Scotlands Voice In International Affairs:

Scotland's Voice in International Affairs Clive Archer, John Main, 1980 In October 1977 the Scottish Branch of the Royal Institute of International Affairs established a study group to consider the representation of Scottish interests abroad The members of the group were drawn from the Scottish universities as well as from business and banking in Scotland The study began with a series of discussion meetings at which the group as a whole was able to draw on the knowledge and experience of among others Mr Alick Buchanan Smith MP Mr Stanley Budd Head of the Edinburgh Office of the Commission of the European Communities Mr J Allan Stewart Scottish Secretary of the Confederation of British Industry Mr A S Halford MacLeod of the Scottish Council Development and Industry and senior officials of the Scottish Office Individual members of the group then undertook a programme of interviews with representatives of the fishing industry in particular Mr Gilbert Buchan and Mr David Aitchison of the Scottish Fishermen s Federation Mr James Lovie of the Scottish Fishermen s Organisation Ltd and Mr Robert Allan of the Scottish Section of the British Fishing Federation with representatives of the agriculture industry notably Mr Michael Burnett of the National Farmers Union of Scotland Mr Dermot Gunn of the Scottish Agricultural Organisation Society and Mr A F Roney Dougal of the Scottish Landowners Federation and with representatives of Scottish local authorities and the relevant departments of the Scottish Office Scotland's Voice in International Affairs Clive Archer, 1960

Politics in Scotland Duncan McTavish, 2016-06-23 Politics in Scotland is an authoritative introduction to the contemporary political landscape in Scotland and an essential text for undergraduate and postgraduate students of Scottish Politics Written by leading experts in the field it is coherently organised to provide a clear and comprehensive overview of a range of themes in contemporary Scottish Politics Key topics include Government and electoral behaviour Representation and political parties in Scotland Public policy and Scotland s relationship with the rest of the world Scottish politics both in the run up to and after the 2014 referendum The Future of Scottish government and politics This textbook will be essential reading for students of Scottish politics British Politics devolution government and policy Who Governs Scotland? Alex Wright, 2005 This book addresses the premise that the question of who governs Scotland has become increasingly ambiguous thanks in part to European integration globalization and devolution within the UK It argues that although the concept of Multi level governance helped illuminate regionalism with the EU it was not an appropriate model for Scotland This well researched and powerfully argued book adds greatly to the debate on constitutional reform and offers invaluable insight into the Scottish Parliament s foreign affair agenda It offers an illuminating read to students policy makers and politicians Foreign policy considerations for the UK and Scotland in the event of Scotland becoming an independent country Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Foreign Affairs Committee, 2013-05-01 With just over sixteen months to go before the Scottish referendum there are still significant gaps in the Scottish Government s proposed foreign policy according to a report published today by the Foreign Affairs Committee There has not been enough analysis on what sort of overseas diplomatic network and external security and intelligence provision Scotland would have to set up There needs to be a more realistic assessment of the extent to which Scotland could expect the rest of the UK RUK to co operate with and support it on security and intelligence There is a pressing need for official legal advice on a wide range of international legal issues including EU accession EU opt outs and membership of international organisations The Report says that the overwhelming body of law evidence practice and precedent supports the view that the RUK would inherit the vast majority of the UK s international rights and obligations whereas Scotland would start anew internationally if it became independent Having two co equal states could lead to a level of legal and political insecurity that would not be tolerated by other states The report disputes the view that Scotland s journey towards membership of the EU and NATO would be straightforward It is for the EU itself to determine in accordance with its regulations whether and how Scotland would become a member Scotland may have to make trade offs to secure the unanimous support it would need from within the EU

Scotland Analysis Great Britain: Scotland Office,2013-02-11 The UK Government is undertaking a major cross government programme of analysis prior to the referendum on Scottish independence in 2014 The aim is to provide a comprehensive and detailed analysis of Scotland s place in the UK This paper the first of a series to be published in 2013 and 2014 examines the UK s constitutional set up and the legal implications of independence The UK Government is convinced that the current devolution offers the best for Scotland the Scottish Parliament and Government are empowered to take decisions on a range of domestic policy areas such as health education policing while Scotland continues to benefit from decisions made for the UK as a whole defence and security foreign representation economic affairs Independence is very different to devolution Based on independent expert opinion published as Annex A the paper concludes that if there were to be a vote in favour of leaving the UK Scotland would become an entirely new state whilst the remainder of the UK would continue as before retaining the rights and obligations of the UK as it currently stands Any separation would have to be negotiated between both governments Legal and practical implications of independence both at home and abroad are addressed An independent Scotland would have to apply to and or negotiate to become a member of whichever international organisations it wished to join including the EU and NATO Scotland would also have to work through its positions on thousands of international treaties to which the UK is currently party Scotland and the Sea T. Christopher Smout,1992 Alexander Fenton writes on the uses of shellfish as a way of examining the relationship between small scale and large scale fishing and Ian Morrison investigates boat types in Shetland and in the Scandinavian islands Shetland is explored again by Brian Smith s exposition of local fishing tenures Gordon Jackson investigates the DPL shipping line before 1840 and Anthony Slaven writes about the business leaders in the great ship building firms of the Clyde Robert Prescott breaks new ground by describing the Lascar seamen who were the origin of the Asian community in Glasgow and Christopher Harvie and Stephen

Scotland and the UK Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Scottish Affairs Committee, 2010 This report examines the arrangements in place for communication between the UK Government and Scottish Executive particularly when the UK Government formulates international policy which will specifically affect Scottish interests and devolved matters Generally there are effective channels of communication at both ministerial and official level between the two governments Whitehall tends to overlook the Scottish angle of policy and legislation more often in those departments which are unfamiliar with devolved matters We recommend that the Government ensures that each department has a devolution champion to ensure that there is a good level of awareness of devolution issues The revival of the Joint Ministerial Committee should provide an important forum for discussion between Ministers of the UK Government and devolved administrations However there is little opportunity for parliamentary scrutiny of the outcomes and effectiveness of the Committee's meetings The report welcomes the publication of the new Protocol for Avoidance and Resolution of Disputes as the 2001 Memorandum of Understanding did not provide adequate guidance on how disputes between the UK and Scotland should be resolved This was demonstrated during the communications between the governments on the UK s negotiations with Libya on the Prisoner Transfer Agreement Both Governments should display the necessary political will to ensure that both understand each other s point of view and demonstrate the mutual respect which should characterise all their dealings
