Identity and Lifestyle Construction in Multi-ethnic Shantytowns Mohamed A. G. Bakhit, 2015. This dissertation examines the construction of identity and different lifestyles of the Al Baraka shantytown community. The concepts of lifestyle and localization process are used as basic tools of analysis to develop a theoretical model that can be applied elsewhere. The localization process reveals how Al Baraka people adopt different kinds of behaviors, institutions, and activities from various origins and re-invent them locally to be their own. The author concludes that the social identity of Sudan today is not confined to a simplistic binary opposition Arab vs African but is constituted by social identities comprised of more complex sets of practiced lifestyles.

Series Contributions to the Africa Research Beitrage zur Afrikaforschung Vol 64 Subject African Studies Politics Sociology Peace, Discontent and Constitutional Law Martin Belov, 2021-05-24. This book offers a multi-discursive analysis of the constitutional foundations for peaceful coexistence, the constitutional background for discontent, and the impact of discontent and the consequences of conflict and revolution on the constitutional order of a democratic society which may lead to its implosion. It explores the capacity of the constitutional order to serve as a reliable framework for peaceful co-existence while allowing for reasonable and legitimate discontent. It outlines the main factors contributing to rising pressure on constitutional order which may produce an implosion of constitutionalism and constitutional democracy as we have come to know it. The collection presents a wide range of views on the ongoing implosion of the liberal democratic constitutional consensus which predetermined the constitutional axiology, the institutional design, the constitutional mythology, and the functioning of the constitutional orders since the last decades of the 20th century. The constitutional perspective is supplemented with perspectives from financial, EU labour and social security law, administrative law, migration and religious law. Liberal viewpoints encounter radical democratic and critical legal viewpoints. The work thus allows for a plurality of viewpoints, theoretical preferences, and thematic discourses, offering a pluralist scientific account of the key challenges to peaceful coexistence within the current constitutional framework The book provides a valuable resource for academics researchers and policymakers working in the areas of constitutional law and politics The Blackwell Companion to Globalization George Ritzer,2018-05-16 This companion features original essays on the complexity of globalization and its diverse and sometimes conflicting effects Written by top scholars in the field it offers a nuanced and detailed examination of globalization that includes both positive and critical evaluations Introduces the major players theories and methodologies Explores the major areas of impact including the environment cities outsourcing consumerism global media politics religion and public health Addresses the foremost concerns of global inequality corruption international terrorism war and the future of globalization Wide ranging and comprehensive an excellent text for undergraduate and graduate students in a range of disciplines Biography of a Blunder Dileep Edara,2016-02-29 Engaging with a critical analysis of the base and superstructure thesis regarding which a surprising number of reputed Marxist thinkers betray a perpetual ambivalence by frequently deploying it in a variety of contexts but simultaneously airing various reservations about it this book proposes a radical departure from the presently predominant understanding of it The popular view of the base as comprising economics and superstructure as encompassing almost all other spheres of social life is criticised as panoramic or panoptic or the extended version to which Marx s rigorously defined base of production relations and superstructure of politico legal spheres is juxtaposed Revisiting Marx s formulations in his famous 1859 Preface described here as his purloined letters the study rehabilitates his restricted version and upholds its conceptual superiority over its extended avatar that is currently ubiquitous The substitution of Marx s restricted version with the widely believed extended version of the thesis is characterised here as a blunder and this book traces the biography of this blunder through the intricate and tortuous theoretical developments that traverse a transnational and multidisciplinary territory constituting the history of Marxism The last chapter argues for a paradigm shift in favour of the mode of production thesis in order to redeem the holistic vision of Marx This shift is necessitated by the extenuation of the status of the base and superstructure thesis that results from the restoration of Marx s restricted version This chapter grapples with the issues involved in preparing the ground for that shift It also contends that although these theoretical shifts are never formulated in a conscious and conclusive manner as is done here the best practices in Marxist analyses are always inspired by the methodological implications of the mode of production thesis and for this reason the thesis is claimed to be the conceptual unconscious of Marxism Researching Criminology Iain Crow,Natasha Semmens,2007-11-16 what makes the book stand out is the inclusion of real research into various criminal justice institutions that have actually been undertaken by the authors In doing so what is produced is a book that stimulates interest and injects research passion as well as offering research know how into what can often be a difficult and sometimes dry area of research Tina Patel Liverpool John Moores University This book provides an essential tool for undergraduate students embarking upon their own research projects in Criminology It provides clear and informative guidance on a range of research methods and designs to assist
