Showing Our Colors May Ayim,1992 Hitler's Black Victims Clarence Lusane,2004-11-23 Drawing on interviews with the black survivors of Nazi concentration camps and archival research in North America Europe and Africa this book documents and analyzes the meaning of Nazism s racial policies towards people of African descent specifically those born in Germany England France the United States and Africa and the impact of that legacy on contemporary race relations in Germany and more generally in Europe The book also specifically addresses the concerns of those surviving Afro Germans who were victims of Nazism but have not generally been included in or benefited from the compensation agreements that have been developed in recent years Other Germanies Karen Jankowsky,Carla Love,1997-10-16 This book introduces American audiences to Germany through the perspectives of members of various ethnic groups within the newly unified country and through the mediation of feminist scholars documenting the artistic contributions to German cultural identity of ten women writers filmmakers dancers and visual artists The work of these artists is presented in various ways as an opportunity for Germans to explore their own repressed identities as a portrayal of the complex histories of cultural change which foreigners bring into Germany as the work of piecing together a minority identity in Germany as a portrayal of the marginalization of women in the construction of the nation and as the interpenetration of Eastern and Western European cultures These artists subvert the process of forming a singular cultural identity by calling into question the creation of a unified personal identity They represent for example the fragmentation of identity through images of amputation the arbitrary construction of identity through games of chance the struggle within the writing self to resist censorship in East Germany and the protest against a culturally imposed identity based on racial categorization The volume s eleven articles address issues of multiculturalism national and personal identity and avant garde art and reflect on the various ways gender and culture interact in the German context Body and Nation Emily S. Rosenberg,Shanon Fitzpatrick,2014-07-31 Body and Nation interrogates the connections among the body the nation and the world in twentieth century U S history The idea that bodies and bodily characteristics are heavily freighted with values that are often linked to political and social spheres remains underdeveloped in the histories of America s relations with the rest of the world Attentive to diverse state and nonstate actors the contributors provide historically grounded insights into the transnational dimensions of biopolitics Their subjects range from the regulation of prostitution in the Philippines by the U S Army to Cold War ideals of American feminine beauty and from body counts as metrics of military success to cultural representations of Mexican migrants in the United States as public health threats By considering bodies as complex fluctuating and interrelated sites of meaning the contributors to this collection offer new insights into the workings of both soft and hard power Contributors Frank Costigliola Janet M Davis Shanon Fitzpatrick Paul A Kramer Shirley Jennifer Lim Mary Ting Yi Lui Natalia Molina Brenda Gayle Plummer Emily S Rosenberg Kristina Shull Annessa C Stagner Marilyn B Young From Black to Schwarz Maria Diedrich, Jürgen Heinrichs, 2011 From Black to Schwarz explores the long and varied history of the exchanges between African America and Germany with a particular focus on cultural interplay Covering a wide range of media of expression music performance film scholarship literature visual arts reviews the essays collected in this volume trace and analyze a cultural interaction collaboration and mutual transformation that began in the eighteenth century literally boomed during the Harlem Renaissance Weimar Republic could not even be liquidated by the Third Reich's Degenerate Art campaigns and with new media available to further exchanges is still increasingly empowering and inspiring participants on both sides of the Atlantic

How to Make the Body Jennifer Creech, Thomas O. Haakenson, 2022-05-05 How to Make the Body Difference Identity and Embodiment brings together contemporary and historical readings of the body exploring the insights and limits of established and emerging theories of difference identity and embodiment in a variety of German contexts The engaging contributions to this volume utilize and challenge cutting edge approaches to scholarship on the body by putting these approaches in direct conversation with canonical texts and objects as well as with lesser known yet provocative emerging forms To these ends the chapter authors investigate the body through detailed studies across a wide variety of disciplines and modes of expression from advertising aesthetics and pornography to social media scientific experimentation and transnational cultural forms Thus this volume showcases the ways in which the body as such cannot be taken for granted and surmises that the body continues to undergo constant and potentially disruptive diversification and transformation Not So Plain as Black and White Patricia M. Mazón, Reinhild Steingröver, 2005 After World War II brown babies were born to African American GIs stationed in Germany and German mothers Today there are 500 000 Afro Germans in Germany out of a population of 80 million Nevertheless German society still sees them as foreigners assuming they are either African or African American but never German As editors Patricia Mazon and Reinhild Steingrover argue the experience of Afro Germans provides insight into contemporary Germany's transformation willing or not into a multicultural society Furthermore looking at Afro Germans allows us to see another dimension of the ideas of race that shaped the twentieth century and led to the Holocaust Jacket European Others Fatima El-Tayeb, 2011 Considers the complications of race religion sexuality and gender in Europeanizing from below
