corporations A wealth of statistical and tabular material supplements his account of the sogo shosha as Japan's chief importers of foodstuffs raw materials and equipment as the advance guard of Japanese exports as a driving force to rationalize the domestic distribution system and as investor organizers of multinational overseas natural resource development programs

External Intervention and the Politics of State Formation Ja Ian Chong, 2012-06-29 This book explores ways foreign intervention and external rivalries can affect the institutionalization of governance in weak states When sufficiently competitive foreign rivalries in a weak state can actually foster the political centralization territoriality and autonomy associated with state sovereignty This counterintuitive finding comes from studying the collective effects of foreign contestation over a weak state as informed by changes in the expected opportunity cost of intervention for outside actors When interveners associate high opportunity costs with intervention they bolster sovereign statehood as a next best alternative to their worst fear domination of that polity by adversaries Sovereign statehood develops if foreign actors concurrently and consistently behave this way toward a weak state This book evaluates that argument against three least likely cases China Indonesia and Thailand between the late nineteenth and mid twentieth centuries

Race for Empire Takashi Fujitani, 2013-07-20 Race for Empire offers a profound and challenging reinterpretation of nationalism racism and wartime mobilization during the Asia Pacific war In parallel case studies of Japanese Americans mobilized to serve in the United States Army and of Koreans recruited or drafted into the Japanese military T Fujitani examines the U S and Japanese empires as they struggled to manage racialized populations while waging total war Fujitani probes governmental policies and analyzes representations of these soldiers on film in literature and in archival documents to reveal how characteristics of racism nationalism capitalism gender politics and the family changed on both sides He demonstrates that the United States and Japan became increasingly alike over the course of the war perhaps most tellingly in their common attempts to disavow racism even as they reproduced it in new ways and forms
