Mediating

Knowledges Gwyneira Isaac, 2022-03-29 This book tells the story of the search by the Zuni people for a culturally relevant public institution to help them maintain their heritage for future generations Using a theoretical perspective grounded in knowledge systems it examines how Zunis developed the A shiwi A wan Museum and Heritage Center to mediate between Zuni and Anglo American values of history and culture By using in depth interviews previously inaccessible archival records and extensive ethnographic observations Gwyneira Isaac provides firsthand accounts of the Zunis and non Zunis involved in the development of the museum These personal narratives provide insight into the diversity of perspectives found within the community as well as tracing the ongoing negotiation of the relationship between Zuni and Anglo American cultures In particular Isaac examines how Zunis who transmit knowledge about their history through oral tradition and initiation into religious societies must navigate the challenge of utilizing Anglo American museum practices which privilege technology that aids the circulation of knowledge beyond its original narrators This book provides a much needed contemporary ethnography of a Pueblo community recognized for its restrictive approach to outside observers The complex interactions between Zunis

and anthropologists explored here however reveal not only Puebloan but also Anglo American attitudes toward secrecy and the control of knowledge

Cultural Memories of Nonviolent Struggles A. Reading, T. Katriel, 2015-06-09 If societies have only memories of war of cruelty of violence then why are we called humankind This book marks a new trajectory in Memory Studies by examining cultural memories of nonviolent struggles from ten countries The book reminds us of the enduring cultural scripts for human agency solidarity resilience and human kindness

Intercultural Alliances Mary Jane Collier, 2003 The 25th volume of the International and Intercultural Communication Annual offers a variety of perspectives on culture identity and the formation of personal and political alliances

Dance and Authenticity in Israel and Palestine Elke Kaschl, 2003-08-01 Dance and Authenticity is an ethnography of dance performance and cultural form It describes how dabkeh a type of dance performed at Palestinian weddings became a model for the Israeli Jewish debkah as a means of affirming Israeli Jewish belonging and common society The Palestinian dabkeh in turn acquired nationalist meanings especially after the 1967 war and the occupation of the West Bank The book traces the history of these competing and conflicting dance forms basing the argument principally on the ethnographic study of two Palestinian and one Israeli Jewish dance group conducted between 1998 and 1999 The result is a fascinating parallel ethnography showing how the ethnography of dance forms contributes to evolving notions of collective national and political identity in a context of unequal power

Legacies of an Imperial City Samuel Aylett, 2022-12-30 This comprehensive history of the Museum of London traces the ways that the relationship between Britain and its imperial past has changed over the course of three decades providing a holistic approach to galleries shifts from Victorian nostalgia to equitable representations At its 1976 opening the Museum of London differed from other museums in its treatment of empire and colonialism as central to its galleries In response to the public s evolving social and political attitudes the museum s 1993 1994 The Peopling of London exhibition marked a new approach in creating inclusive displays which explore the impact of immigration and multiculturalism on British history Through photos planning documents and archival research this book analyses museums role in enacting change in the public s understanding of history and this book is the first to critically engage with the Museum of London s theme of empire particularly in consideration of recent exhibitions Legacies of an Imperial City is a useful resource for academics and researchers of postcolonial history and museum studies as well as any student of urban history

Media, Ritual and Identity James Curran, Tamar Liebes, 2002-09-11 Media Ritual and Identity examines the role of the media in society its complex influence on democratic processes and its participation in the construction and affirmation of different social identities It draws extensively upon cultural anthropology and combines a commanding overview of contemporary media debates with a series of fascinating case studies ranging from political ritual on television to broadcasting in the third world

Remembering Empire Karudapuram Eachambadi Supriya, 2004 Based on an ethnography of Fort St George Museum in Chennai formerly Madras India Remembering Empire explores the public and private politics of preserving the memory of the British period in the former seat of the British East India Company K E Supriya shows how the preservation of artifacts and paintings from the British period has become a means through which the imperialist politics of empire are reworked in the cultural memory of the South Indian people Fieldwork in the museum and extensive interviews across three generations show how Indians reconcile with the Britishness of Indian identity Woven throughout is the author's probing commentary on the significance of affirmative conversations about racialized pasts in the United States Remembering Empire is essential reading for anyone interested in postcolonial India and the politics of cultural memory

The Remembered and Forgotten Jewish World Daniel J. Walkowitz, 2018-09-05 In the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries the Jewish socialist movement played a vital role in protecting workers rights throughout Europe and the Americas Yet few traces of this movement or its accomplishments have been preserved or memorialized in Jewish heritage sites The Remembered and Forgotten Jewish World investigates the politics of heritage tourism and collective memory In an account that is part travelogue part social history and part family saga acclaimed historian Daniel J Walkowitz visits key Jewish museums and heritage sites from Berlin to Belgrade from Krakow to Kiev and from Warsaw to New York to discover which stories of the Jewish experience are told and which are silenced As he travels to thirteen different locations participates in tours displays and public programs and gleans insight from local historians he juxtaposes the historical record with the stories presented in heritage tourism What he finds raises provocative questions about the heritage tourism industry and its role in determining how we perceive Jewish history and identity This book offers a unique perspective on the importance of collective memory and the dangers of collective forgetting

Gesher Olga Gershenson, 2005 Gesher Theatre opened in 1990 as a marginal immigrant troupe in Tel Aviv and soon became one of the most popular innovative theatres in Israel It has now achieved international acclaim However because its bilingual performances and multicultural cast challenge cornerstones of

Zionism the mainstream Israeli media constantly debate Gesher's position Gesher Russian Theatre in Israel A Study of Cultural Colonization discusses Gesher's history and analyzes its controversial media reception What emerges is an extension of postcolonial theory to new cultural contexts leading to a groundbreaking model of interethnic relations This book will be of value to scholars of cultural studies and immigration as well as to anyone interested in contemporary Israeli culture Book Jacket

The Art of Being Jewish in Modern Times Barbara Kirshenblatt-Gimblett, Jonathan Karp, 2008 This richly illustrated volume illuminates how the arts have helped Jews confront the challenges of modernity There truly is an art to being Jewish in the modern world or alternatively an art to being modern in the Jewish world and this collection fully captures its range diversity and historical significance

A Pedagogy of Witnessing Roger I. Simon, 2014-08-18 This outstanding comparative study on the curating of difficult knowledge focuses on two museum exhibitions that presented the same lynching photographs Through a detailed description of the exhibitions and drawing on interviews with museum staff and visitor comments Roger I Simon explores the affective challenges to thought that lie behind the different curatorial frameworks and how viewers' comments on the exhibitions perform a particular conversation about race in America He then extends the discussion to include contrasting exhibitions of photographs of atrocities committed by the German army on the Eastern Front during World War II as well as to photographs taken at the Khmer Rouge S 21 torture and killing center With an insightful blending of theoretical and qualitative analysis Simon proposes new conceptualizations for a contemporary public pedagogy dedicated to bearing witness to the documents of racism

Methods of Exploring Emotions Helena Flam, Jochen Kleres, 2015-03-24 Gathering scholars from different disciplines this book is the first on how to study emotions using sociological historical linguistic anthropological psychological cultural and mixed approaches Bringing together the emerging lines of inquiry it lays foundations for an overdue methodological debate The volume offers entrancing short essays richly illustrated with examples and anecdotes that provide basic knowledge about how to pursue emotions in texts interviews observations spoken language visuals historical documents and surveys The contributors are respectful of those being researched and are mindful of the effects of their own feelings on the conclusions The book thus touches upon the ethics of research in vivid first person accounts Methods are notoriously difficult to teach this collection fills the gap between dry methods books and students need to know more about the actual research practice

Difficult Heritage Sharon Macdonald, 2010-10-04 How does a city and a nation deal with a legacy of perpetrating atrocity How are contemporary identities negotiated and shaped in the face of concrete reminders of a past that most wish they did not have Focusing on the case of Nuremberg this text explores these questions and their implications

Varieties of Narrative Analysis James A. Holstein, Jaber F. Gubrium, 2011-08-05 Narrative research has become increasingly popular in the social sciences While no part of the process is easy researchers often struggle to make sense of data that can seem chaotic and without a discernable pattern This book shows how to analyze stories storytelling and stories in society bringing together a variety of approaches to both texts and narrative practice under one cover Defiant Discourse Tamar Katriel, 2020-10-29 In this timely and innovative book Tamar Katriel takes a language and discourse centred approach to the subject of peace activism in Israel Palestine one of the most significant political issues of our time while also posing more general questions about the role played by language in activist movements how activists themselves conceptualize their speech and its relationship to action Viewing activism as a globalized cultural formation that gives shape and meaning to grassroots organizations struggles for political change this book explores the relations between the cultural categories of speech and action as constructed and evaluated in activist contexts It focuses on the specific empirical field of defiant discourse associated with the soldierly role in Israeli culture using it to offer an in depth exploration of the cultural underpinnings of defiant speech Katriel interrogates discourse centered activism as part of social movements action repertoires on the one hand and of the local cultural construction of speech cultures on the other This is critical reading for all students and scholars studying activism and social movements within linguistics Middle Eastern studies peace studies and communication studies Jewish Studies at the Crossroads of Anthropology and History Ra'anan S. Boustan, Oren Kosansky, Marina Rustow, 2011-01-24 Over the past several decades the field of Jewish studies has expanded to encompass an unprecedented range of research topics historical periods geographic regions and analytical approaches Yet there have been few systematic efforts to trace these developments to consider their implications and to generate new concepts appropriate to a more inclusive view of Jewish culture and society Jewish Studies at the Crossroads of Anthropology and History brings together scholars in anthropology history religious studies comparative literature and other fields to chart new directions in Jewish studies across the disciplines This groundbreaking volume explores forms of Jewish experience that span the period from antiquity to the present and encompass a wide range of textual ritual spatial and visual materials The essays give full consideration to non written expressions of ritual performance artistic production spoken narrative and social experience through which Jewish life emerges More than simply contributing to an appreciation of Jewish diversity the contributors devote their attention to three key concepts authority diaspora and tradition that have long been central to the study of Jews and Judaism Moving beyond inherited approaches and conventional academic boundaries the volume reconsiders these core concepts reorienting our understanding of the dynamic relationships between text and practice and continuity and change in Jewish contexts More broadly this volume furthers conversation across the disciplines by using Judaic studies to provoke inquiry into theoretical problems in a range of other areas
