Adolescent's Lives Donna E. Alvermann, 2006 Reconceptualizing the Literacies in Adolescents Lives Second Edition focuses on exploring the impact of young people's identity making practices in mediating their perceptions of themselves as readers and writers in an era of externally mandated reforms. What is different in the Second Edition is its emphasis on the importance of valuing adolescents' perspectives in an era of skyrocketing interest in improving literacy instruction at the middle and high school levels driven by externally mandated reforms and accountability measures. A central concern is the degree to which this new interest takes into account adolescents' personal social and cultural experiences in relation to literacy learning. In this new edition of Reconceptualizing the Literacies in Adolescents Lives, students' voices and perspectives are featured front and center in every chapter. Particular attention is given throughout to multiple literacies, especially how information and new communication technologies are changing learning from and with text. Nine of the 15 chapters are new; all other chapters are thoroughly updated. The volume is structured around four main themes: Situating Adolescents' Literacies addressing how young people use favorite texts to perform their identities; how they counter school-based constructions of incompetence and how they re-construct their literate identities in relation to certain kinds of gendered expectations, pedagogies, and cultural resources; Positioning Youth as Readers and Writers stressing the importance of classroom discourse, cultural capital, agency, and democratic citizenship in mediating adolescents' literate identities; Mediating Practices in Young People's Literacies looking at issues of language, social class, race, and culture in shaping how adolescents represent themselves and are represented by others; and Changing Teachers Teaching capturing the productive ambiguities associated with teaching urban adolescents to read and write in changing times, encouraging students to conduct action research on topics that are personally relevant and using enabling constraints as a concept to formulate policies on adolescent literacy instruction. Reconceptualizing the Literacies in Adolescents Lives Second Edition is an essential volume for researchers, faculty, teacher educators, and graduate students in the field of adolescent literacy education.

Creating Literacy-rich Schools for Adolescents Gay Ivey, Douglas Fisher, 2006 Offers a whole school program for improving the literacy skills of secondary school students. Transcultural Teens Chantal Tetreault, 2015-07-07 Transcultural Teens provides readers with a window onto the cultural and linguistic creativity of the housing projects or cités that ring Paris, showing how young people of Algerian Arab origins play with language in fascinating ways that subvert commonly held notions of intercultural animosity. Provides solid real world evidence in the often abstracted theoretical debate on globalization and transnationalism. Offers detailed data on linguistic practices that is more focused than generalized anthropological studies. Includes the experiences of French Algerian adolescent girls who remain largely absent from academic and popular discourse. Reveals the cultural richness and diversity of a population that is stigmatized and marginalized in a national context. Reconceptualising Adolescent Literacies As Textual Assemblages, Critical Literacy with Adolescent English Language Learners Jennifer Alford, 2021-05-24 This book examines critical literacy within language and literacy learning with a particular focus on English as an Additional Language learners in schools who traditionally are not given the same exposure to critical literacy as native English speakers. An important and innovative addition to extant literature, this book explains how English language teachers understand critical literacy and enact it in classrooms with adolescent English language learners from highly diverse language backgrounds. This book brings together the study of two intersecting phenomena: how critical literacy is constructed in English language education policy for adolescent English language learners internationally and how critical literacy is understood and enacted by teachers amid the so-called literacy crisis in neoliberal eduscapes. The work traces the ways critical literacy has been represented in English language education policy for adolescents in five contexts: Australia, England, Sweden, Canada, and the United States. Drawing on case study research, it provides a comparative analysis of how policy in these countries constructs critical literacy and how this then positions critical engagement as a focus for teachers of English language learners. Empirically based and accessibly written, this timely book will be of interest to a wide range of academics in the fields of adolescent literacy education, English language learning and teaching, education policy analysis, and critical discourse studies. It will also appeal to teachers, postgraduate students, and language education policy makers.

Encyclopedia of Adolescence Roger J.R.

Levesque, 2011-09-05 The Encyclopedia of Adolescence breaks new ground as an important central resource for the study of adolescence. Comprehensive in breadth and textbook in depth, the Encyclopedia of Adolescence, with entries presented in easy-to-access A to Z format, serves as a reference repository of knowledge in the field as well as a frequently updated conduit of new knowledge long before such information trickles down from research to standard textbooks. By making full use of Springer's print and online flexibility, the Encyclopedia is at the forefront of efforts to advance the field by pushing and creating new boundaries and areas of study that further our understanding of adolescents and their place in society. Substantively, the Encyclopedia draws from four major areas of research relating to adolescence. The first broad area includes research relating to Self Identity and Development in Adolescence. This area covers research relating to identity from early adolescence through emerging adulthood, basic aspects of development (e.g., biological, cognitive, social, and foundational developmental theories). In addition, this area focuses on various types of identity: gender, sexual, civic, moral, political, racial, spiritual, religious, and so forth. The second broad area centers on Adolescents' Social and Personal Relationships. This area of research examines the nature and influence of a variety of important relationships, including family, peer, friends, sexual, and romantic, as well as significant nonparental adults. The third area examines Adolescents in Social Institutions. This area of research centers on the influence and nature of important institutions that serve as the socializing contexts for adolescents. These major institutions include schools, religious groups, justice systems, medical fields, cultural contexts, media, legal systems, economic structures, and youth organizations. Adolescent Mental Health constitutes the last major area of research. This broad area of research focuses on the wide variety of human thoughts, actions, and behaviors relating to mental health from
