Spiritcarvers Antonella Sarti, 2022-06-08 In a land caught between the sea and cloud where the natural landscape still refuses civilization there are those the composers of words tellers of tales that help shape the minds of the people that live on its shores They are spiritcarvers New Zealand writing today is engaging in an intent struggle to subvert multiple shapes into voices These interviews as a record of biographical orature are shaped into presenting the figure of the storyteller through memory and language explorations of how we imagine and create ourselves with and into words Here we encounter the dichotomy of fiction and non fiction myth and consensual reality imagination and truth do we live within our own selected fictions Identity is shaped by the authors sense of displacement as well as of belonging meeting otherness with dispossession discovering connection through isolation Among the focal points of the interviews are the role of women's writing Maori writing interrelations among different cultures and the influence of literary and oral tradition within New Zealand

The New Zealand Short Story Collection Marion McLeod, Bill Manhire, 1997 Combines outstanding contemporary New Zealand fiction with some of the best from the past The New Zealand of these stories is not the country presented in glossy brochures but a real place that can only be described with accuracy and vision by the imagination

Of Pavlova, Poetry and Paradigms Christine Franzen, Laurie Bauer, 1993

Essential New Zealand Short Stories Owen Marshall, 2002 Essential NZ Stories is a companion volume to Essential NZ Poems edited by Edmond and Sewell and contains 45 arresting and significant stories spanning 80 years ranging from Katherine Mansfield and Frank Sargeson to Emily Perkins and Chad Taylor The collection shows why short fiction has been so important in the development of our literature and why it continues to appeal to a wide readership The stories are not chosen as social documents and the relationship between life in a given time and place and the art which arises from it is too subtle to be satisfactorily captured by the analogy of a mirror Nevertheless writers are always influenced by their social and physical environments and the stories provide tangential personalised glimpses of the journey we make as a nation
