Maxwell Street Survival In A Bazaar:

Maxwell Street Ira Berkow, 1977 Maxwell Street is an open air market on Chicago's West Side the center of a ghetto about a mile square where thousands of Jewish immigrants fleeing pogroms and persecution in Eastern Europe settled and first set up business in America between 1880 and 1924 This engrossing lively and richly illustrated chronicle recreates the color the diversity and the personality of Maxwell Street both through the author's recollections of his own childhood experience and the actual stories of many for whom Maxwell Street was the first taste of America Chicago's Maxwell Street Lori Grove, Laura Kamedulski, 2002 Presents a collection of photographs that depict the history of Maxwell Street in Chicago Maxwell Street Tim Cresswell, 2019-03-22 What is the nature of place and how does one undertake to write about it To answer these questions geographer and poet Tim Cresswell looks to Chicago's iconic Maxwell Street Market area Maxwell Street was for decades a place where people from all corners of the city mingled to buy and sell goods play and listen to the blues and encounter new foods and cultures Now redeveloped and renamed University Village it could hardly be more different In Maxwell Street Cresswell advocates approaching the study of place as an assemblage of things meanings and practices He models this innovative approach through a montage format that exposes the different types of texts primary secondary and photographic sources that have attempted to capture the essence of the area Cresswell studies his historical sources just as he explores the different elements of Maxwell Street exposing them layer by layer Brilliantly interweaving words and images Maxwell Street sheds light on a historic Chicago neighborhood and offers a new model for how to write about place that will interest anyone in the fields of geography urban studies or cultural history Jewish Maxwell Street Stories, 2004 Anyone who has seen Maxwell Street has a story about Maxwell Street You didn't have to shop there work there or eat there You didn't have to be Jewish You just had to go there or merely pass by in order to experience something that stuck in your mind forever Only a few blocks south of Chicago's downtown Maxwell Street was predominately a Jewish enclave but you could also hear the Blues bargain with Gypsies and find bargain hunters from all walks of life This book focuses on the stories of the last Jewish generations that lived and worked in the Maxwell Street market area Beginning in the late 19th century it was there that thousands of Jewish immigrants first grasped the American dream The descendents of those first Jewish peddlers absorbed the legacies left them some went on to be among the most notable and successful personalities of the 20th century On Maxwell Street the best merchandise was knowledge The Chicago Sports Reader Steven A.
