Ronsard's Ordered Chaos Malcolm Quainton, 1980      Cosmos and Image in the Renaissance Kathryn Banks, 2017-07-05 Renaissance images could be real as well as linguistic Human beings were often believed to be an image of the cosmos and the sun an image of God Kathryn Banks explores the implications of this for poetic language and argues that linguistic images were a powerful tool for rethinking cosmic conceptions She reassesses the role of natural philosophical poetry in France focusing upon its most well known and widely read exponent Guillaume de Saluste Du Bartas Through a sustained analysis of Maurice Sceve's Delie Banks also rethinks love lyric's oft noted use of the beloved as image of the poet Cosmos and Image makes an original contribution to our understanding of Renaissance thinking about the cosmic the human and the divine It also proposes a mode of reading other Renaissance texts and reflects at length upon the relation of literature to history to the history of science and to political turmoil      Ronsard's Philosophic Thought Isidore Silver, 1992

Writers in Conflict in Sixteenth-century France Malcolm Quainton, 2008 Text in English with some contributions in French      Ronsard and the Hellenic Renaissance in France Isidore Silver, 1900      The World Upside Down in 16th-Century French Literature and Visual Culture Vincent Robert-Nicoud, 2018-09-11 In The World Upside Down in 16th Century French Literature and Visual Culture Vincent Robert Nicoud offers an interdisciplinary account of the topos of the world upside down in early modern France To call something topsy turvy in the sixteenth century is to label it as abnormal The topos of the world upside down evokes a world in which everything is inside out and out of bounds fish live in trees children rule over their parents and rivers flow back to their source The world upside down proves to be key in understanding how the social political and religious turmoil of sixteenth century France was represented and conceptualised and allows us to explore the dark side of the Renaissance by unpacking one of its most prevalent metaphors      Carpe Corpus Cathy Yandell, 2000-11 Carpe Corpus investigates time as it was theorized imagined and lived in early modern France Despite the current flourishing of critical attention to women poets works critical assessments of Renaissance temporality remain almost exclusively shaped by early modern male writers A reading uninformed by female poets has deprived us of a more multifaceted vision of the temporal concordia discors at work in all these poets In Carpe Corpus Cathy Yandell offers original interpretations of such literary giants as Ronsard and Louise Labe as well as lesser known but increasingly studied poets of the sixteenth century notably Anne de Marquets Nicole Estienne and Catherine des Roches Through readings of poetry conduct manuals and moral treatises this volume seeks to reconstruct the temporal landscape of early modern France

Selected Poems Du Bellay, Ronsard, 2023-07-11 Live now and listen do not wait in vain Until tomorrow pluck life s rose today Joachim du Bellay and Pierre de Ronsard are two of the major sixteenth century French poets and leaders of the extraordinary group known as La Pl iade Determined to create a national vernacular literature the Pl iade poets profited from an intense study of Greek and Roman models and from a creative use of classical mythology to produce a body of verse that reflects the vigour and variety of European Renaissance culture Du Bellay broke new ground with the gritty realism and resentment of the Regrets and with his meditation in the Antiquities on the rise and fall of the Roman Empire In a series of sonnet sequences Cassandre Marie Astr e H l ne Ronsard developed the Petrarchan tradition of love poetry with a wider range of situations a richer imagery and more robust sensuality His reputation as France s greatest love poet should not however obscure his excellence in an astonishing variety of forms and genres such as elegies odes philosophical hymns and religious controversy Anthony Mortimer s verse translations cover this many faceted achievement in a version that functions as English poetry in its own right without departing from the letter and spirit of the original The French text is given on facing pages and a useful appendix contains extracts from seminal manifestos by the two poets A

Transformations of Memory and Forgetting in Sixteenth-Century France Nicolas Russell, 2011-04-29 This book proposes that in a number of French Renaissance texts produced in varying contexts and genres we observe a shift in thinking about memory and forgetting Focusing on a corpus of texts by Marguerite de Navarre Pierre de Ronsard and Michel de Montaigne it explores several parallel transformations of and challenges to traditional discourses on the human faculty of memory Throughout Classical Antiquity and the Middle Ages a number of influential authors described memory as a powerful tool used to engage important human concerns such as spirituality knowledge politics and ethics This tradition had great esteem for memory and made great efforts to cultivate it in their pedagogical programs In the early sixteenth century this attitude toward memory started to be widely questioned The invention of the printing press and the early stages of the scientific revolution changed the intellectual landscape in ways that would make memory less important in intellectual endeavors Sixteenth century writers began to question the reliability and stability of memory They became wary of this mental faculty which they portrayed as stubbornly independent mysterious unruly and uncontrollable an attitude that became the norm in modern Western thought as is illustrated by the works of Descartes Locke Freud Proust Foucault and Nora for example Writing in this new intellectual landscape Marguerite de Navarre Ronsard and Montaigne describe memory not as a powerful tool of the intellect but rather as an uncontrollable mental faculty that mirrored the uncertainty of human life Their characterization of memory emerges from an engagement with a number of traditional ideas about memory Notwithstanding the great many differences in concerns of these writers and in the nature of their texts they react against or transform their classical and medieval models in similar ways They focus on memory's unruly side the ways that memory functions independently of the will They associate memory with the fluctuations of the body the organic soul rather than the stability of the mind the intellectual soul In their descriptions of memory these authors both reflect and contribute to a modern understanding of and attitude towards this mental faculty Published by University of Delaware Press Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press

The Erotics of Materialism Jessie Hock, 2021-01-15 In The Erotics of Materialism Jessie Hock maps the intersection of poetry and natural philosophy in the early modern reception of Lucretius and his De rerum natura Subtly revising an ancient atomist tradition that condemned poetry as frivolous Lucretius asserted a central role for verse in the practice of natural philosophy and gave the figurative realm a powerful claim on the real by maintaining that mental and poetic images have material substance and a presence beyond the mind or page Attending to Lucretius's own emphasis on poetry Hock shows that early modern readers and writers were alert to the fact that Lucretian materialism entails a theory of the imagination and ultimately a poetics which they were quick to absorb and adapt to their own uses Focusing on the work of Pierre de Ronsard Remy Belleau John Donne Lucy Hutchinson and Margaret Cavendish The Erotics of Materialism demonstrates how these poets drew on Lucretius to explore poetry's power to act in the world Hock argues that even as classical atomist ideas contributed to the rise of empirical scientific methodologies that downgraded the capacity of the human imagination to explain material phenomena Lucretian poetics came to stand for a poetry that gives the imagination a purchase on the real from the practice of natural philosophy to that of politics In her reading of Lucretian influence Hock reveals how early modern poets were invested in what Lucretius posits as the materiality of fantasy and his expression of it in a language of desire sex and love For early modern poets Lucretian eroticism was poetic method and De rerum natura a treatise on the poetic imagination initiating an atomist genealogy at the heart of the lyric tradition

Performance, Poetry and Politics on the Queen's Day Virginia Scott, Sara Sturm-Maddox, 2017-03-02 This collaborative interdisciplinary study explores a variety of issues in theatrical and literary history that converge in two performances given at the palace of Fontainebleau on 13 February 1564 Part of the fabled Fêtes de Fontainebleau this carnival Sunday entertainment was produced at the behest of Catherine de Medici and created by courtiers and artists including Pierre de Ronsard the greatest lyric poet of the French sixteenth century While focused on the text and production of Ronsard's Bergerie and the choice and production of the tale of Ginevra from Ariosto's Orlando furioso the study also examines the urgent circumstances of the festival the moment shortly after the end of the First War of Religion was critical and highly charged as well as its political program and the rhetorical strategies employed by Catherine and Ronsard to promote harmony among the opposing factions of nobles The authors exploration of the Queen's Day also leads them to consider a range of questions pertaining to Renaissance and early modern court performance practices and literary cultural traditions The book is distinctive in that it crosses disciplinary and national boundaries and in that a number of the issues it addresses have received little or no previous scholarly attention

Perpetual Motion Michel Jeanneret, 2001-01-16 The popular conception of the Renaissance as a culture devoted to order and perfection does not account for an important characteristic of Renaissance art many of the period's major works including those by da Vinci Erasmus Michelangelo Ronsard and Montaigne appeared as works in progress always liable to changes and additions In Perpetual Motion Michel Jeanneret argues for a sixteenth century swept up in change and fascinated by genesis and metamorphosis Jeanneret begins by tracing the metamorphic sensibility in sixteenth century science and culture Theories of creation and cosmology of biology and geology profoundly affected the perspectives of leading thinkers and artists on the nature of matter and form The conception of humanity as understood by Pico de Mirandola Erasmus Rabelais and others reflections upon history the theory and practice of language all led to new ideas new genres and a new interest in the diversity of experience Jeanneret goes on to show that the invention of the printing press did not necessarily produce more stable literary texts than those transmitted orally or as hand printed manuscripts authors incorporated ideas of transformation into the process of composing and revising and encouraged creative interpretations from their readers translators and imitators Extending the argument to the visual arts Jeanneret considers da Vinci's sketches and paintings changing depictions of the world map the mythological sculptures in the gardens of Prince Orsini in Bomarzo and many other Renaissance works More than fifty illustrations supplement his analysis The Anthropomorphic Lens Walter Melion, Bret Rothstein, Michel Weemans, 2014-11-06 Anthropomorphism the projection of the human form onto the every aspect of the world closely relates to early modern notions of analogy and microcosm What had been construed in Antiquity as a ready metaphor for the order of creation was reworked into a complex system relating the human body to the body of the world Numerous books and images cosmological diagrams illustrated treatises of botany and zoology maps alphabets collections of ornaments architectural essays are entirely constructed on the anthropomorphic analogy Exploring the complexities inherent in such work the interdisciplinary essays in this volume address how the anthropomorphic model is fraught with contradictions and tensions between magical and rational speculative and practical thought Contributors include Pamela Brekka Anne Laure van Bruaene Ralph Dekoninck Agn s Guiderdoni Christopher P Heuer Sarah Kyle Walter S Melion Christina Normore Elizabeth Petcu Bertrand Prevost Bret Rothstein Paul Smith Miya Tokumitsu Michel Weemans and Elke Werner Book and Text in France, 1400-1600 Malcolm Quainton, 2016-12-05 In recent years literary scholars have come increasingly to acknowledge that an adequate understanding of texts requires the study of books the material objects through which the meanings of texts are constructed Focusing on French poetry in the period 1400 1600 contributors to this volume analyze layout illustration graphology paratext typography anthologization and other such elements in works by a variety of writers among them Charles d Orl ans Jean Bouchet Pierre de Ronsard and Louise Lab They demonstrate how those elements play a crucial role in shaping the relationships between authors texts contexts and readers and how these relationships change as the nature of the book evolves An introduction to the volume outlines the methodological implications of studying the materiality of literature in this period situates the various papers in relation to each other and to the field as a whole and indicates possible future directions of research in the field By engaging with issues of major current methodological concern this volume appeals to all scholars interested in the materiality of the literary text including the burgeoning field of text image studies not only in French but also in other national literatures In addition it enables fruitful connections to be made between late medieval and Renaissance literature areas still often studied in isolation from each other
