Rehabilitation of Degraded Forests in Asia Ajit Kumar Banerjee,1995      Asia-Pacific roadmap for primary forest conservation Laumonier, Y.,Azzu, N.,Adzan, G.,Narulita, S.,Khikmah, F.,Meybeck, A.,Pingault, N.,Gitz, V.,2022-07-31

Asia-Pacific roadmap for primary forest conservation Laumonier, Y., Azzu, N., Azdan, G., Narulita, S., Khikmah, F., Meybeck, A., Pingault, N., Gitz, V.,2022-08-12 The purpose of the roadmap is to delineate and inform the process by which decision makers and actors can evaluate the status diversity and trends of primary forests in the region identify priority areas for primary forest conservation assess the threats they face and explore possible ways to address them This report suggests a practical process in four steps through which the recommendations can be articulated at different scales from regional to local and adapted to the specific context priorities and needs of various forest types countries and categories of actors

The Forest Landscape Restoration Handbook Stewart Maginnis,Jennifer Rietbergen-McCracken,Alastair Sarre,2012-05-04 Forest loss and degradation have caused a decline in the quality of ecosystem services around the world But fixing the problem takes more than just planting trees practitioners increasingly realize that a landscape approach is essential This handbook authored and edited by international authorities in the field of forestry is the first practical guide to using forest landscape restoration FLR to repair the damage done to forest lands by poor land management practice Using research backed by respected institutions such as ITTO and the World Conservation Union IUCN it explains how to increase the resilience of landscapes and the communities they support through FLR The main aim of FLR is not to re establish pristine forest even if this were possible rather the objective is to make landscapes more resilient and thereby keep future management options open It also aims to support communities as they strive to increase and sustain the benefits they derive from land management This book explains the concept of FLR and guides the reader through the steps that must be taken to put it into practice It is an indispensable aid for practitioners in all aspects of forestry and natural resource management

Catastrophe and Regeneration in Indonesia's Peatlands Kosuke Mizuno,Motoko S. Fujita,Shuichi Kawai,2016-02-26 The serious degradation of the vast peatlands of Indonesia since the 1990s is the proximate cause of the haze that endangers public health in Indonesian Sumatra and Borneo and also in neighbouring Singapore Malaysia and Thailand Moreover peatlands that have been drained and cleared for plantations are a major contributor to greenhouse gas emissions This new book explains the degradation of peat soils and outlines a potential course of action to deal with the catastrophe looming over the region Concerted action will be required to reduce peatland fires and a successful policy needs to enhance social welfare and economic survival support natural conservation and provide a return on investment if there is to be a sustainable society in the peatlands This book argues that regeneration is possible through a new policy of people s forestry that includes reforestation and rewetting peat soils The data come from a major long term research effort the humansphere project that coordinates work done by researchers from the physical natural and human or social sciences      Degraded Forest

Rehabilitation and Sustainable Forest Management in the Asia-Pacific Region Asia-Pacific Network for Sustainable Forest Management and Rehabilitation, 2016 Promising cases of forest and landscape restoration in Asia and the Pacific Mittelman, A.; Hokka, V.; Paudel, K.C.; Animon, I.; Ioannou, A., 2024-12-10 Forest and landscape restoration FLR is gaining momentum through the UN Decade on Ecosystem Restoration 2021 2030 National commitments for FLR are increasing under the three Rio conventions UNFCCC CBD UNCCD the Bonn Challenge the New York Declaration on Forests the Glasgow Leaders Declaration on Forest and Land Use and the Forest and Climate Leaders Partnership These restoration linked targets and declarations at the global level also include countries in Asia and the Pacific with a wave of regional level FLR targets and initiatives such as the ASEAN Green Initiative Landscape Partnership Asia and the Regional Strategy and Action Plan for FLR in Asia Pacific FLR ambitions and efforts on the ground are strong Many different types of approaches tools and innovative financing methods are being employed Interest is also robust in upscaling successful FLR that can contribute to enhancing or maintaining the delivery of ecosystem services addressing climate change and biodiversity loss and promoting poverty alleviation food security and economic development In this context the FAO Regional Office for Asia and the Pacific with support from the IUCN has examined FLR experiences in the region to identify promising FLR cases in various country settings and ecosystem types This publication presents 15 promising cases selected from 150 projects based on their alignment with the ten principles of the UN Decade on Ecosystem Restoration Forest Restoration in

Landscapes Stephanie Mansourian, Daniel Vallauri, 2006-02-23 Is it a sign of the times that last year the Nobel committee chose to award the Nobel Peace prize to Wangari Maathai for having planted 30 million trees We believe so We think that while in the 20th century conservation made significant progress on setting up a global protected area network the 21st century will be a time of forest restoration The fact that Wangari Maathai is the first African woman to receive such an honourable distinction is in itself a major accomplishment What is even more remarkable is that for the first time this highly esteemed prize which has long been associated with political feats was given for an environmental achievement And not just any environmental achievement but forest restoration It is a comfort to see that it is not just us at WWF the global conservation organisation who believe forest restoration to be of global significance but that the Nobel committee is in agreement Judicial Reform in Latin America and the Caribbean Malcom Rowat, 1995-01-01 Proceedings of a World Bank conference T p

Restoring and Protecting the World's Lakes and Reservoirs Ariel Dinar, 1995-01-01

Sustainable forest management for land rehabilitation and provision of biomass-energy Borchard, N., Artati, Y., Lee, S.-M., Baral, H., 2017-02-14 Key messages There is potential for certain types of degraded land to be restored into sustainable forest and to produce biomass for renewable energy if implemented under careful management Improved strategies are needed to increase the efficiency and sustainability of bioenergy production from forests and restored degraded land The first requisite step towards the development and implementation of forest based energy systems are feasibility studies in order to avoid harmful environmental impacts and to improve socioeconomic well being Efficient energy production from forest biomass requires the development of interdisciplinary strategies to sustain continuous biomass supply from available land and maintain ecosystem services and community needs as well as the employment of suitable energy technologies ITTO Guidelines for the Restoration, Management and Rehabilitation of Degraded and Secondary Tropical Forests International Tropical Timber Organization,2002

Current Abstracts ,1996-03 Routledge Handbook of Environment and Society in Asia Paul G. Harris,Graeme Lang,2014-09-19 Nowhere is the connection between society and the environment more evident and potentially more harmful for the future of the world than in Asia In recent decades rapid development of Asian countries with very large populations has led to an unprecedented increase in environmental problems such as air and water pollution solid and hazardous wastes deforestation depletion of natural resources and extinction of native species This handbook provides a comprehensive survey of the cultural social and policy contexts of environmental change across East Asia The team of international experts critically examine a wide range of environmental problems related to energy climate change air land water fisheries forests and wildlife The editors conclude that with nearly half of the human population of the planet and several rapidly growing economies most notably China Asian societies will determine much of the future of human impacts on the regional and global environments As climate change related threats to society increase the book strongly argues for increased environmental consciousness and action in Asian societies This handbook is a very valuable companion for students scholars policy makers and researchers working on environmental issues in Asia

Chief is the past president of the International Union of Forestry Research Organizations the oldest international collaborative forestry research organization with over 15 000 scientists from 100 countries Forest Landscape Restoration John Stanturf, David Lamb, Palle Madsen, 2012-11-28 Restoration ecology as a scientific discipline developed from practitioners efforts to restore degraded land with interest also coming from applied ecologists attracted by the potential for restoration projects to apply and or test developing theories on ecosystem development Since then forest landscape restoration FLR has emerged as a practical approach to forest restoration particularly in developing countries where an approach which is both large scale and focuses on meeting human needs is required Yet despite increased investigation into both the biological and social aspects of FLR there has so far been little success in systematically integrating these two complementary strands Bringing experts in landscape studies natural resource management and forest restoration together with those experienced in conflict management environmental economics and urban studies this book bridges that gap to define the nature and potential of FLR as a truly multidisciplinary approach to a global environmental problem The book will provide a valuable reference to graduate students and researchers interested in ecological restoration forest ecology and management as well as to professionals in environmental restoration natural resource management conservation and environmental policy Dynamics of Asia's and Australasia's forests in a changing world Nophea Sasaki, Ling Zhang, John Meadows, Jeong-Wook Seo, Hans Juergen Boehmer, 2024-11-06 Global collaboration is the cornerstone of scientific advancement Frontiers in Forests and Global Change has organized a series of special edition Research Topics with the goal of highlighting the latest advancements in forest science across the globe showcasing the academic excellence and high quality work of internationally recognized researchers These collections aim to shed light on the recent progress made across the entire breadth of the forest science field and reflect on the future challenges faced by researchers across borders

Surveillance of Agricultural Price and Trade Policies Alberto Valdés, Barry Schaeffer, 1996-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 326 Describes the condition of young children in Sub Saharan Africa calls attention to their plight and examines strategies for addressing their condition The paper describes the World Bank's early childhood development initiative which focuses on the neglected but critical development age group that falls between birth and school enrollment age and which regards child development as the holistic formation of the child rather than an extension of traditional schooling downward Ecological restoration of abandoned tea plantations Chetan H C, 2019-02-28 Globally millions of hectares of tropical forests have been cleared and replaced with commercial plantations Many of these plantations are abandoned or put to alternative use Abandoned plantations provide opportunities that compensate to an extent forest cover depletion in the tropics However restoration of such abandoned land to natural forests involves a complex interplay of ecological socio economic and legal issues Apart from ecological issues of colonisation there are social issues of rehabilitating people once they lose their livelihood legal rights of the landowner economics of abandonment and finally legal issues such as protected areas PAs act and legislation that can lead to abandonment In the Western Ghats tea plantations were established in the rainforest during the colonial rule and are owned by individuals or large companies During the globalisation process the demand for tea decreased and many small owners could not maintain their plantations due to labour and other issues which led to the abandonment of many such plantations In addition plantations established during the British rule are now inside PAs and they face closure once the lease on the land expires In the Trivandrum division alone which has a large number of plantations almost 55% have been abandoned In areas that lie within PAs forest managers are keen that the plantations should be annexed to the PA but such large scale abandonment of land provides a challenge to restoration of native species This book addresses the ecological aspects of colonisation by native tree species in the abandoned plantations within a PA and suggests restoration activities from ecological and social perspectives helpful to forest and plantation managers
