From Belonging to Belief Julie McBrien, 2017-06-08 From Belonging to Belief presents a nuanced ethnographic study of Islam and secularism in post Soviet Central Asia as seen from the small town of Bazaar Korgon in southern Kyrgyzstan

Opening with the juxtaposition of a statue of Lenin and a mosque in the town square Julie McBrien proceeds to peel away the multiple layers that have shaped the return of public Islam in the region She explores belief and nonbelief varying practices of Islam discourses of extremism and the role of the state to elucidate the everyday experiences of Bazaar Korgonians McBrien shows how Islam is explored lived and debated in both conventional and novel sites a Soviet era cleric who continues to hold great influence popular television programs religious instruction at wedding parties clothing celebrations and others Through ethnographic research McBrien reveals how moving toward Islam is not a simple step but rather a deliberate and personal journey of experimentation testing and knowledge acquisition Moreover she argues that religion is not always a matter of belief sometimes it is essentially about belonging From Belonging to Belief offers an important corrective to studies that focus only on the pious turns among Muslims in Central Asia and instead shows the complex process of evolving religion in a region that has experienced both Soviet atheism and post Soviet secularism each of which has profoundly formed the way Muslims interpret and live Islam

Investing in Poor Farmers: Rethinking how to invest in Agriculture Emily Alpert, The Future of Foods Maria G. Corradini, Tatiana Koutchma, Noemi Elisabet Zaritzky, Isabel Sousa, 2025-09-10 The future of food can take many avenues of exploration from the product itself such as unusual sources like grass microalgae acorns and so on to by products from the food industry e g fruit pomaces and brewer spent grains to disruptive technologies from data management and integration e g digital twins to processing e g additive manufacturing precision fermentations cell ag When considering the future of food sometimes this is more accurately seen as the cycle of food Development is continual but sometimes to address the future we must look historically for example a resurgence in pulses for protein or the increase in shelf stable foods due to the Covid 19 pandemic The future of food requires many considerations such as life cycle assessment customization social impact environmental impact and economic impact In particular when developing new foods with sustainability in mind eg alternative proteins one has to take into account the health benefits as well as indulgence and sensory appeal and these factors must be weighed against the financial cost of the production processes and the ultimate cost to the consumer Forestry Outlook Study for Africa Forestry Outlook Study for Africa, Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2003-01-01 This regional report examines the emerging trends and considers the opportunities and challenges involved in promoting the contribution of the forest sector to Africa's sustainable development over the next two decades including policy and institutional demographic economic technological and environmental factors Chemical & Biological Aspects of Drug Dependence S.
