The Steps to War Paul D. Senese, John A. Vasquez, 2008-08-10 The question of what causes war has concerned statesmen since the time of Thucydides The Steps to War utilizes new data on militarized interstate disputes from 1816 to 2001 to identify the factors that increase the probability that a crisis will escalate to war In this book Paul Senese and John Vasquez test one of the major behavioral explanations of war the steps to war by identifying the various factors that put two states at risk for war Focusing on the era of classic international politics from 1816 to 1945 the Cold War and the post Cold War period they look at the roles of territorial disputes alliances rivalry and arms races and show how the likelihood of war increases significantly as these risk factors are combined Senese and Vasquez argue that war is more likely in the presence of these factors because they increase threat perception and put both sides into a security dilemma The Steps to War calls into question certain prevailing realist beliefs like peace through strength demonstrating how threatening to use force and engaging in power politics is more likely to lead to war than to peace

War and Peace and War Peter Turchin, 2007-02-27 From the author of End Times In War and Peace and War Peter Turchin uses his expertise in evolutionary biology to offer a bold new theory about the course of world history Turchin argues that the key to the formation of an empire is a society s capacity for collective action He demonstrates that high levels of cooperation are found where people have to band together to fight off a common enemy and that this kind of cooperation led to the formation of the Roman and Russian empires and the United States But as empires grow the rich get richer and the poor get poorer conflict replaces cooperation and dissolution inevitably follows Eloquently argued and rich with historical examples War and Peace and War offers a bold new theory about the course of world history with implications for nations today

Regions of War and Peace Douglas Lemke, 2002-01-21 In this contribution to the literature on the causes of war Douglas Lemke asks whether the same factors affect minor powers as affect major ones He investigates whether power parity and dissatisfaction with the status quo have an impact within Africa the Far East the Middle East and South America Lemke argues that there are similarities across these regions and levels of power and that parity and dissatisfaction are correlates of war around the world The extent to which they increase the risk of war varies across regions however and the book looks at the possible sources of this cross regional variation concluding that differential progress toward development is the likely cause This book will interest students and scholars of international relations and peace studies as well as comparative politics and area studies

Territory, War, and Peace John A. Vasquez, Marie T. Henahan, 2023-04-14 This book presents a collection of new and updated essays on what has come to be known as the territorial explanation of war The book argues that a key both to peace and to war lies in understanding the role territory plays as a source of conflict and inter group violence Of all the issues that spark conflict territorial disputes have the highest probability of escalating to war War however is hardly inevitable much depends on how territorial issues are handled More importantly settling territorial disputes and establishing mutually recognized boundaries can produce long periods of peace between neighbors even if other salient issues arise While territory is not the only cause of war and wars arise from other issues territory is one of the main causes of war and learning how to manage it can in principle eliminate an entire class of wars This book will be of great interest to all students of war and conflict studies causes of war and peace international security and strategic studies John A Vasquez is Thomas B Mackie Scholar in International Relations at the University of Illinois Urbana Champaign He is author of The Steps to War 2008 with Paul Senese and The War Puzzle Revisited 2009 He has been president of the Peace Science Society International and the International Studies Association Marie T Henahan is Director of Internships and Lecturer Department of Political Science at
