Relations of Rescue Peggy Pascoe, 2023 Women Writers of the American West, 1833-1927 Nina Baym, 2012-08-17 This book recovers the names and works of women who wrote about the American West during the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries some of them long forgotten and others better known such as Willa Cather and Mary Austin Holley It reveals how the authors showed women making lives for themselves in the West how they represented the diverse region and how they represented themselves

Finding a Way to the Heart Robin Brownlie, Valerie J. Korinek, 2012 When Sylvia Van Kirk published her groundbreaking book Many Tender Ties in 1980 she revolutionized the historical understanding of the North American fur trade and introduced entirely new areas of inquiry in women's social and Aboriginal history Using Van Kirk's themes and methodologies as a jumping off point Finding a Way to the Heart examines race gender identity and colonization from the early nineteenth to the late twentieth century and illustrates Van Kirk's extensive influence on a generation of feminist scholarship Publisher's website

The Women's National Indian Association Valerie Sherer Mathes, 2015-04-15 The Women's National Indian Association formed in response to the chronic conflict and corruption that plagued relations between American Indians and the U.S. government has been all but forgotten since it was disbanded in 1951 Mathes's edited volume the first book to address the history of the WNIA comprises essays by eight authors on the work of this important reform group The WNIA was formed in 1879 in reaction to the prospect of opening Oklahoma Indian Territory to white settlement A powerful network of upper and middle class friends and associates the group soon expanded its mission beyond prayer and philanthropy as the women participated in political protest and organized successful petition drives that focused on securing civil and political rights for American Indians In addition to discussing the association's history the contributors to this book evaluate its legacies both in the lives of Indian families and in the evolution of federal Indian policy Their work reveals the complicated regional variations in reform and the complex nature of Anglo women's relationships with indigenous people

Rethinking the Racial Moment Barbara Brookes, Alison Holland, 2011-05-25 In recent years race has fallen out of historiographical fashion being eclipsed by seemingly more benign terms such as culture ethnicity and difference This timely and highly readable collection of essays re-energises the debate by carefully focusing our attention on local articulations of race and their intersections with colonialism and its aftermath In Rethinking the Racial Moment Essays on the Colonial Encounter Alison Holland and Barbara Brookes have produced a collection of studies that shift our historical understanding of colonialism in significant new directions Their generous and exciting brief will ensure that the book has immediate appeal for multiple readers engaged in critical theory as well as those more specifically involved in Australian and New Zealand history Collectively they offer new and invigorating approaches to understanding colonialism and cultural encounters in history via the interpretive not merely temporal frame of the moment

Uncoupling American Empire Yu-Fang Cho, 2014-01-06 A radical revision of the politics of race and sexuality within racial capitalism Uncoupling American Empire provides an original cultural genealogy of how the institutionalization of marriage shaped imagined relationships among working people who were seen as sexually deviant in nineteenth century U S imperial cultures Departing from the longstanding focus on domesticity as a middle class white women's imaginary construct of home nation and empire this book foregrounds the relationship between marriage and subjects marked by slavery prostitution indentured labor and colonialism through tracing overlooked linkages among the period's fiction texts journalistic accounts pictorial illustrations and missionary narratives Yu Fang Cho's feminist intersectional approaches illuminate the complex web of social difference that uneven access to marriage has historically produced the cumulative effects of the ironic and indeed cynical promise of freedom equality and inclusion through sexual conformity and the central role that cultural imagination plays in forging alternative relations among minoritized subjects
