Nation and Nurture in Seventeenth-Century English Literature Rachel Trubowitz, 2012-05-31 Nation and Nurture in Seventeenth-Century English Literature connects changing seventeenth-century English views of maternal nurture to the rise of the modern nation, especially between 1603 and 1675. Maternal nurture gains new prominence in the early modern cultural imagination at the precise moment when England undergoes a major paradigm shift from the traditional dynastic body politic organized by organic bonds to the post-dynastic modern nation comprised of symbolic and affective relations. The book also demonstrates that shifting early modern perspectives on Judeo-Christian relations deeply inform the period's interlocking reassessments of maternal nurture and the nation, especially in the case of Milton. The book's five chapters analyze a wide range of reformed and traditional texts, including A Pitiless Mother, William Gouge's Of Domesticall Duties, Shakespeare's Macbeth, Charles I's Eikon Basilike, and Milton's Paradise Lost and Samson Agonistes. Equal attention is paid to such early modern visual images as The Power of Women, a late sixteenth-century Dutch engraving, William Marshall's engraved frontispiece to Richard Braithwaite's The English Gentleman and Gentlewoman (1641), and Peter Paul Rubens's painting of Pero and Cimon, or Roman Charity (1630). The book argues that competing early modern figurations of the nurturing mother mediate in politically implicated ways between customary biblical models of English kingship and innovative Hebraic/Puritan paradigms of Englishness.

The Problem of the Christian Master Matthew Elia, 2024-05-28 A bold rereading of Augustinian thought for a world still haunted by slavery. Over the last two decades, scholars have made a striking return to the resources of the Augustinian tradition to theorize citizenship virtue and the place of religion in public life However these scholars have not sufficiently attended to Augustine's embrace of the position of the Christian slaveholder To confront a racialized world the modern Augustinian tradition of political thought must reckon with its own entanglements with the afterlife of the white Christian master Drawing Augustine's politics and the resources of modern Black thought into extended dialogue Matthew Elia develops a critical analysis of the enduring problem of the Christian master even as he presses toward an alternative interpretation of key concepts of ethical life agency virtue temporality against and beyond the framework of mastery Amid democratic crises and racial injustice on multiple fronts the book breathes fresh life into conversations on religion and the public square by showing how ancient and contemporary sources at once clash and converge in surprising ways It imaginatively carves a path forward for the enduring humanities inquiry into the nature of our common life and the perennial problem of social and political domination Handbook for the Soul Benjamin Shield, Richard Carlson, 2025-05-01 America's most celebrated spiritual writers offer inspiring words on the state of the soul today This collection of more than thirty original essays addresses both the importance of caring for and nourishing the soul and the ways in which these individuals tend to their own souls on a day to day basis Nurturing the Soul of the Youth Worker Tim Smith, 1999
