,19?? Marketing Modernism in Fin-de-Siècle Europe Robert Jensen,2022-02-08 In this fundamental rethinking of the rise of modernism from its beginnings in the Impressionist movement Robert Jensen reveals that market discourses were pervasive in the ideological defense of modernism from its very inception and that the avant garde actually thrived on the commercial appeal of anti commercialism at the turn of the century The commercial success of modernism he argues depended greatly on possession of historical legitimacy The very development of modern art was inseparable from the commercialism many of its proponents sought to transcend Here Jensen explores the economic aesthetic institutional and ideological factors that led to its dominance in the international art world by the early 1900s He emphasizes the role of the emerging dealer gallery market and of modernist art historiographies in evaluating modern art and legitimizing it through the formation of a canon of modernist masters In describing the canon building of modern dealerships Jensen considers the new ideological dealer and explores the commercial construction of artistic identity through such rhetorical concepts as temperament and independent art and through such institutional structures as the retrospective His inquiries into the fate of the juste milieu a group of dissidents who saw themselves as true heirs of Impressionism and his look at a new form of art history emerging in Germany further expose a linear dealer oriented history of modernist art constructed by or through the modernists themselves Catalogue of the City of Edinburgh Art Collection City of Edinburgh Museums and Art Galleries,1979 Scottish Art Since 1900 Keith S. Hartley,Barbican Art Gallery,1989 Problem Pictures ,2017-07-05

During the Victorian period there developed a new anxiety about male female relations and roles in modern society as described by a member of the Athenaeum in 1858 the distinction of man and woman their separate as well as their joint rights begins to occupy the attention of our whole community and with no small effect These essays examine Victorian painting in the light of this woman question by analysing the change in representation of the family romance social issues such as emigration and colonialism the use of the female nude and the traditions of portraiture history painting and still life The art and artists are considered in a socio political context and the connections between Victorian sexism racism and classism are examined These essays bring to light much previously unknown work especially by women and reappraise many well known paintings William Dyce, 1806-1864 Marcia R.
