Hunsberger, 1996-12-23 An international team of ten specialists in Japanese and American foreign relations address the crucial question what role should Japan play in international affairs This question has not found a fully satisfactory answer since the forced opening to foreign contacts in the mid nineteenth century Having copied foreign models and achieved a series of stunning successes and some failures in many aspects of private and public life Japan today stands at a pinnacle of economic power and affluence Despite this both economics and politics are undergoing major strains and changes during the 1990s and the quest for true internationalization is fraught with problems and only partially fulfilled This book is a joint project of the American University in Washington and Ritsumeikan University in Kyoto Modernities Peter James Taylor, 1999-01-01 A thoroughly readable far reaching analysis of modernity and the modern this book focuses on the specific periods and places where ideas and practices of being modern are created and challenged Peter J Taylor contends that modernity is a multiple phenomenon that is different modern times and different modern spaces exist in a world of multiple modernities He argues that three prime modernities have been defined by the development of the modern world from mercantile modernity to British led industrial modernity to today s American led consumer modernity and illustrates the cultural expression of these modernities as acts of the ordinary such as paintings the home and the suburbs In a masterly analysis of politics and the state in terms of the modern Taylor shows how each political organization of a particular modernity creates an appropriate political reaction for instance the socialism prompted by British modernity and the environmentalism called forth by American modernity In noting the tendency of states to create spaces and eschew places he draws an intriguing parallel between nation states and home households Taylor describes the project of Americanization as a new form of modernity and also suggests an end to American hegemony Illuminating the Renaissance Thomas Kren, Scot McKendrick, 2003-07-01 This comprehensive and richly illustrated catalogue focuses on the finest illustrated manuscripts produced in Europe during the great epoch in Flemish illumination During this aesthetically fertile period beginning in 1467 with the reign of the Burgundian duke Charles the Bold and ending in 1561 with the death of the artist Simon Bening the art of book painting was raised to a new level of sophistication Sharing inspiration with the celebrated panel painters of the time illuminators achieved astonishing innovations in the handling of color light texture and space creating a naturalistic style that would dominate tastes throughout Europe for nearly a century Centering on the notable artists of the period Simon Marmion the Vienna Master of Mary of Burgundy Gerard David Gerard Horenbout Bening and others the catalogue examines both devotional and secular manuscript illumination within a broad context the place of illuminators within the visual arts including artistic exchange between book painters and panel painters the role of court patronage and the emergence of personal libraries and the
