Look to the North Star Victor Ullman, 1994 Fugitive Slaves and Spaces of Freedom in North America Damian Alan Pargas, 2020-09-08 This volume introduces a new way to study the experiences of runaway slaves by defining different spaces of freedom they inhabited It also provides a groundbreaking continental view of fugitive slave migration moving beyond the usual regional or national approaches to explore locations in Canada the U S North and South Mexico and the Caribbean Using newspapers advertisements and new demographic data contributors show how events like the Revolutionary War and westward expansion shaped the slave experience Contributors investigate sites of formal freedom where slavery was abolished and refugees were legally free to determine the extent to which fugitive slaves experienced freedom in places like Canada while still being subject to racism In sites of semiformal freedom as in the northern United States fugitives claims to freedom were precarious because state abolition laws conflicted with federal fugitive slave laws Contributors show how local committees strategized to interfere with the work of slave catchers to protect refugees Sites of informal freedom were created within the slaveholding South where runaways who felt relocating to distant destinations was too risky formed maroon communities or attempted to blend in with free black populations These individuals procured false documents or changed their names to avoid detection and pass as free The essays discuss slaves motivations for choosing these destinations the social networks that supported their plans what it was like to settle in their new societies and how slave flight impacted broader debates about slavery This volume redraws the map of escape and emancipation during this period emphasizing the importance of place in defining the meaning and extent of freedom Contributors Kyle Ainsworth Mekala Audain Gordon S Barker Sylviane A Diouf Roy E Finkenbine Graham Russell Gao Hodges Jeffrey R Kerr Ritchie Viola Franziska M ller James David Nichols Damian Alan Pargas Matthew Pinsker A volume in the series Southern Dissent edited by Stanley Harrold and Randall M Miller The Houses of Buxton Patricia Lorraine Neely, 2005 The Queen's Bush Settlement Linda Brown-Kubisch, 2004-02-20 The Black pioneers who established the Queens Bush settlement where present day Waterloo and Wellington counties meet are the focus of this extensively researched book The History of Blacks in Canada George H. Nineteenth-century Ontario Susan E. Houston, Alison L. Prentice, 1988-01-01 Nineteenth century educational reformers were fond of an agricultural metaphor when it came to the provision of more and better schooling even good land they argued had to be cultivated otherwise noxious weeds sprang up In this study of education in Ontario from the establishment of Upper Canada to the end of Egerton Ryerson's career as chief superintendent of schools in 1876 Susan Houston and Alison Prentice explore the roots of the provincial public school system set up to instill a work ethic and moral discipline appropriate to the new society as well as the beginnings of separate schools today the Ontario school system is once again the subject of intense and often bitter debate Many of the most contentious issues have deep and complex roots that go back to this era Houston and Prentice tell the story of how Ontario came to have a universal school system of exceptional quality and shed valuable light on an area of current concern
