Religion And Atheism In The Ussr And Eastern Europe:

Religion and Atheism in the U.S.S.R. and Eastern Europe Jean K. Laux, 1975 Religion and Atheism in the U.S.S.R. and Eastern Europe Bohdan R. Bociurkiw, John W. Strong, 1975 Religion and Atheism in the U.S.S.R. and Eastern Europe Branko Bosnjak, 1972 Religion and Nationalism in Soviet and East European Politics Sabrina P. Ramet, 1989

Religious organizations in many countries of the communist world have served as agents for the preservation defense and reinforcement of nationalist feelings and in playing this role have frequently been a source of frustration to the Communist Party elites Although the relationship between governments and religious groups varies according to the particular country and group in question the mosaic of these relationships constitutes a revealing picture of the political reform shaping the lives of Soviet and East European citizens Human Rights in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs, United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs. Subcommittee on International Organizations, 1981 Religion and Atheism in the USSR and Eastern Europe, 1975

Russia and Eastern Europe, 1789-1985 Raymond Pearson, 1989 Understanding Soviet Society Michael Paul Sacks, Jerry G. Pankhurst, 2013-10-15 First Published in 1988 Understanding Soviet Society has grown out of the authors experience as sociologists researching and teaching about the Soviet Union Meant initially as an update to Contemporary Soviet Society Sociological Perspectives from 1980 this became a new volume because of the addition of six new authors but also because of the major changes occurring in the USSR today that in many ways necessitated new approaches It examines the fundamnetal institutions of Soviet society from work and social welfare to politics and the Party in order order to provide an objective understanding of the social underpinnings of the Soviet System Christian Religion in the Soviet Union Christel Lane, 1978-01-01 Christel Lane has written the first sociological study of religion in a communist and militantly atheist society Christian Religion in the Soviet Union is the result of a detailed examination of Soviet sociological sources and the legally and illegally published reports of religious bodies or individuals backed up by the observations of the author and of other Western visitors to the USSR Dr Lane attempts to assess the impact of the intellectual and material culture of Soviet society on Christian religion She analyses the religious life in the contemporary Christian churches and sects describing the scope of their membership and its social composition the religious commitment of believers and their social and political orientations Christian Religion in the Soviet Union will be central reading for students of religion in modern industrial society who are working within the disciplines of sociology comparative religion or theology It will also appeal to those studying Soviet society from a more general sociological perspective and to a wide readership interested in the contest between Christian religion and Marxist Leninist ideology The American Bibliography of Slavic and East European Studies Patt Leonard, Rebecca Routh, 2020-02-27 This bibliography first published in 1957 provides citations to North American academic literature on Europe Central Europe the Balkans the Baltic States and the former Soviet Union Organised by discipline it covers the arts humanities social sciences life sciences and technology Social Currents in Eastern Europe Sabrina P. Ramet,1995 Examines the meanings and sources of various social currents intellectual dissent feminism religious activism the formation of independent youth cultures and movements and trade unionism in seven communist countries

International Empirical Studies on Religion and Socioeconomic Human Rights Hans-Georg Ziebertz,2020-03-06 Socioeconomic rights include rights with regard to social security labour and employment as well as cultural rights which may be regarded as a shield for the protection of human dignity especially of specific groups such as women children and refugees The enforceability of socioeconomic rights clearly distinguishes them from other rights These rights need perhaps more than others the support of civil society Because states have leeway in how resources are distributed civil society has a major impact on what resources are used to fulfil socio economic rights One of the actors in the public arena are religious traditions respective Churches Most of them have developed ethical standards for individual conduct and rules for living together in society based on their basic scriptures All three monotheistic religions Judaism Christianity and Islam are marked by a caring engagement for the poor the sick the old and the foreign From an empirical perspective the general research question of this volume is how young people understand and evaluate socioeconomic rights and to which degree religious convictions and practices are connected with attitudes towards these human rights Can religion be identified as a force supporting the human rights regime and which additional concepts strengthen or weaken the consent to these rights The richness of empirical data contributes to a better understanding how socioeconomic rights are legitimated in the opinion of more than 10 000 respondents in 14 countries Religious Persecution in the Soviet Union United States. Congress. House. Committee on International Relations. Subcommittee on International Political and Military Affairs,1976 Russia, the USSR, and Eastern Europe Stephan M. Horak,1982 The Plot to Kill God Paul Froese,2008-08-06 Paul Froese explores the nature of religious faith in a provocative examination of the most massive atheism campaign in human history That campaign occurred after the 1917 Russian Revolution when Soviet plans for a new Marxist utopia included the total eradication of all religion Even though the Soviet Union s attempt to secularize its society was quite successful at crushing the institutional and ritual manifestations of religion its leaders were surprised at the persistence of religious belief Froese s account reveals how atheism when taken to its extreme can become as dogmatic and oppressive as any religious faith and illuminates the struggle for individual expression in the face of social repression Religion and Atheism in the U. S. S. R. and Eastern Europe. Ed. by Bohdan R. Bociurkiw and John W. Strong, Assisted by Jean K. Laux. (1. Publ.) Bohdan R. Bociurkiw,John W. Strong,1975 Transitions in Post-Soviet Eurasia Archana Upadhyay,2021-08-23 This book discusses the ideological and historical relevance of the term Eurasia as a concept in the global geopolitical and ethno cultural discourse It focuses on the contested meanings attached to the idea and traces its historical evolution and interpretations The volume examines the contours and characteristics of power politics in the Eurasian landscape by exploring the dynamics of the contending and competing interests that have come to occupy the region particularly in the aftermath of the disintegration of the Soviet Union It further examines the multiple narratives that define the socio political realities of the region and also the policies of the state actors involved by reflecting upon the multifaceted dimensions of the Eurasian issues These include nation building strategies identity ethnic conflicts security democratization globalization international migration climate change and energy extraction The geopolitical and civilizational aspects of Eurasianism in which Russia occupies a pivotal geo political place creates both opportunities and anxieties for other stakeholders in the region The book also holistically analyses the developmental dimensions of the post Soviet space and Eurasianism as a concept and political practice in domestic regional and global affairs The book also analyses the developmental dimensions of the post Soviet space and Eurasianism as a concept and political practice in domestic regional and global affairs

Spirit of the Totem Irena Maryniak, 1995 The book presents an original interdisciplinary analysis of religious and mythological perspectives in fiction published in the Soviet Union between the mid 1960s and the mid 1980s In doing so it points to ways in which anthropological theory can be used as a framework for literary criticism It also shows how in the two decades before perestroika religion and mythology served as alternative models for the intellectual and political reorientation of Soviet society Selected works are explored with reference to a formative debate in anthropological studies on the nature and development of religion based on Edward B Tylor s theory of animism and Emile Durkheim s theory of totemism It is shown how the animist totemist dichotomy highlighted by the controversy is reflected in Russian religious thought before 1917 and particularly in the literature of the Soviet era Within the framework of this debate a selection of novels is discussed in the light of a range of mythological and religious systems Attention is drawn to the connection between Valentin Rasputin s religious vision and traditional Siberian beliefs particularly those of the Buryat The Georgian novel Data Tutashkia by Chabua Amiredzhibi is analysed with reference to Zoroastrian thought Daniil Granin s Kartina The Picture serves as an example of a work where in accordance with Tylor s theory notions of art and beauty take on an animist quality It is argued that early fiction by Chingiz Aitmatov reveals a tension between animist perceptions and the totemic understanding of religion and mirrors aspects of pre Islamic Central Asian religious tradition The writing of Vladimir Tendriakov offers an example of a vision divided between an awareness of Christian dilemmas and loyalty to Marxist Leninist sociological models The study also shows how Durkheim s theory of religion as an expression of a group s awareness of its identity can be related to ideas put forward by Russian nationalist writers Iurii Bondarev Sergei Alekseev and Vasilii Belov It suggests that examples of fiction by Petr Proskurin and later works by Chingiz Aitmatov and Vladimir Tendriakov indicate revived interest in the God building theory of Maksim Gor kii and Anatolii Lunacharskii In conclusion the book argues that subtextual religious and mythological narratives in Soviet fiction published in the years between the fall of Khrushchev and the Millennium of Christianity in Rus provided a model for new literary discourse under perestroika and for subsequent political transformations
