missing ingredient is a true and thorough knowledge of the body's vital points what they are where they are how to quickly find them under duress how to use them constructively or for destruction and how to recognize them in the kata hyung or forms they thought they knew so well In Pressure Point Fighting martial arts expert Rick Clark offers a systematic introduction to this knowledge and to the tools needed to ferret out more of this information from forms and techniques already in place knowledge and tools that are not dependent upon acceptance of the tenets of traditional Chinese medicine or modern Western medicine for that matter but which are based solely on open minded observation and willingness to try new or old approaches to martial arts training

Karate-do Kevin L. Seiler, Donald J. Seiler, 2006 Karate Do evolved as a martial art in Okinawa where it was nurtured by centuries of Okinawan culture and innovation What inspired the ancient masters to develop these martial techniques and practices was the human instinct for self preservation not a desire for entertainment or sporting competition Traditional karate do should be practiced with this in mind Here you will find a complete personal training handbook to supplement training in any karate do system or other martial art style The authors have systematically organized their experiences and research into easily digestible segments and have included numerous photographs throughout the text This book will inspire you to train even more diligently and the experiences and research shared here will be useful on the journey of any traditional martial artist
