Religion, Altered States of Consciousness, and Social Change Erika Bourguignon, 1973      Worlds of Power Stephen Ellis, Gerrie ter Haar, 2004 With Christian revivals including Evangelicals in the White House Islamic radicalism and the revitalisation of traditional religions it is clear that the world is not heading towards a community of secular states Nowhere are religious thought and political practice more closely intertwined than in Africa African migrants in Europe and America who send home money to build churches and mosques African politicians who consult diviners guerrilla fighters who believe that amulets can protect them from bullets and ordinary people who seek ritual healing all of these are applying religious ideas to everyday problems of existence at every level of society Far from falling off the map of the world Africa is today a leading centre of Christianity and a growing field of Islamic activism while African traditional religions are gaining converts in the West One cannot understand the politics of the present without taking religious thought seriously Stories about witches miracles or people returning from the dead incite political action In Africa religious belief has a huge impact on politics from the top of society to the bottom Religious ideas show what people actually think about the world and how to deal with it Ellis and Ter Haar maintain that the specific content of religious thought has to be mastered if we are to grasp the political significance of religion in Africa today but their book also informs our understanding of the relationship between religion and political practice in general      The Making of Psychological Anthropology George D. The Culture-Bound Syndromes Ronald C. Simons, C.C. Hughes, 2012-12-06 In the last few years there has been a great revival of interest in culture bound psychiatric syndromes A spate of new papers has been published on well known and less familiar syndromes and there have been a number of attempts to put some order into the field of inquiry In a review of the literature on culture bound syndromes up to 1969 Yap made certain suggestions for organizing thinking about them which for the most part have not received general acceptance see Carr this volume p 199 Through the seventies new descriptive and conceptual work was scarce but in the last few years books and papers discussing the field were authored or edited by Tseng and McDermott 1981 Al Issa 1982 Friedman and Faguet 1982 and Murphy 1982 In 1983 Favazza summarized his understanding of the state of current thinking for the fourth edition of the Comprehensive Textbook of Psychiatry and a symposium on culture bound syndromes was organized by Kenny for the Eighth International Congress of Anthropology and Ethnology The strongest impression to emerge from all this recent work is that there is no substantive consensus and that the very concept culture bound syndrome could well use some serious reconsideration As the role of culture specific beliefs and practices in all affliction has come to be increasingly recognized it has become less and less clear what sets the culture bound syndromes apart

audience Thus the methodology includes textual analysis sociological analysis of general cultural patterns within which first century Palestine can be fitted and anthropological analysis of the plausible functions of both spirit possession and exorcism in agrarian societies
