set up There needs to be a more realistic assessment of the extent to which Scotland could expect the rest of the UK RUK to co operate with and support it on security and intelligence There is a pressing need for official legal advice on a wide range of international legal issues including EU accession EU opt outs and membership of international organisations The Report says that the overwhelming body of law evidence practice and precedent supports the view that the RUK would inherit the vast majority of the UK s international rights and obligations whereas Scotland would start anew internationally if it became independent Having two co equal states could lead to a level of legal and political insecurity that would not be tolerated by other states The report disputes the view that Scotland s journey towards membership of the EU and NATO would be straightforward It is for the EU itself to determine in accordance with its regulations whether and how Scotland would become a member Scotland may have to make trade offs to secure the unanimous support it would need from within the EU
