Jago,1983 The fourth international symposium on Antarctic Earth Sciences took place in Adelaide South Australia during the week 16 20 August 1982 This volume contains a record of the centenary activities celebrating Sir Douglas Mawson and the one hundred and seventy four papers that were presented by delegates for discussion over the five days Sir Douglas Mawson was part of the first team to reach the magnetic South Pole a leading geologist and scientific figure during the heroic age of of antarctic exploration The papers presented during the symposium were divided into fifteen categories covering east and west Antarctica marine land and glacial geology plate tectonics islands peninsulas climatic change and Precambrian and Cenozoic era activity The two hundred persons from sixteen countries who attended the symposium brought together a wide range of the most current expertise and research to share of which this volume provides a record

The Nonmarine Triassic Spencer G. Lucas,Michael Morales,

The Transantarctic Mountains Gunter Faure,Teresa M. Mensing,2010-09-21 This book presents a summary of the geology of the Transantarctic Mountains for Earth scientists who may want to work there or who need an overview of the geologic history of this region In addition the properties of the East Antarctic ice sheet and of the meteorites that accumulate on its surface are treated in separate chapters The presentation ends with the Cenozoic glaciation of the Transantarctic Mountains including the limnology and geochemical evolution of the saline lakes in the ice free valleys The subject matter in this book is presented in chronological order starting about 750 million years ago and continuing to the present time The chapters can be read selectively because the introduction to each chapter identifies the context that gives relevance to the subject matter to be discussed The text is richly illustrated with 330 original line drawings as well as with 182 color maps and photographs The book contains indexes of both subject matter and of authors names that allow it to be used as an encyclopedia of the Transantarctic Mountains and of the East Antarctic ice sheet Most of the chapters are supplemented by Appendices containing data tables additional explanations of certain phenomena e g the formation and seasonal destruction of stratospheric ozone and illustrative calculations e g ^{38}Cl dates of meteorites The authors have spent a combined total of fourteen field seasons between 1964 and 1995 doing geological research in the Transantarctic Mountains with logistical support by the US Antarctic Program Although Antarctica is remote and inaccessible tens of thousands of scientists of many nationalities and their assistants have worked there and even larger numbers of investigators will work there in the future
