El-Hi Textbooks in Print, 1984 Reading-Writing Connections Mary F. Heller, 1999-04. Reading Writing Connections From Theory to Practice is an extraordinary language arts methods text that enables elementary and middle school teachers to create classroom environments where all students can become lifelong readers and writers. Focusing on developmentally appropriate methods and materials, this remarkably readable book empowers a new generation of teachers to integrate reading, writing, listening, and speaking in K-8 classrooms. Heller's highly accessible writing style makes this book suitable as a primary text for undergraduate and graduate courses in language arts, reading, writing, and literacy. Special features of this second edition include a vision of how to transform cutting-edge theory and research into classroom practice that utilizes integrated language arts instruction; a unique developmental perspective with separate chapters on teaching methods and materials for kindergarten, primary 1-3, intermediate 4-6, and middle grades 7-8; instructional guidelines that offer generous, detailed suggestions for applying theory to practice; plus "For You to Try" and "For Your Journal" exercises that encourage critical thinking and reflection; and a wealth of classroom vignettes, examples of students' oral and written language, illustrations, and figures that accentuate interesting and informative theory, research, and practice. In addition, Reading Writing Connections offers expanded content on the impact of sociocultural theory and the whole language movement on the teaching of reading and writing across the curriculum; greater emphasis on cultural diversity, including new multicultural children's literature booklists that complement the general children's literature bibliographies; and current information on alternative assessment, emerging technologies, the multiage classroom, reader response to literature, and thematic teaching.

Guide to Reference Books for School Media Centers Christine Gehrt Wynar, 1981. The Non-verbal Type of Small Clauses in English and Lithuanian Judita Giparaite, 2009-12-14. The study The Non-verbal Type of Small Clauses in English and Lithuanian is one of the first attempts to apply the methods of generative grammar to the analysis of a fragment of Lithuanian grammar, i.e., constructions with secondary predicates of the type V NP1 NP2 and V NP1 AP, the sub-strings NP1 NP2 and NP1 AP of which, in generative works, are usually called small clauses. The investigation is contrastive: the evidence of Lithuanian is compared with that of English Whereas the syntactic study of secondary predicates in English has a certain tradition traditional Lithuanian grammar does not have a single notion to what is known elsewhere as secondary predicates In Lithuanian traditional grammar secondary predicates are usually referred to as a part of compound nominal predicates predicative attributes a part of complex objects and are not singled out as a distinct category but are given different often contradictory treatments Thus the research can be considered pioneering work as far as Lithuanian is concerned It not only contributes to the theoretical discussion about the adequate way of dealing with secondary predicates in Government and Binding framework but can also be considered instrumental in propagating modern methods of syntactic analysis in tradition ridden Lithuanian grammar The present work addresses an important problem whether the Lithuanian and English constructions under investigation express a subject predicate relationship and form a constituent and can be described as having the syntactic function of a clause For this purpose the syntactic and semantic as well as clausal properties of the sequences NP1 NP2 and NP1 AP in the two languages under consideration are discussed The clausal properties of the sub strings NP1 NP2 and NP1 AP are investigated on the basis of the presence of agreement features sentence negation the resemblance to full clauses theta role assignment word order and applying sentence constituency tests
