I Am a Sidewalk Matt MacGregor, 2015-05-13 Matt wrote this story in 1977 as a sophomore in high school He picked the topic to get points for creativity and improve his chances for a better grade He got a B For him that was a good grade He kept the story in a folder until the mid 1990s when he started to type it up as a short story to put in a magazine He never finished In the back of his mind he wanted it to be a children's book In 2010 Matt asked his old friend Don Huff to help give him pointers Don gave Matt some good ideas and encouraged him to continue He was going to have his sons Collin Dillon and Trevlan illustrate the story They gave him some great ideas This further inspired him to continue His three boys enjoyed the story when it was read to them Maybe they will read it to their children someday As the final writing was being finished Matt's brother Mike sister in law Kathleen nephew Luke brother in law Paul and good friend Kelly made key contributions to the final effort May Matt's spouse patiently let him finish the project in a supportive manner A goal of Matt's is to deliver a copy of this book to his two high school English teachers who graded his English paper Matt learned a lot during the process of turning the original homework assignment into a children's book With the help of Don and others he learned about the power of friendship with patience and persistence to make progress This story is more than just a sidewalk journal It is a reflection on life and speaks to that through the eyes of a sidewalk This story is for all of us not just our children Read it and see what it tells you

Sidewalk Tales Arlene Rogers Wilhite, 2020-10-29 Sidewalk Tales is a compilation of seventeen short stories about events that happened in my life and were centered around happening on sidewalks I always wanted to write about my life story because I felt that I could help someone who might have gone through some of the hardships I did and to share the joys I had as a child and student coming up in the streets and schools of Los Angeles

California This book could have been called porch tales or school tales and even life s tales but Side walk Tales came about as I walk along the sidewalks of San Bernardino California and stumped my toe on a rock that lie on a sidewalk pane I noticed names carved in the cement and became interested in what those names meant Why would anyone write their names in cement particularly across from the San Bernardino train station And as my mind began to create stories about those names I began to wonder about the many times Something had happened to me on a sidewalk and I remember saying if only sidewalks could talk like if the fly on the walk could talk what stories could be told and hence the title of my book came to life What made this slab of cement even more exciting to me is when I mentioned it to one of my step daughters and found out that she and her sister knew the guys whose names were engraved in that cement I knew then it was a sign for me to sit down and write my book I had found my approach because I didn t want to write an autobiography or a wellness book but I wanted to write about my life in a way that was for anyone to understand and with the hopes that it would heal someone This book has been healing for me as a writer who experienced growth from each story held deep within me but I knew it was only through telling my stories would that my healing would come a self healing with a spiritual guidance of some sort and I hope that it is a portal to someone else s wellness for whatever reason is needed The Sidewalk Artist Gina Buonaguro, Janice Kirk, 2008-04 In Europe to research her next novel Tulia Rose a young American woman falls in love with a handsome sidewalk artist who introduces her to Europe s great artistic treasures and inspires her to write the story of the painter Raphael and his secret lover Sidewalk Story Alisa J. Golden, 2012-08-16 There is a story on the sidewalk waiting to be picked up Unlikely objects such as broken fences plum pits discarded papers and pigeons seen on walks in Berkeley New York and Santa Monica are the basis for these twenty six tiny stories and their accompanying photographs Often humorous and occasionally sad these mini fictions take on daily life from odd angles Curious characters witness confusing and surprising events and misplace words and friends Sometimes the picture inspired the story sometimes the story called for the picture You walk by a story every day Now you can pick one up Sexuality, Disability, and Aging Jane Gallop, 2018-12-13 Drawing on her own experiences with late onset disability and its impact on her sex life along with her expertise as a cultural critic Jane Gallop explores how disability and aging work to undermine one s sense of self She challenges common conceptions that equate the decline of bodily potential and ability with a permanent and irretrievable loss arguing that such a loss can be both temporary and positively transformative With Sexuality Disability and Aging Gallop explores and celebrates how sexuality transforms and becomes more queer in the lives of the no longer young and the no longer able while at the same time demonstrating how disability can generate new forms of sexual fantasy and erotic possibility "A Study Guide for Ed McBain's "'On the Sidewalk Bleeding'" Gale, Cengage, 2018-12-13 A Study Guide for Ed McBain s On the Sidewalk Bleeding excerpted from Gale s acclaimed Short Stories for Students This concise study guide includes plot summary character analysis author biography study questions historical context suggestions for further
