Relationship Marketing Focusing On Consumer Complaints:

Relationship Marketing: Focusing On Consumer Complaints Gunjeet Kaur, 2003-01-01 Consumer complaints managerial response to them and their satisfactory resolution leading to a dyadic perception between the consumer and the company form the core of relationship marketing The mutual resolution of complaints without third party arbitration constitutes the central construct of this book which implies that customer retention is easiest when the company's actual response in the post complaint phase perfectly matches the consumer's expectations from the company in that phase For this status to be present there must exist such characteristics as mutual trust commitment two way communication social support and empathy self disclosure emotion need for service guarantees and higher standard This book has significant implications for four major areas of policy formulation

Relationship Marketing Thorsten Hennig-Thurau, Ursula Hansen, 2013-06-29 The concept of marketing and managing relationships with customers and other interest groups is at the core of marketing today In the academic world the topic is covered in special issues released by numerous journals e g Journal of the Academy of Marketing Science Journal of Strategic Marketing Psychology Marketing and conferences and conference sessions regularly discuss the advantages of the approach But relationship marketing is not limited to theory On the contrary no service firm or business to business company can now do without some form of long term orientation and all have implemented at least some elements of the relationship marketing concept Even in the consumer goods sector there are a growing number of cases where the traditional orientation towards brand equity is being complemented by a relational focus As Berry has mentioned relationship marketing is a new old concept Several important aspects of relationship marketing were already being discussed in the marketing literature This applies both to central constructs such as customer satisfaction and to single elements such as the management of complaints and after sales services Although they do not involve explicit mention of the term relationship VI Preface marketing a long term orientation can be found in the network approach of industrial marketing closely related to the work of the IMP Group in the work of Gronroos Gummesson and their colleagues at the Nordic School of Services Marketing and last but not least in the concept of customer focused marketing
