School Photos in Liquid Time Marianne Hirsch, Leo Spitzer, 2019-12-30 From clandestine images of Jewish children isolated in Nazi ghettos and Japanese American children incarcerated in camps to images of Native children removed to North American boarding schools classroom photographs of schoolchildren are pervasive even in repressive historical and political contexts School Photos in Liquid Time offers a closer look at this genre of vernacular photography tracing how photography advances ideologies of social assimilation as well as those of hierarchy and exclusion In Marianne Hirsch and Leo Spitzer's deft analysis school photographs reveal connections between the histories of persecuted subjects in different national and imperial centers Exploring what this ubiquitous and mundane but understudied genre tells us about domination as well as resistance the authors examine school photos as documents of social life and agents of transformation They place them in dialogue with works by contemporary artists who reframe remediate and elucidate them Ambitious yet accessible School Photos in Liquid Time presents school photography as a new access point into institutions of power revealing the capacity of past and present actors to disrupt and reinvent them N.Y.C. High School Pics Leonard Smoke, 2022-01-30 Historical photographs of NYC public high school students in the late 1960s Reinventing Ourselves as Teachers Claudia Mitchell, Sandra Weber, 2003-10-04 Designed for use by teachers and teacher educators this text should help both novice and experienced teachers reinterpret their working lives The reader is led on a path of personal exploration that goes beyond standard approaches and leads from the personal to the critical Illustrative material is drawn from all levels from kindergarten to high school to illuminate issues and questions fundamental to teachers' lives Film and literary narratives supply further case studies and contribute to the fusion of critical reflection and everyday realities that typically inform teachers' experiences of work School Memories Cristina Yanes-Cabrera, Juri Meda, Antonio Viñao, 2016-09-15 This book reveals how school memories offer not only a tool for accessing the school of the past but also a key to understanding what people today know or think they know about the school of the past It describes in fact how historians work does not purely and simply consist in exploring school as it really was but also in the complex process of defining the memory of school as one developed and revisited over time at both the individual and collective level Further it investigates the extent to which what people know reflects the reality or is in fact a product of stereotypes that are deeply rooted in common perceptions and thus exceedingly difficult to do away with The book includes fifteen peer reviewed contributions that were presented and discussed during the International Symposium School Memories New Trends in Historical Research into Education Heuristic Perspectives and Methodological Issues Seville 22-23 September 2015 School Yearbook Kate Eichhorn, 2025-11-10 Why school yearbooks as frivolous and cringey as they are are far more than just objects of nostalgia We're all familiar with the embarrassment that washes over us when recalling our high school yearbooks Questionable fashion choices gravity defying hair a melodramatic quote what were we thinking Even as school yearbooks decline in popularity among contemporary teens

they continue to impact our lives in shocking ways Collected digitized aggregated and recombined in ways that would have been impossible to imagine just a few decades ago yearbooks are no longer bound personal archives of adolescent memories In the twenty first century they are shaping our lives in surprising and sometimes disturbing ways And what could be a more fitting afterlife for these cringey books In School Yearbook cultural critic Kate Eichhorn investigates this ubiquitous object On the surface school yearbooks are easily dismissed as innocuous collections of embarrassing photographs and cheesy affirmations but as Eichhorn reveals there has never been anything innocent about the school yearbook tradition Since the early twentieth century yearbooks have circulated as forms of public relations propaganda and hate speech They have been routinely used by police detectives private investigators and even the FBI to identify and profile suspects With over half a million yearbooks now available online these books have also acquired the power to continue shaping our lives long after graduation Would be landlords employers and even creditors can now turn to data culled from their embarrassing pages to make judgments about who we are and what we merit In a digital era school yearbooks have acquired the ability to keep judging us in perpetuity Both timely and insightful School Yearbook explores how these books have always been used to rank and judge us Cornell Rural School Leaflet ,1926 Vocational Education Magazine ,1924 Ethnography For Education Pole, Christopher, Morrison, Marlene, 2003-12-01 Ethnography is a distinctive approach for educational research The authors argue that the last decade has seen ethnography come of age not only as a way of doing research but also as a way of theorizing and making sense of the world Their approach is concerned with ethnography as process and ethnography as product This critical celebration of ethnography explores what it can achieve in educational research The book features Thorough discussion of definitions of ethnography and its potential for use within educational research Critical introductions to the principal approaches to ethnography Discussions of data analysis and representation and of the challenges facing ethnography Use of educational examples from real research projects throughout The book offers a distinctive contribution to the literature of ethnography taking readers beyond a simplistic how to approach towards an understanding of the wider contribution ethnography can make to our understanding of educational processes Ethnography for Education is of value to final year undergraduates and postgraduates in education and social science disciplines as well as education professionals engaged in practice based research Christopher Pole is Senior Lecturer at the Department of Sociology University of Leicester His research interests are in the areas of the sociology of education sociology of childhood and the development of qualitative research methods Recent publications include Practical Social Investigation Qualitative and Quantitative Methods in Social Research and Hidden Hands International Perspectives on Children s Work and Labour Marlene Morrison is Reader in Education Leadership and Director of the Doctorate of Education programme at the University of Lincoln Her academic background is in the sociology of education and includes research on race equality health education perspectives on educational policy and practice and the ethnography of educational settings She has researched widely in the education that
