

The background of the entire image is a photograph of a beach at sunset. The sky is a gradient of soft pinks and purples, with some wispy clouds. The ocean is calm, reflecting the colors of the sky. The beach in the foreground is sandy and has some small, dark patches of seaweed or debris. In the upper center, there is a white, torn-edge piece of paper that serves as a backdrop for the title.

Romantic Prose Fiction Gerald Ernest Paul Gillespie, Manfred Engel, Bernard Dieterle, 2008 In this volume a team of three dozen international experts presents a fresh picture of literary prose fiction in the Romantic age seen from cross cultural and interdisciplinary perspectives The work treats the appearance of major themes in characteristically Romantic versions the power of Romantic discourse to reshape imaginative writing and a series of crucial reactions to the impact of Romanticism on cultural life down to the present both in Europe and in the New World Through its combination of chapters on thematic generic and discursive features Romantic Prose Fiction achieves a unique theoretical stance by considering the opinions of primary Romantics and their successors not as guiding truths by which to define the permanent meaning of Romanticism but as data of cultural history that shed important light on an evolving civilization

SPECIAL OFFER 30% discount for a complete set order 5 vols The Romanticism series in the Comparative History of Literatures in European Languages is the result of a remarkable international collaboration The editorial team coordinated the efforts of over 100 experts from more than two dozen countries to produce five independently conceived yet interrelated volumes that show not only how Romanticism developed and spread in its principal European homelands and throughout the New World but also the ways in which the affected literatures in reaction to Romanticism have redefined themselves on into Modernism A glance at the index of each volume quickly reveals the extraordinary richness of the series total contents

Romantic Irony sets the broader experimental parameters of comparison by concentrating on the myriad expressions of irony as one of the major impulses in the Romantic philosophical and artistic revolution and by combining cross cultural and interdisciplinary studies with special attention also to literatures in less widely diffused language streams Romantic Drama traces creative innovations that deeply altered the understanding of genre at large fed popular imagination through vehicles like the opera and laid the foundations for a modernist theater of the absurd Romantic Poetry demonstrates deep patterns and a sharing of crucial themes of the revolutionary age which underlie the lyrical expression that flourished in so many languages and environments Nonfictional Romantic Prose assists us in coping with the vast array of writings from the personal and intimate sphere to modes of public discourse including Romanticism's own self commentary in theoretical statements on the arts society life the sciences and more Nor are the discursive dimensions of imaginative literature neglected in the closing volume Romantic Prose Fiction where the basic Romantic themes and story types the romance novel novella short story and other narrative forms are considered throughout Europe and the New World This enormous realm is seen not just in terms of Romantic theorizing but in the light of the impact of Romantic ideas and narration on later generations As an aid to readers the introduction to Romantic Prose Fiction explains the relationships among the volumes in the series and carries a listing of their tables of contents in an appendix No other series exists comparable to these volumes which treat the entirety of Romanticism as a cultural happening across the whole breadth of the Old and New Worlds and thus render a complex picture of European spiritual strivings in the late eighteenth and the nineteenth centuries a heritage still very close to our age

A Little Love Story Roland Merullo, 2019-11-15 Selected as one of the 10 Wonderful Romance Novels by Good Housekeeping magazine A Little Love Story is a sometimes poignant sometimes hilarious tale of attraction and loyalty jealousy and grief It's a classic love story with some modern twists Janet Rossi is a very smart aide to the governor of Massachusetts but she suffers from an illness that makes her as she puts it not exactly a good long term investment Jake Entwistle is a few years older a carpenter and portrait painter also smart but with a shadow over his romantic history After meeting when Janet accidentally backs into Jake's antique truck they begin a love affair marked by courage humor a deep and erotic intimacy and modern complications Thoughtful restrained yet very sexy Roland Merullo captures what it feels like when you meet the one and what you're willing to do to hold onto that person wrote The New York Times

A Natural History of the Romance Novel Pamela Regis, 2013-08-31 The romance novel has the strange distinction of being the most popular but least respected of literary genres While it remains consistently dominant in bookstores and on best seller lists it is also widely dismissed by the critical community Scholars have alleged that romance novels help create subservient readers who are largely women by confining heroines to stories that ignore issues other than love and marriage Pamela Regis argues that such critical studies fail to take into consideration the personal choice of readers offer any true definition of the romance novel or discuss the nature and scope of the genre Presenting the counterclaim that the romance novel does not enslave women but on the contrary is about celebrating freedom and joy Regis offers a definition that provides critics with an expanded vocabulary for discussing a genre that is both classic and contemporary sexy and entertaining Taking the stance that the popular romance novel is a work of literature with a brilliant pedigree Regis asserts that it is also a very old stable form She traces the literary history of the romance novel from canonical works such as Richardson's Pamela through Austen's Pride and Prejudice Brontë's Jane Eyre and E M Hull's The Sheik and then turns to more contemporary works such as the novels of Georgette Heyer Mary Stewart Janet Dailey Jayne Ann Krentz and Nora Roberts

Love Letters and the Romantic Novel during the Napoleonic Wars Sharon Worley, 2017-01-06 Love letters during the Napoleonic wars were largely framed by concepts of love which were promoted through novels and philosophy The standard texts so to speak which were written by major authors who inherited this Enlightenment bearing responded to the emerging concepts of love found in novels and philosophical essays Love among this Napoleonic coterie is unique because it demonstrates the reciprocal relationship between the love letter and the romantic novel Germaine de Staël Juliette de La Fayette Chateaubriand Benjamin Constant Lady Emma Hamilton Napoleon Bonaparte and his brother Lucien Bonaparte were the authors and recipients of some of the most passionate love letters of this period They were also avid readers of the newly emerging genre of the romantic novel and many of them were also authors of such works where they projected their personal romances onto the characterization of their fictional heroes and heroines In addition these authors had lived through the recent French Revolution and the Terror Imprisoned during the Revolution or branded as emigrants upon their return to Paris their mature adult lives were spent in the shadows of the Napoleonic wars in which they shifted political loyalties as the specter of Napoleon's powers grew from First Consul to Emperor of Europe The looming threat of war ignited the depths of their passions and inspired their intellectual analysis of love happiness and suicide Their evolving concept of love was a romantic all consuming passion which gripped the lovers in fatal embraces This book's analysis of their love letters and romantic novels reveals the emerging political landscape of the period through extended metaphors of love and patriotism The Subversion of Romance in the Novels of Barbara Pym

Ellen M. Tsagaris, 1998 Points out how British novelist Pym 1913-80 parodied the conventions of romance novels by deflating characters hyperbole and exaggeration or emphasizing meticulously the mundane elements of everyday life Shows how she used food clothes heroin and hero characterizations and marriage customs to portray her characters and perhaps her own skepticism about the whole business Paper edition 764 0 18 95 Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Write Romantic Novels ...And Live on It Corinna Taylor, 2021-08-20 These types of novels are not the same as the historical ones that were established in the period of the regency They are usually shorter usually paying attention to the society of the regency and dialogue around action and sex although Mary Balogh and other authors have introduced sex in this genre it can be said that these romances should Much to authors as I arrived Georgette Heyer one of the favorite writers of the SF author of Lois McMaster Bujold also to Jane Austen In spite of everything the regency of today does not have to be a sitcom This subgenre can deal with distressed characters discovering the importance of family life with heroines forced to sexual abuse protagonists or women heroines forced to become prostitutes Mary Balogh The Secret Pearl Some writers began writing these types of novels before entering historical romance Notable names in this genre especially the humorous regency are Emma Jensen Barbara Metzger Diane Farr Marion Chesney and Kasey Michaels Notable authors of more serious regencies include Mary Balogh Carla Kelly Joan Wolf Patricia Oliver Mary Jo Putney Alison Lane Elisabeth Fairchild and Jo Beverley You, Too, Can Write a Romance Novel José de la Rosa, 2019-11-27 Have you ever dreamed of writing your very own romance novel but haven't the faintest idea of where to start Are you an already established author but would like a

The Lovers Embrace: An Inspirational Romance Novel Matt Kingsley, The morning sun cast a golden hue over the quaint village its rays gently coaxing the sleepy hamlet to life Elizabeth Bennett with her hair tied back in a simple ribbon stood by the open window watching the world awaken The early spring air was still crisp carrying the promise of warmer days As the village stirred Elizabeth s mind wandered to the letter that lay unopened on the mantelpiece It had arrived the day before its seal unbroken its contents a mystery Her heart fluttered with a mix of anticipation and trepidation The handwriting was unmistakably that of James her childhood friend who had left for the city years ago to pursue his dreams She sighed her thoughts drifting back to their last encounter It had been a bittersweet farewell filled with unspoken words and unacknowledged feelings Since then their communication had been sporadic confined to brief letters and the occasional carefully worded note Turning away from the window Elizabeth finally gathered the courage to break the seal The letter unfolded easily revealing James s familiar script His words were warm recounting his life in the city his successes and his challenges But as she read on a different tone emerged one that spoke of longing and reflection

Charles Robert Maturin and the haunting of Irish romantic Fiction

Christina Morin,2017-06-01 A self described disappointed Author Charles Robert Maturin 1780 1824 has been largely relegated to the margins of literary history since his death in 1824 Yet as this study demonstrates he exerted a fundamental influence on the development of Irish fiction in the early nineteenth century In particular his novels dramatically underscore the continuing presence and deployment of the Gothic mode in Romantic Ireland an influence now frequently overlooked in critical attention to the national and regional forms popularized in Ireland in the wake of Anglo Irish Union 1801 Working from Jacques Derrida s influential theory on ghosts this study positions Maturin as the cornerstone on which to build a new paradigm of Irish Romantic fiction one which accounts for the spectral traces of the past cultural social and political evident in early nineteenth century Irish fiction As it does so it calls for renewed critical and popular attention to an author who himself continues spectrally to emerge in the works of his literary successors
