Ancient Apologetic Exegesis Stuart Parsons, 2015-02-05 New Testament scholarship uncovers much about first century Christianity Early Christian masters such as Origen and Augustine draw great attention to the third and following centuries Yet oddly despite this flood of attention to both the first century and to the third and later centuries the second century often escapes notice this despite its almost living memory of Jesus and his apostles from only a generation or two prior A distinctive biblical exegesis was used by those second century apologists who challenged Greco Roman pagan religionists Along with introducing the general shape of this ancient apologetic exegesis Ancient Apologetic Exegesis aims at its recovery as well Current literature often misunderstands or dismisses second century exegetical approaches But by looking behind anachronistic views of ancient genre literacy and rhetoric we can rediscover a forgotten form of early Christian exegesis

Echoes of Scripture in the Letter of Paul to the Colossians Christopher A. Beetham, 2009-01-31 While the use of the Old Testament in the New Testament has captured the attention of biblical scholars over the years no study has been devoted to the presence of Scripture in Colossians largely because there are no explicit quotations in Colossians With the introduction of literary intertextuality into the discipline however scholars have begun to devote more attention to the NT authors less explicit references to Scripture often labelled as allusions and or echoes Scholars however continue to debate what constitutes an allusion or echo or how one validates a given proposal as such This study proposes new definitions of these terms and offers a methodology on how to detect and validate them using Colossians as a test case
