Sussman, Suzanne K. Steinmetz, Gary W. Peterson, 2013-06-29 To know where we are going as scholars educators and practitioners in the field of marriage and family life we first need to know where we have been A perusal of early texts on marriage and family life provides some thought provoking insights into the accuracy of the saying what goes around comes around It is interesting to note who has been considered to be in a position to provide information on marriage and family life Included in the eclectic collection of texts we reviewed were ministers whose focus was on spirituality doctors who emphasized medical aspects of child and adult health and public health professionals and home economists concerned with fighting disease who emphasized cleanliness order fighting germs and eliminating rodents and insects There are also philosophers who drew from ancient texts when discussing family life and a count who assembled a group of German intellectual elites to address various topics An insightful essay of this type is by Marta Karlweis 1926 in which she notes There is no other fetish that society holds to so firmly as the conception woman with all its usual associations of infantilism and dependence The child requires protection is a minor and consequently a serf but above all it possesses no spiritual existence Neither doctorates or other distinctions nor the right to vote have as yet been able to dispel this sweet idea of the childishness of woman which man cherishes p

Continuity and Change in Family Relations Rand D. Conger, Frederick O. Lorenz, K.A.S. Wickrama, 2004-04-12 This volume focuses on the study of both continuity change in family relationships Each chapter addresses a substantive issue in research on changes in family relationships also directs the reader's attention to the methods employed how they

Effects of Alevi-Sunni Marriages on Children's Religious Education and Family Relations Dr. Fatma Kurttekin, 2024-12-31 In this study the views of parents in Alevi Sunni marriages on the phenomenon of religion and their children's religious education are examined While there has been a growing body of research on the role and significance of religion in Alevi Sunni families limited attention has been paid to their attitudes towards their children's religious education particularly within the context of cross religious marriages Based on this this study aims to fill this research gap by examining the perspectives of parents in Alevi Sunni marriages on their children's religious education and family dynamics using qualitative methods to provide in depth insights Ten families living in Sivas Ankara and Tunceli who were contacted through snowball and purposive sampling participated in the study in which qualitative research techniques were used The data used in the study were collected through questionnaires and semi structured interview forms The data was analyzed with the content analysis. It was determined that the Alevi-Sunni difference did not have a significant impact on the participants' religious attitudes or their children's religious education. Almost all parents stated that they wanted their children to choose their own path by acquiring experience and knowledge about both religious interpretations and understandings. The study identified two primary areas of difficulty in Alevi-Sunni families: familial opposition to the participants' decision to marry and conflicts surrounding the children's religious education. These tensions may stem from societal pressures to conform to sectarian norms and the fear of losing religious identity through cross-mixed intrafaith marriages. Such pressures highlight the need for open dialogue and acceptance within families, which many participants reported as key to resolving conflicts. The provision of religious education in the family and the religious identity of children have been discussed in a separate study. Therefore, in this study, participants' views on compulsory religious education activities, which are also a subject of debate in society, were evaluated. In parallel with the findings in the literature, the participants' opinions were grouped into three categories: namely, abolishing the courses, making the courses optional, and improving the courses along with preserving their compulsory status. Following the interviews, it was seen that the participants could have arguments mostly due to external factors and that their own religious understanding did not have any impact on family life, religious attitudes, or child rearing. Attention was drawn to the need for freedom from prejudices, acceptance of the other as he/she is, honesty, trust, and a communicative environment of dialogue in order to reduce the tension in these two areas.

Handbook of Marriage and the Family Gary W. Peterson, Kevin R. Bush, 2012-09-14 The third edition of Handbook of Marriage and the Family describes, analyzes, synthesizes, and critiques the current research and theory about family relationships, family structural variations, and the role of families in society. This updated Handbook provides the most comprehensive state-of-the-art assessment of the existing knowledge of family life with particular attention to variations due to gender, socioeconomic, race, ethnic, cultural, and life-style diversity. The Handbook also aims to provide the best synthesis of our existing scholarship on families that will be a primary source for scholars and professionals but also serve as the primary graduate text for graduate courses on family relationships and the roles of families in society. In addition, the involvement of chapter authors from a variety of fields, including family psychology, family sociology, child development, family studies, public health, and family therapy, gives the Handbook a multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary framework.

Research Handbook on Couple and Family Relationships Nickola C. Overall, Jeffry A. Simpson, Justin A. Lavner, 2025-01-09 This prescient Research Handbook facilitates the integration between two substantial yet often separate fields: the study of couple relationships and the study of family relationships. An array of expert contributors provide an up-to-date understanding of these important bonds, highlighting opportunities for consolidation and growth and identifying new avenues of research.

The Family and Family Relationships, 1500-1900 Rosemary O'Day, 1994-10-26 While historians have written with ease about the state and the church, the family has so far defied historical analysis. As the primary cell of human social organisation upon which both state and church depend it is of crucial importance In this concise informative and stimulating book Rosemary O Day seeks to explain the difficulties facing the historian of the family and to suggest strategies for their solution She compares families and households in time space and economy over the period 1500 1914 and draws together the important existing work International bibliography of research in marriage and the family Joan Aldous,1967

A Reading and Study Guide for Students in Marriage and Family Relations Lester Allen Kirkendall,1965 Handbook of Marriage and the Family Suzanne K. Steinmetz,Marvin B. Sussman,2013-11-11 The lucid straightforward Preface of this Handbook by the two editors and the comprehensive perspectives offered in the Introduction by one of them leave little for a Foreword to add It is therefore limited to two relevant but not intrinsically related points vis a vis research on marriage and the family in the interval since the first Handbook Christensen 1964 appeared namely the impact on this research of the politicization of the New Right and of the Feminist Enlightenment beginning in the mid sixties about the time of the first Handbook In the late 1930s Willard Waller noted Fifty years or more ago about 1890 most people had the greatest respect for the institution called the family and wished to learn nothing whatever about it Everything that concerned the life of men and women and their children was shrouded from the light Today much of that has been changed Gone is the concealment of the way in which life begins gone the irrational sanctity of the home The aura of sentiment which once protected the family from discussion clings to it no more We want to learn as much about it as we can and to understand it as thoroughly as possible for there is a rising recognition in America that vast numbers of its families are sick from internal frustrations and from external buffeting We are engaged in the process of reconstructing our family institutions through criticism and discussion 1938 pp 3 4 Cohabitation and the Evolving Nature of Intimate and Family Relationships Sampson Lee Blair,Yongjun Zhang,2023-12-08 Given the tremendous diversity in cohabiting couples as well as the increasing prominence of this form of intimate relationships this volume provides a more thorough comprehension of the structures effects and intimate practice of cohabitation around the world Family Ties and Aging Ingrid Arnet Connidis,Amanda E.
