Rethinking Regulation of International Finance Uzma Ashraf Barton, 2016-04-24 Why have financial standards and institutions almost always failed to effectively predict and respond to real world financial crises The answer this challenging book shows is that international financial law suffers from a persistent lack of judicial or quasi judicial enforcement mechanisms leaving flaws in the structure of the international financial system that lead inevitably to excesses that threaten the public good of global financial stability The author an internationally renowned legal expert on financial and fiscal reforms responds to the increasingly urgent call for rethinking the structure and the functioning of international financial law Centering on the concept of enforcement which continues to be an unresolved issue in the discipline of international financial law the analysis describes the likely contours of hard law regulatory reform It weighs the pros and cons of much talked about regulatory and policy issues like the following and more policy implications from the transformation of finance from a domestic to an international concept new or revised supervisory and regulatory bodies with redefined mandate jurisdictions and powers possibility of a treaty based structure similar to the European Union's integration framework and consolidation of crisis prevention and crisis management policies The analysis takes into account instances from trade and monetary systems pertinent to the development of the discipline of international financial law A concluding chapter explores possibilities for putting in place an asset backed resilient financial system based on risk sharing and empowered to legislate reform and authorized to seek compliance from its members With its provision of unconventional alternatives for further development of international financial law to realize stable predictable and robust international markets including early warning systems and fully primed crisis prevention mechanisms the book explores the essential link between global financial stability effective regulation and institutional development that will engender realistic global policy solutions It will prove to be of great importance to regulatory and legal practitioners as well as to academic and think tank scholars European Contract Law Bénédicte Fauvarque-Cosson, Denis Mazeaud, 2009-04-27 The Association Henri Capitant des Amis de la Culture Juridique Française and the Société de législation comparée joined the academic network on European Contract Law in 2005 to work on the elaboration of a common terminology and on guiding principles as well as to propose a revised version of the Principles of European Contract Law PECL The results of this work were sent to the European Commission and have already been published in French The English translation is now being published by Sellier & Leysen This work could contribute to the wider

European project The part on the guiding principles could be a component of the CFR in the form of black letter model rules or recitals The part on terminology is in itself useful for the elaboration of the final various linguistic versions of the CFR It finds its place within the materials which will accompany the model rules Last but by no means least the revised version of the PECL should be considered by the European institutions as an alternative set of model rules on contract law
