Regionalism And Regional Integration In Africa:

Regionalism, Security and Development in Africa Ernest Tooche Aniche, Ikenna Mike Alumona, Innocent Moyo, 2021-04-29
This book charts the history and contemporary landscape of African regionalism investigating how regional cooperation can be used to help to tackle security and development challenges in Africa. Africa has a long tradition of regional cooperation with the oldest trade and monetary integration schemes in the developing world but its colonial period and partition have caused lasting damage that still be seen in today's African economies. Contemporary post colonial African regionalism deeply rooted in notions of pan Africanism has served as a means of collective self reliance and economic transformation and development. This book starts with the history and theory behind African regionalism before discussing and comparing regional organisations such as the Economic Community of Central African States ECCAS, the Economic Community of West African States ECOWAS, the Community of Sahel Saharan States CEN SAD, Southern African Development Community SADC, the Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa COMESA and the East African Community EAC. Finally the book considers how regional integration and cooperation can help to address security and development challenges. This ambitious and broad ranging book will be a valuable resource for researchers working on African regionalism, security, African integration and development and comparative regionalism. Policymakers should also consider it a useful guide to the background and contemporary landscape of African regionalism.

The Political Economy of Regionalism in Southern Africa Margaret Carol Lee, 2003. In the face of increasing globalisation regionalism continues to be seen as a conduit for enhancing Africa's integration into the world economy. In the light of this the countries of southern Africa have made verbal commitments to enhance regional development and the integration of their economies. This important book examines the challenges to regionalism in southern Africa. It tackles the issues of political and economic instability, overlapping membership in regional economic organisations, increased intra regional trade through the creation of free trade agreements, the ability to secure needed foreign investment and the failure of governments to make a political commitment to regionalism.

Transfrontier Regionalism. The Revival of Regional Integration in Africa A.I. Asiwaju, 1999. The views and perspectives adopted by A.I. Asiwaju and D. Bach appear sufficiently distinct yet they converge on several key issues: i.e. the informal achievement of regionalization in Africa through kinship and other non state networks; the resistance of Africans to boundaries inherited from the colonial period and the consequences of the arbitrariness of these boundaries. Anyone who has ever crossed the Seme border between the Federal Republic of Nigeria and the Republic of Benin cannot but subscribe to the perceptions shared by the two authors. Whatever the purpose of the trip, travellers crossing the border share the experience of being in a lawless area; the occasional traveller who behaves suspiciously will immediately attract the attention of the immigration officer who begins to search through his papers scrupulously looking for any error; on the other hand the market woman who knows the system crosses with ease. The popularization of these border scenes by novels and video productions is significant evidence of the intensity of transborder movements in West Africa and of the constraints as well as the resources offered by the borders This dual reality of what appears as an obstacle to the implementation of institutionalized regional integration schemes and as the booster of an informal market driven trade flow is widely documented and discussed in the two papers

Regionalism and Africa's Development S.K.B. Asante,2016-07-27 A critical appraisal of regionalism as a key strategy in Africa s development explaining the failures thus far of attempts at regional integration on the continent This is the first text to highlight the main features of the new post 1990 regional initiatives such as the all embracing African Economic Community and World Bank IMF African Development Bank EC and French initiatives and the challenges to Africa from trading blocs elsewhere in the post Uruguay Round environment

Regionalism in Africa Daniel C Bach,2015-12-22 Africa which was not long ago discarded as a hopeless and irrelevant region has become a new frontier for global trade investment and the conduct of international relations This book surveys the socio economic intellectual and security related dimensions of African regionalisms since the turn of the 20th century It argues that the continent deserves to be considered as a crucible for conceptualizing and contextualizing the ongoing influence of colonial policies the emergence of specific integration and security cultures the spread of cross border regionalisation processes at the expense of region building the interplay between territory space and trans state networks and the intrinsic ambivalence of global frontier narratives This is emphasized through the identification of distinctive threads of regionalism which by focusing on genealogies trajectories and ideals transcend the binary divide between old and new regionalisms In doing so the book opens new perspectives not only on Africa in international relations but also Africa s own international relations This text will be of key interest to students and scholars of African politics African history regionalism comparative regionalism and more broadly to international political economy international relations and global and regional governance

Building Capacity in African Regional Integration S. K. B. Asante,2007

Regional Economic Communities and Integration in Southern Africa Leon Mwamba Tshipaka,Christopher Changwe Nshimbi,Inocent Moyo,2021-05-07 This book examines regional integration in Africa with a particular focus on the Southern African Development Community SADC It argues that the SADC s pursuit of a rationalist and state centric form of integration for Southern Africa is limited as it overlooks the contributory role and efficacy of non state actors who are relegated to the periphery The book demonstrates that civil society networks in Southern Africa constitute well governed self organised entities that function just like formal regional arrangements driven by state actors and technocrats The book amplifies this point by deploying New Institutionalism and the New Regionalism Approach to examine the role and efficacy of non state actors in building regions from below The book develops a unique typology that shows how Southern African regional civil society networks adopt strategies norms and rules to establish an efficient form of alternative integration in the region Based on a critical analysis of this self organised regionalism the book projects the reality that alternative regionalism driven by non state actors is possible This book expands the study of regionalism in the SADC and makes a significant and innovative contribution to the study of contemporary regionalism      Contemporary Regional Development in Africa Kobena T. Hanson, 2016-03-09 Contemporary Regional Development in Africa interrogates well known concerns in the areas of regionalism and economic integration in contemporary Africa while offering an added uniqueness by highlighting the capacity imperatives of the issues and proposing critical policy guideposts The volume juxtaposes a set of dynamic entanglements new and micro regionalism informal cross border trade intra African and African FDI plus cross border investments infrastructure development science and technology regional value chains conflict management and regional security with fluid interpretations of regional development The chapters provide snapshots of the several emerging and complex regionalisms and highlight a set of relevant and often overlapping analyses drawing on authors nuanced and granular understanding of the African landscape The varied yet interlinked nature of issues covered in this study make the book valuable and attractive to academics researchers policymakers and development practitioners

The New Regionalism in Africa Fredrik Söderbaum, 2017-03-02 This edited volume transcends conventional state centric and formalistic notions of regionalism and theorizes conceptualizes and analyzes the complexities and contradictions of regionalization processes in contemporary Africa The collection not only unpacks and theorizes the African state society complex with regard to new regionalism but also explicitly integrates the often neglected discourse of human security and human development In so doing the book moves the discussion of new regionalism forward at the same time as it adds important insights to security and development It is organized into three parts Part I theorizes conceptualizes and analyzes the new regionalism in Africa from the point of view of the region e g West East Central and Southern Africa The national perspectives in Part II focus on the new regionalism in Africa from the point of view of particular countries or specific state society complexes such as Kenya the Democratic Republic of the Congo DRC the enclave of Cabinda Angola and Zambia Part III contains two concluding chapters that tie the main threads of the volume together theoretically and empirically and discuss the contribution of the analytical framework the new regionalism approach NRA to the larger study of regionalism

Regionalism and Integration in Africa Samuel O. Oloruntoba, 2015-11-10 The resurgence of regionalism is borne out of the current political logjams that have characterized the governance and operations of multilateral trading system over the past one decade and a half Oloruntoba critically examines Euro Nigeria relations within the context of the Economic Partnership Agreements in terms of the political and economic implications of the agreements on Nigeria s non oil exports sub sectors Set within one of the main objectives of the Economic Partnership Agreements he also interrogates the prospects and challenges of regional integration in Africa under the regime of transnational accumulation which the Economic Partnership Agreements represents      Pan Africanism, Regional Integration and Development in Africa Samuel Ojo Oloruntoba, 2020-03-10 This edited volume addresses the accomplishments prospects and challenges of regional integration processes on the African continent Since regional integration is a process that ebbs and flows according to a wide range of variables such as changing political and economic conditions implications and factors derived from the vagaries of migration and climate change it is crucial to be cognizant with how these variables impact regional integration initiatives The contributors discuss the debates on Pan Africanism and linking it with ongoing discourses and policies on regional integration in Africa Other aspects of the book contain some of the most important topic issues such as migration border management and the sustainable development goals This content offers readers fresh and innovative perspectives on various aspects of sustainable development and regional growth in Africa

Regional Integration in Southern Africa Christopher S. Clapham,2001

The Political Economy of Regionalism F. Söderbaum,2004-10-29

The Political Economy of Regionalism The Case of Southern Africa challenges prevailing wisdom showing how ruling political elites and big business join forces with certain external actors in order to promote market integration and economic globalization boost regimes and to satisfy group specific and even personal interests Only rarely do these forms of regionalism contribute to the poor and disadvantaged who instead opt out and survive through informal economic regionalisms or seek to create regionalisms rooted in civil society

Contemporary Regional Development in Africa Kobena T. Hanson,2016-03-09

Contemporary Regional Development in Africa interrogates well known concerns in the areas of regionalism and economic integration in contemporary Africa while offering an added uniqueness by highlighting the capacity imperatives of the issues and proposing critical policy guideposts The volume juxtaposes a set of dynamic entanglements new and micro regionalism informal cross border trade intra African and African FDI plus cross border investments infrastructure development science and technology regional value chains conflict management and regional security with fluid interpretations of regional development The chapters provide snapshots of the several emerging and complex regionalisms and highlight a set of relevant and often overlapping analyses drawing on authors nuanced and granular understanding of the African landscape The varied yet interlinked nature of issues covered in this study make the book valuable and attractive to academics researchers policymakers and development practitioners

Africa-EU Relations and the African Continental Free Trade Area Samuel Ojo Oloruntoba,Christopher Changwe Nshimbi,Leon Mwamba Tshimpaka,2023-08-10

This book explores relations between states in the Africa European Union in view of the African Continental Free Trade Area both at a regional level and as a series of informal processes of socioeconomic and political interactions between state and non state actors The book reconsiders the ways in which actors in the Africa European Union relationship function and what that means for regionalism regionalisation and regional integration In addition to formalised state to state and inter regional interactions the book examines the impact of socio economic and political interactions with non state actors including those who engage with regional integration through formal and informal processes such as civil society activists African migration evangelists human smugglers and human traffickers The book thus demonstrates that regional and inter regional engagements include issues that extend beyond the usual discussions of trade The book is authored from an African perspective and will be of interest to academics who specialise in International Relations Political Economy Political Sociology and African Studies Policy makers and various actors in civil society and think tanks who have an academic inclination and deal with trade migration and regionalism in Africa and Africa's relations with Europe will also find the book beneficial

Regional Integration, Trade and Industry in Africa Helmut Asche, 2021-06-14 This book examines the past present and prospects of regional economic integration in Africa The empirical analysis ranges from unions formed during the years following independence to the proposed African Continental Free Trade Area AfCFTA which aims to remove trade barriers between all 55 African states In addition the book explores to what extent Africa's Regional Economic Communities RECs have advanced in accordance with a linear integration model of goods labor and capital markets The book subsequently evaluates the suitability of the European model of deep integration with costly institutions for the conditions specific to Africa considering for example the role of informal and non recorded trade Stylized cases of regional division of labour with increasing returns and imperfect competition are introduced to support the economic integration logic Past and current economic policies in Africa are scrutinized to answer the question how can African regions best foster new manufacturing industries and value chains across the continent In conclusion the book outlines content and processes of Common Industrial Policy in the African regions The book also addresses the controversial issue of international trade agreements between developing countries and the European Union or the USA and investigates whether these agreements impede or promote economic development in Africa The book includes a detailed roadmap describing how to improve key clauses of agreements for economic partnership in the interest of African countries In closing it outlines a new vision of joint sustainable development for Africa and Europe
