Keefer, 2018-06-27 Nineteenth century Sierra Leone presented a unique situation historically as the focal point of early abolitionist efforts settlement within West Africa by westernized Africans and a rapid demographic increase through the judicial emancipation of Liberated Africans Within this complex and often volatile environment the voices and experiences of children have been difficult to trace and to follow Enslaved children historically are a challenging narrative to highlight due to their comparative vulnerability This book offers newly transcribed data and fills in a lacuna in the scholarship of early Sierra Leone and the Atlantic world It presents a narrative of children as they experienced a set of circumstances which were unique and important to abolitionist historiography and demonstrates how each element of that situation arose by analyzing the rich documentary evidence By presenting the data as well as the individuals whose lives were affected by the mission schools both as teacher or pupil this study has sought to be as complete as possible Underlying the more academic tone is a recognition of the individual humanity of both teachers and students whose lives together shaped this early phase in the history of Sierra Leone The missionaries who created the documents from which this study arises all died in Sierra Leone after having profound impacts on the lives of many hundreds of pupils Their students went on to become important historical figures both locally and throughout West Africa Not all rose to prominence and the book reconstructs the lives of pupils who became local tradespeople in addition to those who had a greater social stature This book attempts to offer analysis without forgetting the fundamental human trajectories which this material encompasses Publications List ,1993

Hybrid and Internationalised Criminal Tribunals Sarah Williams, 2012-04-02 In recent years a number of criminal tribunals have been established to investigate prosecute and try individuals accused of serious violations of international humanitarian law and international human rights law These tribunals have been described as hybrid or internationalised tribunals as their structure and applicable law consist of both international and national elements Six such tribunals are currently in operation the Special Court for Sierra Leone the Extraordinary Chambers in the Courts of Cambodia the International Judges and Prosecutors Programme in Kosovo the War Crimes Chamber for Bosnia and Herzegovina the Iraqi High Tribunal and the Special Tribunal for Lebanon The Special Panels for Serious Crimes in East Timor suspended operation in May 2005 although there continues to be some international involvement in investigation and prosecution of serious crimes Suggestions have also been made that this model of tribunal would be appropriate for the prosecution of atrocities committed in among others Burundi the Sudan the Democratic Republic of Congo Kenya and Liberia as well as for a wider range of international crimes most recently piracy The key aims of this book are to place the model of hybrid and internationalised tribunals in the context of other mechanisms to try international crimes to examine the increasing demand for the establishment of hybrid and internationalised judicial institutions and the factors driving such demand to define the category of hybrid and internationalised tribunals by examining the key features of the existing and proposed hybrid or internationalised tribunals as well as the features of those institutions with international elements that are generally excluded from this category to determine the legal and jurisdictional bases of existing hybrid and internationalised tribunals to analyse how the legal and jurisdictional basis of a tribunal affects other issues such as the applicable law the application of amnesties and immunities and the relationship of the tribunal with the host state third states national courts and other international criminal tribunals The book concentrates on the definitional legal and jurisdictional aspects of hybrid and internationalised criminal tribunals as this has been the subject of some confusion in arguments before the tribunals and in the judgments of the tribunals In its concluding section the book examines the future role of internationalised and hybrid criminal tribunals particularly in light of the establishment of the ICC and the potential use of such tribunals in other contexts It also assesses how hybrid and internationalised tribunals fit into a multi layered framework of international criminal law and transitional justice

The Coast Starlight Hans A. Ostrom, 2006 The Coast Starlight Collected Poems 1976 2006 by Hans Ostrom is a rich collection of poetry on a broad range of subjects Some poems are set in and concern Ostrom's native region the High Sierra of California others are set in Sweden Russia Italy Spain and Germany Emily Dickinson and Elvis Presley in Heaven an award winning much republished poem was featured in the Poet's Choice column in the Washington Post as well as in the popular anthology Kiss Off Poems to Set You Free Hans Ostrom was born and grew up in a small town in California's High Sierra. Ostrom attended high school and community college in the Central Valley of California before enrolling at the University of California Davis where he earned a B A an M A and a Ph D in literature. There he studied writing with the Pulitzer Prize winning poet Karl Shapiro. Ostrom's poems have been appearing in journals, magazines, and anthologies for three decades and they have won several prizes. Currently professor of English at the University of Puget Sound, Ostrom has taught at Gutenberg University in Mainz, Germany, and he was a Fulbright Senior Lecturer at Uppsala University in Sweden. He has also worked as a journalist, an editor, and a laborer. Ostrom has written, co-written, edited, and co-edited numerous works including Three To Get Ready, a novel; Subjects Apprehended; Poems Langston Hughes; A Study of the Short Fiction; A Langston Hughes Encyclopedia; Lives and Moments; An Introduction to Short Fiction; Metro Journeys in Writing. Creatively written with Wendy Bishop and Katharine Haake, and the five-volume Greenwood Encyclopedia of African American Literature, edited with J. David Macey. Ostrom lives in the South Puget Sound region with his wife and son. Reading Hans Ostrom's poems the second time one wants to read them a third time and more. This is the test of poetry after which no other test applies. It is not only the memorability of the voice in its quiet assurance but the introduction of a new experience that make the reader want to return and to see and hear again. The range is geographically immense but the persona remains intact and rooted in its time and place: the poet of Scandinavian descent in the new American west. At home in nature and at home among handicrafts, at home in the academy and in far-flung places, one has an image of a Paul Bunyan and Rilke. Here is genuine American poetry at its best. Karl Shapiro 1913-2000 winner of the Pulitzer Prize in Poetry.
