Golden State, Golden Youth Kirse Granat May, 2010-03-15 Seen as a land of sunshine and opportunity the Golden State was a mecca for the post World War II generation and dreams of the California good life came to dominate the imagination of many Americans in the 1950s and 1960s Nowhere was this more evident than in the explosion of California youth images in popular culture Disneyland television shows such as The Mickey Mouse Club Gidget and other beach movies the music of the Beach Boys all these broadcast nationwide a lifestyle of carefree wholesome fun supposedly enjoyed by white middle class suburban young people in California Tracing the rise of the California teen as a national icon Kirse May shows how idealized images of a suburban youth culture soothed the nation's postwar nerves while denying racial and urban realities Unsettling challenges to this mass mediated picture began to arise in the mid 1960s however with the Free Speech Movement's campus revolt in Berkeley and race riots in Watts In his 1966 campaign for the governorship of California Ronald Reagan transformed the backlash against the dangerous youths who fueled these actions into political triumph As May notes Reagan's victory presaged a rising conservatism across the nation

Queen of the 'B's Annette Kuhn,1995-08-24 Although Ida Lupino is best known as a leading actress in many Hollywood B movies her work as a filmmaker has been neglected by critics historians and audiences In the late 1940s Lupino turned writer producer and director in her own independent production company The films she made beginning with Not Wanted in 1949 were low budget pictures taking an uncompromising approach to controversial subject matter unmarried motherhood disability rape bigamy Lupino is exceptional as the only woman to have directed a visible body of films in the male dominated Hollywood of the 1950s The continuation of that directorial career in television throughout the 1960s strengthens the claim that Lupino is the most prolific and creatively powerful woman director ever to have worked in the moving image industry This book is the first extensive critical study of Ida Lupino s work as a director in both film and television It features in depth essays on each of the films she directed and on her work in television including such popular series as The Fugitive and The Twilight Zone with the most complete credit listing yet published of her television work Viewing Lupino s oeuvre in historical social industrial and aesthetic contexts all the contributors demonstrate that the work repays informed and sensitive readings and many consider it in light of contemporary feminist debates on cinema Queen of the B s is a long overdue reassessment of an important and pioneering director      Communication Booknotes ,1992
