Seven Stones A Portrait Of Arthur Erickson Architect:

Seven Stones Edith Iglauer, 1981-01-01 A study of the architect's work including the reshaping of downtown Los Angeles an entire city in the Middle East and Simon Fraser University in Canada Ernst L. Freud, Architect Volker M. Welter, 2011-10-01 Ernst L. Freud 1892-1970 was a son of Sigmund Freud and the father of painter Lucian Freud and the late Sir Clement Freud politician and broadcaster After his studies in Munich and Vienna where he and his friend Richard Neutra attended Adolf Loos's private Bauschule Freud practiced in Berlin and after 1933 in London Even though his work focused on domestic architecture and interiors Freud was possibly the first architect to design psychoanalytical consulting rooms including the customary couches a subject dealt with here for the first time By interweaving an account of Freud's professional and personal life in Vienna Berlin and London with a critical discussion of selected examples of his domestic architecture interior designs and psychoanalytic consulting rooms the author offers a rich tapestry of Ernst L. Freud's world His clients constituted a Who's Who of the Jewish and non-Jewish bourgeoisie in 1920s Berlin and later in London among them the S. Fischer publisher family Melanie Klein Ernest Jones the Spenders and Julian Huxley While moving within a social class known for its cultural and avant-garde activities Freud refrained from spatial formal or technological experiments Instead he focused on creating modern homes for his bourgeois clients Seven Stones Edith Iglauer, 1981 Her handsomely illustrated book is a hymn of praise to the most discussed Canadian architect of our time Robert Fulford Saturday Night

Erickson Lamia Doumato, 1984 Modern Movement Heritage Allen Cunningham, 2013-10-18 An introduction to the subject and the specific problems related to the conservation of modern structures Celebrating the first five years of DoCoMoMo's role and influence this collection covers policy planning and construction Made in British Columbia Maria Tippet, 2015-09-19 Is there such a thing as British Columbia culture and if so is there anything special about it This is the broad question Dr Maria Tippet answers in this work with an assured yes To prove her point she looks at the careers of eight ground breaking cultural producers in the fields of painting aboriginal art architecture writing theatre and music The eight creative figures profiled in Made in British Columbia are not just distinguished artists who made an enduring mark on Canadian culture during the twentieth century. They are unique artists whose work is intimately interwoven with British Columbia's identity. Emily Carr portrayed BC's coastal landscape in a manner as unique as her lifestyle. Bill Reid's carvings, jewellery and sculpture stand as a contemporary interpretation of his reclaimed Haida heritage. The name Francis Rattenbury is less known than The Empress Hotel in Victoria, one of many prominent BC buildings he designed, while Arthur Erickson's modern architectural contributions are recognized worldwide. Martin Allerdale Grainger's experience in the BC woods in the early days of hand logging inspired him to write one of the undisputed classics of BC fiction, Woodsmen of the West. Jean Coulthard struggled for respect as a female composer during the 1920s and 1930s in British Columbia but eventually proved her extraordinary musical talents internationally. George Woodcock left Britain in 1949 to forge his career as an influential author, editor, mentor, and tireless promoter of literary scholarship in the province, while playwright George Ryga, the son of Ukrainian immigrants, exposed the anguish and reality of life for Native women in our cities with his 1967 play The Ecstasy of Rita Joe. Featuring images of the artists and their works, Made in British Columbia presents a history of the treasures found in our galleries, concert halls, theatres, museums, libraries, and streetscapes and explores the legacy of a cultural tradition as unique as the place that nurtured it.

A History of Canadian Architecture Harold D. Kalman, Harold Kalman, 1994

Architects Today Kester Rattenbury, Robert Bevan, Kieran Long, 2006-08-10 This volume offers both an introduction to and an insight into key contemporary architects as well as giving a snapshot of the varied nature of architecture today. For each architect, there are details of their life and work and illustrations of their most representative and iconic buildings.

Cornelia Hahn Oberlander Susan Herrington, 2014-01-01 Cornelia Hahn Oberlander is one of the most important landscape architects of the twentieth century, yet despite her lasting influence, few outside the field know her name. Her work has been instrumental in the development of the late twentieth-century design ethic, and her early years working with architectural luminaries such as Louis Kahn and Dan Kiley prepared her to bring a truly modern and audaciously abstract sensibility to the landscape design tradition. In Cornelia Hahn Oberlander: Making the Modern Landscape, Susan Herrington draws upon archival research, site analyses, and numerous interviews with Oberlander and her collaborators to offer the first biography of this adventurous and influential landscape architect. Born in 1921, Oberlander fled Nazi Germany at the age of eighteen, with her family going on to become one of the few women to graduate from Harvard University's Graduate School of Design in the late 1940s. For six decades, she has practiced socially responsible and ecologically sensitive planning for public landscapes, including the 1970s design of the Robson Square landscape and its adjoining Provincial Law Courts, one of Vancouver's most famous spaces. Herrington places Oberlander within a larger social and aesthetic context, chronicling both her personal and professional trajectory and her work in New York, Philadelphia, Vancouver, Seattle, Berlin, Toronto, and Montreal. Oberlander is a progenitor of some of the most significant currents informing landscape architecture today.

particularly in the area of ecological focus In her thorough biography Herrington draws much deserved attention to one of the truly important figures in landscape architecture The Urban Geography Reader NICK FYFE, JUDITH

KENNY, 2020-04-15 Drawing on a rich diversity of theoretical approaches and analytical strategies urban geographers have been at the forefront of understanding the global and local processes shaping cities and of making sense of the urban experiences of a wide variety of social groups Through their links with those working in the fields of urban policy design urban geographers have also played an important role in the analysis of the economic and social problems confronting cities Capturing the diversity of scholarship in the field of urban geography this reader presents a stimulating selection of articles and excerpts by leading figures Organized around seven themes it addresses the changing economic social cultural and technological conditions of contemporary urbanization and the range of personal and public responses It reflects the academic importance of urban geography in terms of both its theoretical and empirical analysis as well as its applied policy relevance and features extensive editorial input in the form of general section and individual extract introductions Bringing together in one volume classic and contemporary pieces of urban geography studies undertaken in the developed and developing worlds and examples of theoretical and applied research it provides in a convenient student friendly format an unparalleled resource for those studying the complex geographies of urban areas Indigenous Cultural Centers and

Museums Anoma Pieris, 2016-07-14 Here is a lavishly illustrated descriptive survey of 48 leading indigenous cultural centers around the world 35 are from Australia and 13 from North America Japan Europe and Asia The book shows how each is a potentially transformative politically compelling addition to the field of cultural production illustrating how the facilities all built in the last three decades have challenged assumptions about nature culture and built form Using the spatial temporal practice of place making as the starting point the facilities highlighted here are described in terms of collaborations between a number of stake holders and professional consultants The book adopts the format of a descriptive survey with separate chapters devoted to individual case studies A broad introductory chapter which presents the arguments and overview precedes richly illustrated short individual essays on selected projects Each chapter commences with the details of the project including location area cost and consultants followed by a project description and discussion of background design development and reception of the projects Each project is approached as an architectural commission detailing the critical criteria consultants and processes The format is adopted from architectural review essays typically used in awards or journal publications within the profession which are accessible and relevant for both academics and practitioners Considerable attention is given to the process and to the evaluation of the project as a cultural response Each case study has been written with consultation of architects or administrators of the facilities for accuracy Indigenous Cultural Centers and Museums An Illustrated International Survey documents a rich legacy of collaboration across the spatial disciplines combining creative art practice architecture construction landscape design and urban design in the production of unique and culturally significant social institutions This book provides material on hitherto unknown bodies of work of talented architectural practices working collaboratively with culturally different client groups and developing consultative processes that test models for inter cultural engagement

Houses for All Jill Wade, 1994-01-01 Houses for All is the story of the struggle for social housing in Vancouver between 1919 and 1950 It argues that however temporary or limited their achievements local activists played a significant role in the introduction implementation or continuation of many early national housing programs Ottawa's housing initiatives were not always unilateral actions in the development of the welfare state The drive for social housing in Vancouver complemented the tradition of housing activism that already existed in the United Kingdom and to a lesser degree in the United States
