Ghanaians in London and explores in detail the experience of African migrants living in Britain investigating how they construct their British citizenship through their membership of the church Building on extensive ethnographic research in London and Ghana the author explores the relationship between religion and citizenship the emergence of transnational subjectivities and the making of diaspora aesthetics among African migrants Starting from the understanding that citizenship is dialogical a status mediated by a subject's multiple and intersecting identities the author highlights the limitations of existing conceptualisations of migrant citizenship Anchored in a case study of the British Ghanaian Methodist Church as a transnational religious organisation and cultural polity the book explores diasporic religious subjectivities as both cosmopolitan and transnational while being configured in emotionally and morally significant ways by the Methodist Church as well as family ethnicity and nation Interdisciplinary by nature this book will be of interest to a wide range of researchers and scholars across the social sciences and humanities working in the fields of anthropology religion sociology postcolonial studies and African studies and additionally policy makers interested in diaspora and migration studies

Cross-Border Marriages Nicole Constable, 2010-08-03 Illuminating how international marriages are negotiated arranged and experienced Cross Border Marriages is the first book to chart marital migrations involving women and men of diverse national ethnic and class backgrounds The migrations studied here cross geographical borders of provinces rural urban borders within nation states and international boundaries including those of China Japan South Korea India Vietnam the Philippines the United States and Canada Looking at assumptions about the connection between international marriages and poverty opportunism and women's mobility the book draws attention to ideas about global patterns of inequality that are thought to pressure poor women to emigrate to richer countries while simultaneously suggesting the limitations of such views Breaking from studies that regard the international bride as a victim of circumstance and the mechanisms of international marriage as traffic in commodified women these essays challenge any simple idea of global hypergamy and present a nuanced understanding where a variety of factors not the least of which is desire come into play Indeed most contemporary marriage scapes involve women who relocate in order to marry rarely is it the men But Nicole Constable and the volume contributors demonstrate that contrary to popular belief these brides are not necessarily poor nor do they categorically marry men who are above them on the socioeconomic ladder Although often women may appear to be moving up from a less developed country to a more developed one they do not necessarily move higher on the chain of economic resources Complicating these and other assumptions about international marriages the essays in this volume draw from interviews and rich ethnographic materials to examine women's and men's agency their motivations for marriage and the importance of familial pressures and obligations cultural imaginings fantasies and desires in addition to personal and economic factors Border crossing marriages are significant for what they reveal about the intersection of local and global processes in the everyday lives of women and men whose marital opportunities variably yield both rich possibilities and bitter disappointments
