Pastoralist Resilience to Environmental Collapse in East Africa since 1500 Gufu Oba, 2024-02-23 This book explores pastoralist farmers approaches to environmental disaster management in East Africa charting their responses and adaptations to famine pandemics natural disasters and historical events Using a dynamic adaptive cycle theoretical framework it uses social memory to reconstruct an event history calendar thus combining social memory and written historical records to reconstruct the adaptive strategies of pastoralists It explores the climate history of the southern Ethiopian and northern Kenyan frontier considering in particular the impact of the colonial period and independence thereafter providing a significant contribution to debates in African environmental history

The Mudimbe Reader V. Y. Mudimbe, 2016-10-17 A prominent francophone thinker and writer from sub Saharan Africa V Y Mudimbe is known for his efforts to bridge Western and African modes of knowledge and for his critiques of a range of disciplines from classics and philosophy to anthropology and comparative literature The Mudimbe Reader offers for the first time a ground breaking work of modern intellectual African history from this essential postcolonial thinker including new translations of essays previously unavailable in English Constituting an intellectual history of the humanities in the late twentieth century from an African intellectual s point of view The Mudimbe Reader provides an introduction and a comprehensive bibliography that frame four thematic gatherings of Mudimbe s writings Part 1 bears witness to Mudimbe s attempts as a university professor in the new nation state of Zaire to balance the postindependence discourse of authenticity with his training in Western philosophy and philology Part 2 focuses on Mudimbe s exploration of racial ethnic and religious discourses to reflect upon postcolonialism in Zaire and in the United States In the third part Mudimbe interrogates ancient Greek and Latin texts as a strategy to engage the legacy of antiquity for European and African modernity Finally the book concludes by focusing on visual culture and Mudimbe s recurring attempt to elucidate how African primitiveness has been constructed challenged dismissed and reinvented from the Renaissance to the present day

Pastoralists at the Periphery Claudia Chang, Harold Albert Koster, 1994-05 A Baluch tribesman follows his goats as they search for a bit of vegetation a Turkana youth guards his father s cattle against theft by raiders These pastoral inhabitants of mountain and desert waste are considered to be among the most geographically economically and politically peripheral of peoples yet they are not entirely isolated from broader sociopolitical and economic forces The lives of modern pastoralists are greatly affected by the policies of nations and the demands of world markets They may face military control forced settlement stock reduction programs or even efforts at development by governments claiming sovereignty over the lands they roam The authors of this collection of essays examine the impact of capitalism on nineteenth and early twentieth century pastoralists and discuss the historical transformations that have occurred in the lives and societies of herding peoples around the world They argue that pastoralists were not simply passive recipients of change imposed by capitalist polities and that historical and economic factors impinging on their societies were as important as ecological ones Collectively these papers demonstrate that twentieth century pastoralists and their nineteenth century predecessors should not be seen as immutably locked in a pastoral mode of production but rather as actively negotiating encounters between themselves and the expanding power of capitalist states

Deconstruction and the Postcolonial Michael Syrotinski, 2007-09-01 As postcolonial studies shifts to a more comparative approach one of the most intriguing developments has been within the Francophone world A number of genealogical lines of influence are now being drawn connecting the work of the three figures most associated with the emergence of postcolonial theory Homi Bhabha Edward Said and Gayatri Spivak to an earlier generation of French predominantly poststructuralist theorists Within this emerging narrative of intellectual influences the importance of the thought of Jacques Derrida and the status of deconstruction generally has been acknowledged but has not until now been adequately accounted for In Deconstruction and the Postcolonial Michael Syrotinski teases out the underlying conceptual tensions and theoretical stakes of what he terms a deconstructive postcolonialism and argues that postcolonial studies stands to gain ground in terms of its political forcefulness and philosophical rigour by turning back to and not away from deconstruction

Singular Performances Michael Syrotinski, 2002 Francophone African writing is often concerned with questions of subjectivity and narrative agency and it is this focus Michael Syrotinski takes as his point of departure in Singular Performances Using the work of V Y Mudimbe as a major theoretical reference Syrotinski sets up a number of original dialogues between francophone African literature African philosophy literary theory postcolonial studies cinema cultural studies and history to arrive at the notion of a performative reinscription of subjectivity Singular Performances covers a wide range of francophone African writers each of whom is read within a broader theoretical context related to African subjectivity Mudimbe and the philosophical subject Aoua K ita and autobiography Bernard Dadi and ethnographic irony Ousmane Sembene and Tierno Mon nembo and the cinematic imagination V ronique Tadjo and Werewere Liking and the female writing subject and Sony Labou Tansi and the spectral subject In this skillful interdisciplinary weaving together of contemporary theory and literature the focus on the francophone African subject allows for a richer appreciation of the texture and rhetoric of the language of the texts themselves What emerges from this study is the subject understood not as a single homogenized entity but as a plural celebration of singular francophone African subjectivities sustained collaboration on all aspects of the study from design and interview protocol development to data collection and analysis through dissemination This book becomes then an invaluable model for how to do thoughtful collaborative comparative research

Faith, Morality and Being Irish Philip Leroy Kilbride, Noel J. J. Farley, 2007 In the minds of many the nineteenth century Irish famine seemed to create an environment that later produced an avoidance of marriage drunkenness violence and mental illness If ever predominant in Irish cultural behavior those moments have passed As a result Professors Philip L Kilbride and Noel J J Farley outline the positive contributions the contemporary Irish make to the world around them particularly Africa From this generosity emerges as a major Irish cultural virtue The authors trace it from the Celtic period showing how it became a central concern of Roman Catholics from the nineteenth century to today Professors Kilbride and Farley use ethnographic techniques and narrative perspective to focus on the life of an Irish entrepreneur and philanthropist who has lived in Africa since 1970 They also illuminate the missionary work in Kenya of an Irish Jesuit and others of Irish heritage there These accounts coupled with other narratives and historical evidence detail the prevalence and practice of Irish generosity to further document what they conclude is an Irish caring tradition This volume will be of interest to a wide audience including anthropologists economists historians philosophers political scientists sociologists theologians and Irish and African studies programs It is accessible to undergraduate and graduate students as a supplemental reading within the varieties of fields aforementioned Book jacket College For Sale Wesley Shumar, 2013-10-23 This text provides a framework for understanding higher education in the US and other western countries since the 1970s whereby the logic of the market place has increasingly come to dominate all arenas and in context the education system The author calls this process commodification and he describes the transformation of universities in the US and elsewhere as they attempt to accomodate the enforced changes on their academic lives and those of their students The book chronicles changes with the increasing focus on career and the movement towards the instrumental functions of education the financial crisis and the development of a more corporate approach to education of consumption that produce universities heavy with expensive well equipped and powerful administrations and decreasing numbers of ever more disenfranchised faculty
