acquainted with many of her era's other literary and public figures including Theodore Roosevelt. Edith Wharton was born Edith Newbold Jones to George Frederic Jones and Lucretia Stevens Rhinelanders at their brownstone at 14 West Twenty-third Street in New York City. She had two much older brothers, Frederic Rhinelanders who was sixteen and Henry Edward who was eleven. She was baptized April 20, 1862, Easter Sunday at Grace Church. To her friends and family she was known as Pussy Jones. The saying 'keeping up with the Joneses' is said to refer to her father's family. She was also related to the Rensselaer family, the most prestigious of the old patroon families. She had a lifelong lovely friendship with her Rhinelanders niece, landscape architect Beatrix Farrand of Reef Point in Bar Harbor, Maine.

EDITH WHARTON 1862-1937 was one of the most remarkable women of her time and her immense commercial and critical success, most notably with her novel The Age of Innocence (1920) which won a Pulitzer Prize, have long overshadowed her small but distinguished body of supernatural fiction. Some of her finest fantastic and detective work, which often times overlap, was first collected in 1909 in Tales of Men and Ghosts. The psychological horror is as important as the literal one here, and subtle ambiguities characterized by the best of Henry James's work such as The Turn of the Screw are also present in Wharton's character studies such as The Bolted Door. Is the protagonist a murderer or is he mad? In the end, it may not matter for it is his descent into madness and obsession that gives the story its chilling frisson. Other tales present men or ghosts or what men believe to be ghosts in a variety of lights, from misunderstood monsters to vengeful spirits to insecure artists. If you have never read Edith Wharton's fantasy work before, you will be captivated and delighted. Without a doubt, this is a landmark book and an important addition to the Wildside Fantasy Classics line.
