Ethnicity, Nationalism and Conflict in the South Caucasus Ohannes Geukjian, 2016-05-13 This book examines the underlying factors of the Nagorno Karabakh conflict in the South Caucasus from 1905 to 1994 and explores the ways in which issues of ethnicity and nationalism contributed to that conflict. The author examines the historiography and politics of the conflict and the historical territorial and ethnic dimensions which contributed to the dynamics of the war. The impact of Soviet policies and structures are also included pinpointing how they contributed to the development of nationalism and the maintenance of national identities. The book firstly explores the historical development of the Armenian and Azerbaijani national identities and the overlapping claims to the territory of Nagorno Karabakh. The author goes on to assess the historical link between ethnicity and territorial location as sources of ethnic identification and conflict. He examines how identity differences shaped the relations between Armenians and Azerbaijanis during the different phases of conflict and presents a detailed historical account of Soviet nationalities policy and ethno territorial federalism the basis of which ethnic relations were conducted between governing and minority nations in the south Caucasus. This invaluable book offers students and scholars of post Soviet politics and society a unique insight into the causes and consequences of this long standing conflict.

Sedimentary Basin Tectonics from the Black Sea and Caucasus to the Arabian Platform Marc Sosson, 2010 This wide area of the Alpine Himalayan belt evolved through a series of tectonic events related to the opening and closure of the Tethys Ocean. In doing so it produced the largest mountain belt of the world which extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans. The basins associated with this belt contain invaluable information related to mountain building processes and are the locus of rich hydrocarbon accumulations. However knowledge about the geological evolution of the region is limited compared to what they offer.

Non-traditional Security Threats and Regional Cooperation in the Southern Caucasus Mustafa Aydın, 2011 This book contains 16 papers presented at the workshop Non Traditional Security Threats and Regional Cooperation in the Southern Caucasus which was held in Istanbul Turkey in October 2009. Whilst the Cold War did not exclude the existence of other threats such as environmental hazards organized crime terrorism economic instability and illegal immigration it is only since the emphasis on East West rivalry and the specter of nuclear confrontation between the two blocs have diminished that these have become articulated as major sources of concern for global security.

Negotiating Armenian-Azerbaijani Peace Ohannes Geukjian, 2016-04-22 Conflict resolution conflict management and conflict transformations are major themes in this unique book which examines explores and analyses the mediation attempts of the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe in the Nagorno Karabakh conflict. Ohannes Geukjian shows the most striking characteristic of a protracted internal conflict such as this is its asymmetry and explains that without meeting basic human needs like identity recognition security and participation resolving any protracted social conflict is very difficult. The Armenian Azerbaijani case demonstrates how official diplomacy may not be able to solve protracted internal conflicts as without addressing the real causes of the problematic relationship attempts at peace making will always be sporadic and the space for mutual understanding and compromise shrink Geukjian shows that conflict transformation has a particular salience in asymmetric conflicts such as this where the goal is to transform unjust relationships and where a high degree of polarisation between the disputants has taken root Using the Nagorno Karabakh case this book focuses on the anatomy and causes of deadlock in negotiations and highlights the many difficulties in achieving a breakthrough
