Nursing Informatics 97:

Introduction to Nursing Informatics Kathryn J. Hannah, Marion J. Ball, Margaret J.A. Edwards, 2013-04-17 This series is intended for the rapidly increasing number of health care professionals who have rudimentary knowledge and experience in health care computing and are seeking opportunities to expand their horizons It does not attempt to compete with the primers already on the market Eminent international experts will edit author or contribute to each volume in order to provide comprehensive and current accounts of innovations and future trends in this quickly evolving field Each book will be practical easy to use and well referenced Our aim is for the series to encompass all of the health professions by focusing on specific professions such as nursing in individual volumes However integrated computing systems are only one tool for improving communication among members of the health care team Therefore it is our hope that the series will stimulate professionals to explore additional means of fostering interdisciplinary exchange This series springs from a professional collaboration that has grown over the years into a highly valued personal friendship Our joint values put people first If the Computers in Health Care series lets us share those values by helping health care professionals to communicate their ideas for the benefit of patients then our efforts will have succeeded
