Science World And Faith:

Science, World, and Faith Henry Jackson, 2005-08-22 Science World and Faith by Henry Jackson tackles the ongoing debate between science and religion providing many answers to the questions asked by those who are hesitant to embrace the truths of Christianity Jackson addresses the serious doubts readers might have about the existence of God and supplies them with reasonable and reliable answers Both educated and insightful Jackson is well versed in the world of science and makes a compelling argument for the sincere truth and authenticity of the Christian faith Never-Ending Prayer Bert Hoedemaker, 2022-01-01 Is Christian tradition to be maintained as the absolute body of truth Can it be used selectively depending on the preferences of individual believers What can religious truth possibly mean in our age of opinions and overwhelming cultural diversity These are unsettling questions for Christians their effect aggravated by our daily encounter with non western cultures and non Christian religions and by the increasing presentation of secularism and atheism as the normal way of life In Never Ending Prayer Bert Hoedemaker outlines the continuing importance of tradition while showing that in facing these challenges our understanding of tradition needs a reset Drawing on his own experiences of world Christianity he reconstructs the Christian tradition in such a way that it no longer defines and defends itself as a specific body of concepts and practices over against the world but as a living community originating in and remaining in interaction with humanity's permanent struggles It is presented as a system of religious imagination in which prayer is the driving force and reconciliation is seen as the destination of humankind Faith Seeking Understanding Daniel L. Migliore, 2004-06-14 Daniel Migliore's Faith Seeking Understanding has been a standard introduction to Christian theology for more than a decade The book's presentation of traditional doctrine in freshly contemporary ways its concern to hear and critically engage new voices in theology and its creative and accessible style have kept it one of the most stimulating balanced and readable guides to theology available This second edition of Faith Seeking Understanding features improvements from cover to cover Besides updating and expanding the entire text of the book Migliore has added two completely new chapters The first Confessing Jesus Christ in Context explores the unique contributions to Christian theology made by recent theologians working in the African American Asian American Latin American Hispanic feminist womanist and mujerista traditions The second new chapter The Finality of Jesus Christ and Religious Pluralism addresses the growing interest in the relationship of Christianity to other religions and their adherents Migliore's three delightful theological dialogues are followed by a new appendix an extensive glossary of theological terms making the book even more useful to students seeking to understand the history themes and challenges of Christian belief Evolution of Faith and Religion Ajit Randhawa, 2009-08 Face to Face Marty Folsom, 2016-08-31 Like falling in love this book argues that a relationship with God begins with surprise proceeds with discovery and shapes a life that comes to share a story of love This book does not describe God but pursues the nature of personally relating with the triune God Consequently it also engages how we relate with humans made in God's image We finish the Face to Face series with this most mysterious and fulfilling encounter a personal engagement with the Relational God known as a community of persons who invite us to share in their life Religion and Spirituality Martin

Dowson, Stuart Devenish, 2010-06-01 Religion and spirituality make critical contributions to an inclusive vision for the welfare of minorities the marginalized and other disadvantaged groups in societies and cultures around the globe Religious movements and spiritual traditions work to improve social outcomes for disenfranchised groups by enriching educational political and social agendas and by providing a wide variety of justice driven programs and services Values underpinning these services include the dignity of the human person the sanctity of human life the foundational role of families and communities the transformative power of learning and the advancement of shared personal and social rights and responsibilities These values act as a counter balance to other attitudes and values that may impede pro social cohesion and development Drawing on diverse religious and spiritual perspectives and traditions this new volume provides exciting and enriching examples of theory research and practice that directly contribute to our understanding of how religion and spirituality promote and facilitate social justice and equity in diverse social and cultural contexts with a particular focus on educational settings contexts processes and outcomes Religious communities invest heavily in schools colleges and universities in the belief that these educational institutions enable them to inculcate into their membership the kinds of moral values and qualities that lie at the heart of their spiritual teachings Looking beyond the sacred secular impasse religious organisations attempt to provide a education for life which draws from both the scientia of science and the sapientia of religion and spirituality These depth dimensions provide the pool of values which enable citizens to enact equity mercy and justice in society in the name of God and for the sake of humanity The chapters which comprise this volume demonstrate the possibility of a healthy integration between religion and education from a truly global transdisciplinary and ecumenical perspective From contexts within Asia Africa the USA and Australia and from disciplines ranging from ethics to social work from health to educational curriculum from personal identity to community consciousness this volume makes a unique contribution to the theory and practice of the educational and religious inter face It is a contribution which holds a great deal of promise for being pro humanitas Test of Faith Jenny Baker, 2009 Worlds Apart Chuck Bomar, 2011-09-06

The life stage of 18 25 year olds is completely different than it was in previous eras In just one generation we see contrasts that used to take two to three generations to surface This massive shift has created frustration with older generations Parents recognize this is a completely different world and struggle to relate Others throw their arms up in bewilderment assuming they ll never understand And many church leaders wish they d just grow up In this book Chuck Bomar brings understanding comfort and direction to all of this You ll learn how the development of higher education has caused much of the separation between generations the irreversible ways in which this generation has been impacted and how today s college aged person differs from the typical thoughts and values of older generations the five major pursuits of college aged people and why they pursue these areas Through profiles of college aged people and testimonies of parents you ll explore in depth issues college age people face how they process through them and what influences their decisions so you can effectively minister to them

The Catholic Encyclopedia Charles George Herbermann,Edward Aloysius Pace,1913 The Journal of Religion ,1921 Includes section Book reviews The American Catholic Quarterly Review ,1910 The Faith of a Physicist John C. Polkinghorne,2014-07-14 Is it possible to think like a scientist and yet have the faith of a Christian Although many Westerners might say no there are also many critically minded individuals who entertain what John Polkinghorne calls a wistful wariness toward religion they feel unable to accept religion on rational grounds yet cannot dismiss it completely Polkinghorne both a particle physicist and Anglican priest here explores just what rational grounds there could be for Christian beliefs maintaining that the quest for motivated understanding is a concern shared by scientists and religious thinkers alike Anyone who assumes that religion is based on unquestioning certainties or that it need not take into account empirical knowledge will be challenged by Polkinghorne s bottom up examination of Christian beliefs about events ranging from creation to the resurrection The author organizes his inquiry around the Nicene Creed an early statement that continues to summarize Christian beliefs He applies to each of its tenets the question What is the evidence that makes you think this might be true The evidence Polkinghorne weighs includes the Hebrew and Christian scriptures their historical contexts and the possible motivations for their having been written scientific theories and human self consciousness as revealed in literary philosophical and psychological works He begins with the words We believe and presents understandings of the nature of humanity showing for example that Cartesian theory evolution and natural selection do not tell the entire story of what humans are about especially in light of many sources that attest to our spirituality Moving through the Creed Polkinghorne considers the concept of divinity and God as creator in discussions that cover the Theory of Everything the Big Bang Theory and the possibility of divine presence within reality so that God is not simply an outside observer Chapters on Jesus analyze the different ways events are described in the Gospels and the way motivation for belief is conveyed for example how do these writings explain why a young man killed in public disgrace could inspire a following when other major world religious leaders lived to become highly revered elders in their communities Faith seeking understanding is according to Polkinghorne like the scientific quest Both are journeys of intellectual discovery in which those who survey experience from an initially chosen point of view must be open to correction in the light of further experience Religion he writes has long known that ultimately every human image of God proves to be an inadequate idol The Faith of a Physicist based on the prestigious 1993 Gifford Lectures delivers a powerful message to scientists and theologians theists and atheists alike Originally published in 1994 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Believing in a Revealing God Gabriel Moran, 2016-12-09 What is faith Is it a thing one has or a human activity What is revelation Is it a deposit of truths in the past or God's action in the present These questions are addressed by renowned religious educator Gabriel Moran who draws upon biblical and theological traditions set within today's interreligious dialogue A church of moral and liturgical activity in relation to a revealing God is the needed response to both a dismissal of religion and apocalyptic violence in its name The future role of Christianity in the world and in individual lives may well hang in the balance The Christian ideas of faith and revelation will either be the chief obstacle to dialogue with the contemporary world or else the main foundation to a Christian spiritual life that can give substance and direction to religious searching Gabriel Moran is a professor in the Department of Humanities and the Social Sciences at New York University He is widely credited with reshaping the field of religious education in the United States and beyond Moran is author of twenty books on religion and education including Religious Education as a Second Language Both Sides The Story of Revelation and most recently Speaking of Teaching Lessons from History

An Uncertain Certainty Graham Buxton, 2014-09-25 Many people in Christian ministry are tired of simplistic certainties what they need is permission to live with uncertainty with mystery ambiguity and paradox Because we live in a world that is far removed from the modernist version of reality with its rational clinical and superficial presentation of life we need the courage and wisdom to embrace the presence of uncertainties in the midst of certainty In this book the author offers snapshots of a number of central Christian topics God the gospel the church salvation ministry inviting us to treat them as features of a landscape to explore rather than a set of propositional statements to sign up to Each chapter short enough to provoke interest and curiosity will be a catalyst for deeper reflection and enquiry inviting us to discover a new freedom in ministry as we embrace a more generous both and perspective in place of a more narrow either or interpretation of the Christian faith In the process we may find ourselves rediscovering the Life we have lost in living as we imaginatively participate in the life ministry and mystery of the triune God of grace in our midst
