Sight Unseen Whiteness And American Visual Culture:

Sight Unseen Martin A. Berger, 2005-11-03 A compelling and challenging work Frances K Pohl author of Framing America Berger is unafraid to tackle the major issues and this book shows it Bruce Robertson author of Marsden Hartley and Reckoning with Winslow Homer Berger writing on topics as diverse as landscape photography and early film pushes into fascinating issues of gender race and class with sensitivity insight and largely jargon free analysis Having made a mark as a key Eakins scholar he promises to achieve a similar feat in Sight Unseen getting us to rethink traditional material in a new light John Wilmerding Christopher Binyon Sarofim Professor of American Art Princeton University Sight Unseen, 2005 Sight Unseen explores how racial identity guides the interpretation of the visual world Through a nimble analysis of late nineteenth and early twentieth century paintings photographs museums and early motion pictures Martin A Berger illustrates how a shared investment in whiteness invisibly guides what European Americans see what they accept as true and ultimately what legal social and economic policies they enact

LaFountain, 2015-01-23 A Companion to American Art presents 35 newly commissioned essays by leading scholars that explore the methodology historiography and current state of the field of American art history Features contributions from a balance of established and emerging scholars art and architectural historians and other specialists Includes several paired essays to emphasize dialogue and debate between scholars on important contemporary issues in American art history Examines topics such as the methodological stakes in the writing of American art history changing ideas about what constitutes Americanness and the relationship of art to public culture Offers a fascinating portrait of the evolution and current state of the field of American art history and suggests future directions of scholarship

The Handbook of Visual Culture Ian Heywood, Barry Sandywell, 2017-04-20 Visual culture has become one of the most dynamic fields of scholarship a reflection of how the study of human culture increasingly requires distinctively visual ways of thinking and methods of analysis Bringing together leading international scholars to assess all aspects of visual culture the Handbook aims to provide a comprehensive and authoritative overview of the subject The Handbook embraces the extraordinary range of disciplines which now engage in the study of the visual film and photography television fashion visual arts digital media geography philosophy architecture material culture sociology cultural studies and art history Throughout the Handbook is responsive to the cross disciplinary nature of many of the key questions raised in visual culture around digitization globalization cyberculture surveillance spectacle and the role of art The Handbook guides readers new to the area as well as experienced researchers into the topics issues and questions that have emerged in the study of visual culture since the start of the new millennium conveying the boldness excitement and vitality of the subject

Painting the Inhabited Landscape Margaretta M. Lovell, 2023-03-27 The impulse in much nineteenth century American painting and culture was to describe nature as a wilderness on which the young nation might freely inscribe its future the United States as a virgin land that is unploughed unfenced and unpainted Insofar as it exhibited evidence of a past its traces pointed to a geologic or cosmic past not a human one The work of the New England artist Fitz H Lane however was decidedly different In this important study Margaretta Markle Lovell singles out the more modestly scaled explicitly inhabited landscapes of Fitz H Lane and investigates the patrons who supported his career with an eye to understanding how New Englanders thought about their land their economy their history and their links with widely disparate global communities Lane s works depict nature as productive and allied in partnership with humans to create a sustainable balanced political economy What emerges from this close look at Lane s New England is a picture not of a virgin wilderness but of a land deeply resonant with its former uses and a human history that incorporates rather than excludes Native Americans as shapers of land and as agents in that history Calling attention to unexplored dimensions of nineteenth century painting Painting the Inhabited Landscape is a major intervention in the scholarship on American art of the period examining how that body of work commented on American culture and informs our understanding of canon formation

The Black Skyscraper Adrienne Brown, 2017-11-15 How did writers and artists view the intersection of architecture and race in the modernist era Winner of the MSA First Book Prize of the Modernist Studies Association With the development of the first skyscrapers in the 1880s urban built environments could expand vertically as well as horizontally Tall buildings emerged in growing cities to house and manage the large and racially diverse populations of migrants and immigrants flocking to their centers following Reconstruction Beginning with Chicago s early 10 story towers and concluding with the 1931 erection of the 102 story Empire State Building Adrienne Brown s The Black Skyscraper provides a detailed account of how scale and proximity shape our understanding of race Over the next half century as city skylines grew American writers imagined the new urban backdrop as an obstacle to racial differentiation Examining works produced by writers painters architects and laborers who grappled with the early skyscraper s outsized and disorienting dimensions Brown explores this architecture s effects on how race was seen read and sensed at the turn of the twentieth century In lesser known works of apocalyptic science fiction light romance and Jazz Age melodrama as well as in more canonical works by W E B Du Bois F Scott Fitzgerald Aaron Douglas and Nella Larsen the skyscraper mediates the process of seeing and being seen as a racialized subject From its distancing apex reducing bodies to specks to the shadowy mega blocks it formed at street level the skyscraper called attention Brown argues to the malleable nature of perception A highly interdisciplinary work The Black Skyscraper reclaims the influence of race on modern architectural design as well as the less well understood effects these designs had on the experience and perception of race

Craft in Art Therapy Lauren Leone, 2020-07-27 Craft in Art Therapy is the first book dedicated to illustrating the incorporation of craft materials and methods into art therapy theory and practice Contributing authors provide examples of how they have used a range of crafts including pottery glass work textiles sewing knitting crochet embroidery and quilting paper artist books altered books book binding origami and zines leatherwork and Indian crafts like mendhi and kolam rangoli in their own art and self care and in individual group and community art therapy practice The book explores the therapeutic benefits of a range of craft materials and media as well as craft s potential to build community to support individuals in caring for themselves and each other and to play a valuable role in art therapy practice Craft in Art Therapy demonstrates that when practiced in a culturally sensitive and socially conscious manner craft practices are more than therapeutic they also hold transformational potential Race and Modern

Architecture Irene Cheng, Charles L. Davis II, Mabel O. Wilson, 2020-05-26 Although race a concept of human difference that establishes hierarchies of power and domination has played a critical role in the development of modern architectural discourse and practice since the Enlightenment its influence on the discipline remains largely underexplored This volume offers a welcome and long awaited intervention for the field by shining a spotlight on constructions of race and their impact on architecture and theory in Europe and North America and across various global contexts since the eighteenth century Challenging us to write race back into architectural history contributors confront how racial thinking has intimately shaped some of the key concepts of modern architecture and culture over time including freedom revolution character national and indigenous style progress hybridity climate representation and radicalism By analyzing how architecture has intersected with histories of slavery colonialism and inequality from eighteenth century neoclassical governmental buildings to present day housing projects for immigrants Race and Modern Architecture challenges complicates and revises the standard association of modern architecture with a universal project of emancipation and progress Picturing Indians Steven D.

Hoelscher, 2008 Having built his reputation on his photographs of the Dells steep gorges and fantastic rock formations H H Bennett turned his camera upon the Ho Chunk and thus began the many layered relationship The interactions between Indian and white man photographer and photographed suggested a relationship in which commercial motives and friendly feelings mixed though not necessarily in equal measure From Black to Schwarz Maria Diedrich, Jürgen Heinrichs, 2011 From Black to Schwarz explores the long and varied history of the exchanges between African America and Germany with a particular focus on cultural interplay Covering a wide range of media of expression music performance film scholarship literature visual arts reviews the essays collected in this volume trace and analyze a cultural interaction collaboration and mutual transformation that began in the eighteenth century literally boomed during the Harlem Renaissance Weimar Republic could not even be liquidated by the Third Reich s Degenerate Art campaigns and with new media available to further exchanges is still increasingly empowering and inspiring participants on both sides of the Atlantic Frederic Church Jennifer Raab, 2015-01-01 A reconsideration of Church s works offering a sustained examination of the aesthetics of detail that fundamentally shaped 19th century American landscape painting Indecent Exposures Sarah

Gordon,2015-10-27 Photographer Eadweard Muybridge 1830 1904 often termed the father of the motion picture presented his iconic Animal Locomotion series in 1887 Produced under the auspices of the University of Pennsylvania and encompassing thousands of photographs of humans and animals in motion the series included more than 300 plates of nude men and women engaged in activities such as swinging a baseball bat playing leapfrog and performing housework an astonishing fact given the period s standards of propriety In the first sustained examination of these nudes and the remarkable success of their production wide circulation and reception Indecent Exposures positions this revolutionary enterprise as central to crucial advancements of the modern era Muybridge s nudes ushered in new attitudes toward science and progress including Darwinian ideas about human evolution and hierarchy quickened debates over the role of photography and scientific investigation in art and offered innovative perspectives on the human body This fascinating story is copiously illustrated and includes many lesser known photographs published here for the first time The Filth of Progress Ryan Dearing,2015-10-30 In America s historical imagination toil and triumph against nature and overwhelming odds characterizes such achievements as the Erie Canal and the transcontinental railroad Triumph transformed canal and railroad entrepreneurs into visionaries whose work brought the nation bountiful riches and did the Lord s bidding Celebrated for their spirit and perseverance in building the nation s infrastructure they found respect for looking to tomorrow and creating a future For generations most indexes of American history supported and reinforced this narrative of progress Yet if this is the historical memory it is conveniently stunted What of those whose bodies strained and broke under the load of such glories What of those men beyond the din and fanfare who only appear in old photographs with faces blurred and indistinguishable In their lives and deaths in the mud muck and mountains is another history of American achievement These barely visible and forgotten ordinary men unskilled immigrants from Ireland and China Mormons and native born American workingmen rank as well as the creators of national growth and progress Their experiences and voices along with those of the privileged and well connected are the subjects of this study I examine the rise of Western canals and railroads to national prominence through the menial labor of countless men largely hidden from view because they left virtually no paper trail who strung together livelihoods at the economic fringes of society This book examines the contest for control of American progress and history as distilled from the competing narratives of canal and railroad construction workers and those fortunate enough to avoid this fate Provided by publisher Unsustainable Empire Dean Itsuji Saranillio,2018-12-21 In a bold challenge to conventional understandings of Hawai i s admission as a U S state Dean Saranillio tracks the disparate stories different groups tell about Hawaiian statehood by returning to historical flashpoints ranging from the turn of the century until shortly after 1959 Colour Steven Peacock,2019-01-04 Colour remains one of the few uncharted territories in writing about film style Colour is the first monograph to deal with the close criticism of film colour across decades and countries Through detailed explorations of films such as Three Colours White and The Green Ray this study offers a way of approaching interpreting and appreciating cinematic colour The book also considers film's ability to place colour in a shifting relationship with all other points of style including camerawork editing performance music and lighting Accessible and inventive in its approach Colour invites the reader to see films differently providing a fresh perspective of this overlooked element of cinema aesthetics

Race and the Senses Christopher Brown, Sachi Sekimoto, 2020-06-08 In Race and the Senses Sachi Sekimoto and Christopher Brown explore the sensorial and phenomenological materiality of race as it is felt and sensed by the racialized subjects Situating the lived body as an active affective and sensing participant in racialized realities they argue that race is not simply marked on our bodies but rather felt and registered through our senses They illuminate the sensorial landscape of racialized world by combining the scholarship in sensory studies phenomenology and intercultural communication Each chapter elaborates on the felt bodily sensations of race racism and racialization that illuminate how somatic labor plays a significant role in the construction of racialized relations of sensing Their thought provoking theorizing about the relationship between race and the senses include race as a sensory assemblage the phenomenology of the racialized face and tongue kinesthetic feelings of blackness as well as the possibility of cross racial empathy Race is not merely socially constructed but multisensorially assembled engaged and experienced Grounded in the authors experiences one as a Japanese woman living in the USA and the other as an African American man from Chicago Race and the Senses is a book about how we feel the racialized world into being

Productive failure Alpesh Kantilal Patel, 2017-07-21 This title sets out to write new transnational South Asian art histories to make visible histories of artworks that remain marginalised within the discipline of art history However this is done through a deliberate productive failure specifically by not upholding the strictly genealogical approach that is regularly assumed for South Asian art histories For instance one chapter explores the abstract work of Cy Twombly and Natvar Bhavsar The author examines whiteness the invisible ground upon which racialized art histories often pivot as a fraught yet productive site for writing art history This book also provides original commentary on how queer theory can deconstruct and provide new approaches for writing art history Overall this title provides methods for generating art history that acknowledge the complex web of factors within which art history is produced and the different forms of knowledge production we might count as art history

Isamu Noguchi S Modernism Amy Lyford, 2013-06-08 In a study that combines archival research a firm grounding in the historical context biographical analysis and sustained attention to specific works of art Amy Lyford provides an account of Isamu Noguchi's work between 1930 and 1950 and situates him among other artists who found it necessary to negotiate the issues of race and national identity In particular Lyford explores Noguchi's sense of his art as a form of social activism and a means of struggling against stereotypes of race ethnicity and national identity Ultimately the aesthetics and rhetoric of American modernism in this period both energized Noguchi's artistic production and constrained his public reputation

Lucky Strikes and a Three Martini Lunch Jennifer C. Dunn, Jimmie Manning, Danielle M. Stern, 2015-10-05 This second edition of Lucky Strikes and a Three Martini Lunch

Thinking About Television's Mad Men explores the attributes of the AMC series that allow it to be such a popular and vital contribution to contemporary cultural discourse. Set in the 1960s in New York, the Emmy and Peabody winning series follows the competitive, seductive, and oftentimes ruthless lives of the men and women of Madison Avenue's advertising agencies. Many alluring and captivating qualities constitute the Mad Men experience: the way it evokes nostalgia even from those who did not live in the era being portrayed; its interrogations of identities and how these explorations of the past illuminate viewers' concepts of the present; the compelling and often heartbreaking relationships between characters trying to make their way in an ever-changing and increasingly complex world; and the titillation of the characters' discovery of the power of mass-mediated communication and its abilities to allow learning, information sharing, manipulation, and connection. Not to mention how their journeys reflect our own in contemporary society. The essays collected in this volume speak to both fans of the show who may not typically embrace theory and criticism as well as those who do. Additionally, this version was designed with educators in mind. It still includes engaging essays that critically analyze the show from a multitude of perspectives, but now they are organized in a way to facilitate easy use in the classroom. This structure allows educators to simply construct and conduct a course using this book as a primary textbook and organize the course according to the way it is laid out. Each chapter provides any type of reader with the opportunity to think about and enjoy the show even after it is no longer on the air.
