Scribbling The Cat Travels With An African Soldier:

Scribbling the Cat Alexandra Fuller, 2005-04-26 When Alexandra Bo Fuller was home in Zambia a few years ago visiting her parents for Christmas she asked her father about a nearby banana farmer who was known for being a tough bugger Her father s response was a warning to steer clear of him he told Bo Curiosity scribbled the cat Nonetheless Fuller began her strange friendship with the man she calls K a white African and veteran of the Rhodesian war With the same fiercely beautiful prose that won her acclaim for Don t Let s Go to the Dogs Tonight Fuller here recounts her friendship with K K is seemingly a man of contradictions tattooed battle scarred and weathered by farm work he is a lion of a man feral and bulletproof Yet he is also a born again Christian given to weeping when he recollects his failed romantic life and more than anything else welling up inside with memories of battle For his war like all wars was a brutal one marked by racial strife jungle battles unimaginable tortures and the murdering of innocent civilians and K like all the veterans of the war has blood on his hands Driven by K s memories Fuller and K decide to enter the heart of darkness in the most literal way by traveling from Zambia through Zimbabwe formerly Rhodesia and Mozambique to visit the scenes of the war and to meet other veterans It is a strange journey into the past one marked at once by somber reflections and odd humor and featuring characters such as Mapenga a fellow veteran who lives with his pet lion on a little island in the middle of a lake and is known to cope with his personal demons by refusing to speak for days on end What results from Fuller s journey is a remarkably unbiased and unsentimental glimpse of men who have killed mutilated tortured and scrambled to survive during wartime and who now must attempt to live with their past and live past their sins In these men too we get a glimpse of life in Africa a land that besets its creatures with pests plagues and natural disasters making the people there at once more hardened and more vulnerable than elsewhere Scribbling the Cat is an engrossing and haunting look at war Africa and the lines of sanity

Writing Nandini Das, Tim Youngs, 2019-01-24 Bringing together original contributions from scholars across the world this volume traces the history of travel writing from antiquity to the Internet age It examines travel texts of several national or linguistic traditions introducing readers to the global contexts of the genre From wilderness to the urban from Nigeria to the polar regions from mountains to rivers and the desert this book explores some of the key places and physical features represented in travel writing Chapters also consider the employment in travel writing of the diary the letter visual images maps and poetry as well as the relationship of travel writing to fiction science translation and tourism Gender based and ecocritical approaches are among those surveyed Together the thirty seven chapters here underline the richness and complexity of this genre Interrogation in War and Conflict Christopher Andrew, Simona Tobia, 2014-04-29 This edited volume offers a comparative and interdisciplinary analysis of interrogation and questioning in war and conflict in the twentieth century Despite the current public interest and its military importance interrogation and questioning in conflict is still a largely under researched theme This volume s methodological thrust is to select historical case studies ranging in time from the Great War to the conflicts in former Yugoslavia and including the Second World War decolonization the Cold War the Troubles in Northern Ireland and international justice cases in The Hague each of which raises interdisciplinary issues about the role of interrogation These case studies were selected because they resurface previously unexplored sources on the topic or revisit known cases which allow us to analyse the role of interrogation and questioning in intelligence security and military operations Written by a group of experts from a range of disciplines including history intelligence psychology law and human rights Interrogation in War and Conflict provides a study of the main turning points in interrogation and questioning in twentieth century conflicts over a wide geographical area The collection also looks at issues such as the extent of the use of harsh techniques the value of interrogation to military intelligence security and international justice the development of interrogation as a separate profession in intelligence as well as the relationship between interrogation and questioning and wider society This book will be of much interest to students of intelligence studies strategic studies counter terrorism international justice history and IR in general Zimbabwe's New Diaspora JoAnn McGregor, Ranka

Primorac, 2010-06-01 Zimbabwe s crisis since 2000 has produced a dramatic global scattering of people This volume investigates this enforced dispersal and the processes shaping the emergence of a new diaspora of Zimbabweans abroad focusing on the most important concentrations in South Africa and in Britain Not only is this the first book on the diasporic connections created through Zimbabwe s multifaceted crisis but it also offers an innovative combination of research on the political economic cultural and legal dimensions of movement across borders and survival thereafter with a discussion of shifting identities and cultural change It highlights the ways in which new movements are connected to older flows and how displacements across physical borders are intimately linked to the reworking of conceptual borders in both sending and receiving states The book is essential reading for researchers students in migration diaspora and postcolonial literary studies

Trauma, Resistance, Reconstruction in Post-1994 South African Writing Jaspal Kaur Singh, Rajendra Chetty, 2010 The reconceptualization of South Africa as a democracy in 1994 has influenced the production and reception of texts in this nation and around the globe The literature emerging after 1994 provides a vision for reconciling the fragmented past produced by the brutality of apartheid policies and consequently shifting social relations from a traumatized past to a reconstructed future The purpose of the essays in this anthology is to explore within the literary imagination and cultural production of a post apartheid nation and its people how the trauma and violence of the past are reconciled through textual strategies What role does memory play for the remembering subject working through the trauma of a violent past      Grid-locked African Economic Sovereignty Warikandwa, Tapiwa Victor, Nhemachena, Artwell, 2019-02-06 The emergent so called Fourth Industrial Revolution is regarded by some as a panacea for bringing about development to Africans This book dismisses this flawed reasoning Surfacing how investors are actually looting and plundering Africa how the industrial internet of things the gig economies digital economies and cryptocurrencies breach African political and economic sovereignty the book pioneers what can be called anticipatory economics which anticipate the future of economies It is argued that the future of Africans does not necessarily require degrowth postgrowth postdevelopment postcapitalism or sharing solidarity economies it requires attention to age old questions about African ownership and control of their resources Investors have to invest in ensuring that Africans own and control their resources Further it is pointed out that the historical imperial structural creation of forced labour is increasingly morphing into what we call the structural creation of forced leisure which is no less lethal for Africans Because both the structural creation of forced labour and the structural creation of forced leisure are undergirded by transnational neo imperial plunder theft robbery looting and dispossession of Africans this book goes beyond the simplistic arguments that Euro America developed due to the industrial revolutions      Going Places Robert Burgin, 2013-01-08 Successfully navigate the rich world of travel narratives and identify fiction and nonfiction read alike with this detailed and expertly constructed guide Just as savvy travelers make use of guidebooks to help navigate the hundreds of countries around the globe smart librarians need a guidebook that makes sense of the world of travel narratives Going Places A Reader's Guide to Travel Narratives meets that demand helping librarians assist patrons in finding the nonfiction books that most interest them It will also serve to help users better understand the genre and their own reading interests The book examines the subgenres of the travel narrative genre in its seven chapters categorizing and describing approximately 600 titles according to genres and broad reading interests and identifying hundreds of other fiction and nonfiction titles as read alike and related reads by shared key topics The author has also identified award winning titles and spotlighted further resources on travel lit making this work an ideal guide for readers advisors as well a book general readers will enjoy browsing      Built on the Ruins of Empire Blake Whitaker, 2022-06-07 During the Cold War the British government oversaw the transition to independence of dozens of colonies Often the most challenging aspect of this transition was the creation of a national army from colonial forces In Built on the Ruins of Empire Blake Whitaker examines this process in Kenya and Zambia and how it set the course for the creation of the army in Zimbabwe He also looks at three themes as they intersect in African military history British decolonization race relations and the Cold War While the transition to independence was a difficult process in places such as Ghana and Nigeria it was compounded by the racial tensions in Kenya Zambia and Zimbabwe All three were settler colonies home to a sizable community of white Europeans who controlled the levers of power and economic prosperity Built on the Ruins of Empire focuses on the difficulties that arose in creating a cohesive and apolitical military force in these racially charged Cold War environments and demonstrates that the challenges faced by the British training missions in Kenya and Zambia taught London important lessons about the emerging postcolonial world Whitaker uniquely analyzes the successes and failures of the British military assistance programs and their quest to solidify British influence while examining how Britain's position and influence in the wider world was fading just as Zimbabwe was achieving independence Migratory Settings, 2015-06-29 Migratory Settings proposes a shift in perspective from migration as movement from place to place to migration as installing movement within place Migration not only takes place between places but also has its effects on place in place In brief we suggest a view on migration in which place is neither reified nor transcended but thickened as it becomes the setting of the variegated memories imaginations dreams fantasies nightmares anticipations and idealizations of both migrants and native inhabitants that experiences of migration bring into contact with each other Migration makes place overdetermined turning it into the mise en scene of different histories Hence movement does not lead to placelessness but to the intensification and overdetermination of place its heterotopicality At the same time place does not unequivocally authenticate or validate knowledge but shot through with the transnational and the transcultural exceeds it ceaselessly Our contributions take us to the migratory settings of a fictional exhibition a staged political wedding a walking tour in a museum African appropriations of Shakespeare and Sophocles Gollwitz Germany Calais France the body after a heart transplant refugees family portraiture a garden in Vermont the womb With contributions by Mieke Bal Maaike Bleeker Paulina Aroch Astrid van Weyenberg Sarah de Mul Annette Seidel Arpacı Sudeep Dasgupta Wim Staat Maria Boletsi Griselda Pollock Alex Rotas and Murat Aydemir
