Personal Growth Through Adventure David Hopkins,Roger Putnam,2013-11-26 First Published in 1994 Hopkins and Putnam hold a questioning and healthily sceptical attitude towards the theory and practice of adventure education something they claim has received insufficient reflection by practitioners on the nature of the process of adventure education This title outlines their claims that a clear and simple exposition of principles and consequently practice has not been well enough informed Written to stimulate debate the critical stance that prompted the authors way of thinking and so ultimately the book has a great deal to do with the pervading attitudes at the Outward Bound schools Regional Worlds: Advancing the Geography of Regions Martin Jones,Anssi Paasi,2017-10-02 A key concern in the debate and empirical research on the geography of regions is the evolution of the conceptualizations and practical uses of the idea of region This idea prioritises both the intellectual and the practical development of regional studies This book drives the discussion further It stresses the complex forms of agency advocacy involved in the production and reproduction of regional spaces and space of regionalism as well as the importance of geohistory and context The book moves beyond the territorial relational divide that has characterized debates on regions and regional borders since the 1990s The contributors answer key questions from different conceptual and concrete contextual angles and to motivate readers to reflect on the perpetual significance of regional concepts and how they are mobilized by various actors to maintain or transform the contested spatialities of societal power relations This book was based on a special issue of Regional Studies
