Screenwriting Andrew Horton, Julian Hoxter, 2014-08-23 Screenwriters often joke that no one ever paid a dollar at a movie theater to watch a screenplay Yet the screenplay is where a movie begins determining whether a production gets the green light from its financial backers and wins approval from its audience This innovative volume gives readers a comprehensive portrait of the art and business of screenwriting while showing how the role of the screenwriter has evolved over the years Reaching back to the early days of Hollywood when moonlighting novelists playwrights and journalists were first hired to write scenarios and photoplays Screenwriting illuminates the profound ways that screenwriters have contributed to the films we love This book explores the social political and economic implications of the changing craft of American screenwriting from the silent screen through the classical Hollywood years the rise of independent cinema and on to the contemporary global multi media marketplace From The Birth of a Nation 1915 Gone With the Wind 1939 and Gentleman s Agreement 1947 to Chinatown 1974 American Beauty 1999 and Lost in Translation 2003 each project began as writers with pen and ink typewriters or computers captured the hopes and dreams the nightmares and concerns of the periods in which they were writing As the contributors take us behind the silver screen to chronicle the history of screenwriting they spotlight a range of key screenplays that changed the game in Hollywood and beyond With original essays from both distinguished film scholars and accomplished screenwriters Screenwriting is sure to fascinate anyone with an interest in Hollywood from movie buffs to industry professionals

Authoring a film adaptation of a literary source not only requires a media conversion but also a transformation as a result of the differing dramatic demands of cinema The most critical central step in this transformation of a literary source to the screen is the writing of the screenplay The screenplay usually serves to recruit producers director and actors to attract capital investment and to give focus to the conception and production of the film project Often undergoing multiple revisions prior to production the screenplay represents the crucial decisions of writer and director that will determine how and to what end the film will imitate or depart from its original source Authorship in Film Adaptation is an accessible provocative text that opens up new areas of discussion on the central process of adaptation surrounding the screenplay and screenwriter director collaboration In contrast to narrow binary comparisons of literary source text and film the twelve essays in this collection also give attention to the underappreciated role of the screenplay and film pre production that can signal the primary intention for a film Divided into four parts this collection looks first at the role of Hollywood's activist producers and major auteurs such as Hitchcock and Kubrick as they worked with screenwriters to formulate their audio visual goals The second part offers case studies of Devil in a Blue Dress and The Sweet Hereafter for which the directors wrote their own adapted screenplays Considering the variety of writer director working relationships that are possible Part III focuses on adaptations that alter genre time and place and Part IV investigates adaptations that alter stories of romance sexuality and ethnicity
