Relations Of Ruling Class And Gender In Postindustrial Societies:

From Power Sharing to Democracy Sidney John Roderick Noel, Understanding Canada Wallace Clement, 1997 As corporations are restructured governments cut back and the international economy transformed there is an increasing need to understand the economic and political forces involved evaluate their implications and develop strategies to modify them to meet society's interests In light of the current situation the study of political economy is more relevant than ever Understanding Canada examines a variety of topics from viewpoints ranging from the established to the interdisciplinary Issues such as gender Native peoples race ethnicity and migration globalization foreign policy the welfare state regulation communications popular culture and space and the environment are examined as are the more traditional subjects of economic growth resources and The new Canadian political economy has emerged from its infancy and is now regarded as a respected and innovative field of scholarship Understanding Canada furthers this tradition by focusing on current issues in an accessible and informative way Contents Introduction Whither the New Canadian Political Economy Wallace Clement Economic Growth and Economic Crisis Canadian Capitalism Through the Ages Mel Watkins Toronto Resources and Manufacturing in Canada's Political Economy Wallace Clement and Glen Williams Carleton Labour in the New Canadian Political Economy Paul Philips Manitoba Gender at Work Canadian Feminist Political Economy after 1988 Meg Luxton York and Heather Jon Maroney Carleton Understanding What Happened Here The Political Economy of Indigenous Peoples Frances Abele Carleton The Political Economy of Race Ethnicity and Migration Daiva Stasiulis Carleton Going Global The Politics of Canada's Foreign Policy Mark Neufeld Trent and Sandy Whitworth York Re mapping Canada The State in the Era of Globalism Greg Albo York and Jane Jenson Montr al The New Political Economy of Regions Janine Brodie York The Challenges of the Quebec Question Paradigm and Counter Paradigm Daniel Sal e Concordia and William Coleman McMaster From the Post War to the Post Liberal Keynesian Welfare State Isabella Bakker York and Katherine Scott Displacing the Welfare State Liora Salter York and Rick Salter Public Discourse and the Structures of Communication Ted Magder York The Real Integrated Circus Political Economy Popular Culture and Major League Sport David Whitson Alberta and Richard Gruneau affil Contested Terrains Social Space and the Canadian Environment Iain Wallace Carleton and Rob Shields Carleton Social Reproduction Theory Tithi Bhattacharya, 2017-10-20 This groundbreaking collection explores the profound power of Social Reproduction Theory to deepen our understanding of everyday life under capitalism While many Marxists tend to focus on the productive economy this book focuses on issues such as child care health care education family life and the roles of gender race and sexuality all of which are central to understanding the relationship between economic exploitation and social oppression In this book leading writers such as Lise Vogel Nancy Fraser David McNally and Susan Ferguson reveal the ways in which daily and generational reproductive labour found in households schools hospitals and prisons also sustains the drive for accumulation Presenting a more sophisticated alternative to intersectionality these essays provide ideas which have important strategic implications for anti capitalists anti racists and feminists attempting to find a path through the seemingly ever more complex world we live in

Citizenship and Identity Engin F Isin, Patricia K Wood, 1999-09-08 Through a detailed introductory discussion of the relation between the civil and the political and between recognition and representation this book provides a comprehensive vocabulary for understanding citizenship It uses the work of T H Marshall to frame the critical interrogation of how ethnic technological ecological cosmopolitan sexual and cultural rights relate to citizenship The authors show how the civil political and social meanings of citizenship have been redefined by postmodernization and globalization

At the center Vasilikie (Vicky) Demos, Marcia Texler Segal, 2015-08-24 This volume reflects on how the study of gender has changed and how studying gender has affected our research methods and our knowledge of the world around us The interdisciplinary nature of gender studies and the cross pollination of theoretical perspectives are illustrated as is the globalization of gender theory research and policies

Power Resources Theory and the Welfare State Walter Korpi, 1998-01-01 Rather than simply asserting that all social policies in all capitalist societies exist to maintain capitalism and serve the long term interests of the capitalist class PRT examines the nature and impact of social policies and the level and types of social inequality in a variety of advanced capitalist nations

The Resilient Self Chien-Juh Gu, 2018-01-22 The Resilient Self explores how international migration re shapes women s senses of themselves Chien Juh Gu uses life history interviews and ethnographic observations to illustrate how immigration creates gendered work and family contexts for middle class Taiwanese American women who in turn negotiate and resist the social and psychological effects of the processes of immigration and settlement Most of the women immigrated as dependents when their U S educated husbands found professional jobs upon graduation Constrained by their dependent visas these women could not work outside of the home during the initial phase of their settlement The significant contrast of their lives before and after immigration changing from successful professionals to foreign housewives generated feelings of boredom loneliness and depression Mourning their lost careers and lacking fulfillment in homemaking these highly educated immigrant women were forced to redefine the meaning of work and housework which in time shaped their perceptions of themselves and others in the family at work and in the larger community

It's a Working Man's Town Thomas William Dunk, 2003 In a valuable addition to the debate on the nature of contemporary working class culture Thomas Dunk shows that the function and meaning of gender ethnicity popular leisure activities and common sense knowledge are intimately linked with the way an individual s experience is structured by class After reviewing the principal theoretical problems relating to the study of working class culture and consciousness Dunk provides a detailed ethnographic analysis of the Boys the male working class subjects of this study Male working class culture he argues contains both the seeds of a radical response to social inequality and a defensive reaction against alternative social practices and ideas In a new forward Dunk contextualizes the original text with regard to the debates about class and masculinity that have occurred since the book was first published The New African Diaspora in Vancouver Gillian Creese, 2011-08-13 The New African Diaspora in Vancouver documents the experiences of immigrants from countries in sub Saharan Africa on Canada's west coast Despite their individual national origins many adopt new identities as African and are actively engaged in creating a new place based African community In this study Gillian Creese analyzes interviews with sixty one women and men from twenty one African countries to document the gendered and racialized processes of community building that occur in the contexts of marginalization and exclusion as they exist in Vancouver Creese reveals that the routine discounting of previous education by potential employers the demeaning of African accents and bodies by society at large cultural pressures to reshape gender relations and parenting practices and the absence of extended families often contribute to downward mobility for immigrants The New African Diaspora in Vancouver maps out how African immigrants negotiate these multiple dimensions of local exclusion while at the same time creating new spaces of belonging and emerging collective identity Eros and Alienation Alan Sears, 2025-01-20 Sears takes social reproduction feminism and queer Marxism in exciting new directions as he historicizes penetration and orgasms He expands the concept of alienated labor to all life making and founds a queer ecology foregrounding colonized racialized and disabled voices Peter Drucker author of Warped Meticulously outlines how capitalism shapes human intimacy A sweeping original analysis that challenges how we think about sexuality life making and building a better world Holly Lewis author of The Politics of Everybody A compelling argument on the pervasive alienation of capitalist society that truncates and distorts our capacities for creative expression love and human flourishing M E O'Brien author of Family Abolition Our deeply human drive to shape the world around us and fulfill ourselves through labor is subverted by capitalist alienation leaving us to find fulfillment elsewhere As a result our erotic drives become the central focus for transformation and life making but are themselves restricted and fueled by whatever energy is left after completing the monetized or social reproductive work required to survive This alienation encounters ongoing resistance as life making activity can never be fully separated from the person who labors Eros and Alienation delves into the underexplored relationship between alienated labor and sexuality Alan Sears explores the ways this alienation frames the processes of gender and sexual formation showing how the organization of work contributes to the development of a dominant regime of gendered sexualities defined by a binary gender mapping of desire as heterosexual homosexual or bisexual Alan Sears is Professor of Sociology at Toronto Metropolitan University He is an activist and author of several books including The Next New Left Work in Tumultuous Times Vivian Shalla, Wallace Clement, 2007 Offering a critique of how social structures and relations as well as ideologies shape workplaces labour markets and households in contemporary Canada this work exposes the uncertainty insecurity and instability that characterise both paid and unpaid work It also proposes alternative policies and practices Regulating Flexibility Mark Preston Thomas, 2009 A timely analysis of employment standards legislation that calls for a new approach to labour market regulation Change and Continuity Mark P. Thomas, Leah F. Vosko, Carlo
