Quest - Scheme of Work Alan Coulson,2000-10 The Medieval Antecedents of English Agricultural Progress

Bruce M.S. Campbell,2023-05-31 Until recently historians tended to stress the perceived technological and ecological shortcomings of medieval agriculture The ten essays assembled in this volume offer a contrary view Based upon close documentary analysis of the demesne farms managed for and by lords they show that by 1300 in the most commercialized parts of England production decisions were based upon relative factor costs and commodity prices Moreover when and where economic conditions were ripe and environmental and institutional circumstances favourable medieval cultivators successfully secured high and ecologically sustainable levels of land productivity They achieved this by integrating crop and livestock production into the sort of manure intensive systems of mixed husbandry which later underpinned the more celebrated output growth of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries If medieval agriculture failed to fulfill the production potential provided by wider adoption of such systems this is more appropriately explained by the want of the kind of market incentives that might have justified investment innovation and specialization on the scale that characterized the so called agricultural revolution than either the lack of appropriate agricultural technology or the innate backwardness of medieval cultivators

Rural Life Charles Josiah Galpin,1918 The purpose of this book is to instigate observation of local conditions study of the community and confident self reliant action among and for country people Rural life has changed markedly and will continue to do so On farms and in farming towns human forces are striving for expression and human society needs active energetic participation to change successfully Country dwellers are no longer isolated from their urban fellows and as such can contribute much to solving the current problems of rural life The Pre-industrial Cities and Technology Reader

Colin Chant,1999 Compiled as a reference source for students this Reader is divided into three main sections presenting key readings on Ancient Cities Medieval and Early Modern Cities and Pre Industrial Cities in China and Africa Societies,

Cultures and Kinship 1580-1850 Charles Phythian-Adams,2010-07-15 This work maps the cultural and physical divisions of medieval England It concentrates on the level of hierarchy immediately above individual local societies using detailed case studies of networks of linked communities in the East Midlands the South and East Anglia The societies studied are respectively on the periphery of a cultural province central to another such province and linked closely to a major urban centre The text is a synthesis of modern continental historical scholarship social anthropological and geographical techniques and English medieval history Included in the investigations are findings about the role of women in defining the sense of local community during the medieval period Women, Family, and Society in Medieval Europe David Herlihy,1995 A selection of Herlihy s essays compiled as a tribute to his influence His particular interest in the nature of the family and the role of women within that unit is amply reflected in this volume Articles include Did women have a renaissance The Florentine Merchant family in the Middle Ages Biology and History Suggestions for a Dialogue Early Christian Encounters with Town and Countryside Markus Tiwald,Jürgen Zangenberg,2021-04-12 Ever since Jesus walked the hills of Galilee and Paul travelled the roads of Asia Minor and Greece Christianity has shown a remarkable ability to adapt itself to various social and cultural environments Recent research has demonstrated that these environments can only be very insufficiently termed as rural or urban Neither was Jesus Galilee only rural nor Paul s Asia only urban On the background of ongoing research on the diversity of social environments in the Early Empire this volume will focus on various early Christian worlds as witnessed in canonical and non canonical texts How did Early Christians experience and react to rural and urban life What were the mechanisms behind this adaptability Papers will analyze the relation between urban Christian beginnings and the role of the rural Jesus tradition In what sense did the image of Jesus the Galilean village Jew change when his message was carried into the cities of the Mediterranean world from Jerusalem to Athens or Rome Papers will not only deal with various personalities or literary works whose various attitudes towards urban life became formative for future Christianity They will also explore the different local milieus that demonstrate the wide range of Christian cultural perspectives Field Systems and Farming Systems in Late Medieval England Bruce M.S. Campbell,2023-05-31 The later Middle Ages was an overwhelmingly rural world with probably three out of four households reliant upon farming for a living Yet conventional accounts of the period rarely do justice to the variety of ways in which the land was managed and worked The thirteen essays collected in this volume draw upon the abundant documentary evidence of the period to explore that diversity In the process they engage with the issue of classification without which effective generalisation is impossible and offer a series of solutions to that particularly thorny methodological challenge Only through systematic and objective classification is it possible to differentiate between and map different field systems husbandry types and land use categories That in turn makes it possible to consider and evaluate the relative roles of soils and topography institutional structures and commercialised market demand in shaping farm enterprise both during the period of mounting population before the Black Death and the long era of demographic decline that followed it What emerges is an agrarian world more commercialised differentiated and complex than is usually appreciated whose institutional and agronomic contours shaped the course of agricultural development for centuries to come World History in the Making Albert Edward McKinley,Arthur Charles Howland,Matthew Lincoln Dann,1927 Back Roads Italy DK Publishing,2010-02-15 Back Roads of Italy opens with a brief portrait of the country and then moves on to provide all the practical information required to plan a driving vacation how to get there bringing your own vehicle and options for renting and detailed driving advice The main section divides into numbered drives following a logical progression around each country Each drive features highlights and itinerary spreads for an overview and planning followed by extensive descriptions of each sight and activity with clear driving instructions between A language section at the
