Paper Architecture New Projects From The Soviet Union:

Paper Architecture Heinrich Klotz, 1990 Brodsky & Utkin Lois Nesbitt, Alexander Brodsky, Ilya Utkin, 2003-07

Alexander Brodsky and Ilya Utkin are the best known of a loosely organized group of Soviet artists known as Paper Architects who designed much but built little in the early days of Glasnost in the late 1980s. Many of their elaborate etchings in which they depicted outlandish often impossible structures and cityscapes of allegorical content were collected in our 1990 book Brodsky Utkin. Now with the addition of forty three new and never before published prints we are pleased to announce this updated edition. In their designs by turns funny cerebral and deeply human Brodsky Utkin borrow from Egyptian tombs, Ledoux's visionary architecture, Le Corbusier's urban master plans and other historical precedents collaging these heterogeneous forms in learned and layered scrambles. Underlying the wit and visual inventiveness is an unmistakable moral that the dehumanizing architecture of the sort seen in Russian cities in the 1980s and 1990s and elsewhere around the globe takes a sinister toll. A new preface assesses the works of Brodsky Utkin and reminds us that the greatest art is often born of adversity. Beautifully printed in 300 screen dry trap duotones by the Steinhauer Press Brodsky Utkin is a book for artists, architects and collectors alike.

The Routledge Handbook of Architecture, Urban Space and Politics, Volume I

Nikolina Bobic, Farzaneh Haghighi, 2022-10-28. For architecture and urban space to have relevance in the 21st Century we cannot merely reignite the approaches of thought and design that were operative in the last century. This is despite or because of the nexus between politics and space often being theorized as a representation or by product of politics. As a symbol or an effect the spatial dimension is depoliticized. Consequently architecture and the urban are halted from fostering any systematic change as they are secondary to the event and therefore incapable of performing any political role. This handbook explores how architecture and urban space can unsettle the unquestioned construct of the spatial politics of governing. Considering both ongoing and unprecedented global problems from violence and urban warfare, the refugee crisis, borderization, detention camps, terrorist attacks to capitalist urbanization, inequity, social unrest and climate change, this handbook provides a comprehensive and multidisciplinary research focused on the complex nexus of politics, architecture and urban space. Volume I starts by pointing out the need to explore the politics of spatialization to make sense of the operational nature of spatial oppression in contemporary times. The operative and active political reading of space is disseminated through five thematics: Violence and War, Machines, Security and Borders, Race, Identity and Ideology, Spectacle and the Screen, and Mapping Landscapes and Big Data. This first volume of the handbook frames cutting edge contemporary debates and presents studies of actual theories and projects that address spatial politics. This Handbook will be of interest to anyone seeking to meaningfully disrupt the reduction of space to an oppressive or neutral backdrop of political realities. Chapters 1 and 23 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution CC BY 4.0 license.

Passages. Architecture for Flowing and Connecting Spaces Nicolò

Chierichetti, Raffaella Cavallaro, 2025-09-01 Ceci n'est pas une conférence sur la mobilité As infrastructures of movement often prioritize technical efficiency they risk neglecting the qualitative and experiential dimensions of space an oversight that architectural thinking is distinctively positioned to address Architecture offers a special perspective to address this gap particularly in light of SDG 09 Industry Innovation and Infrastructures and SDG 11 Sustainable Cities and Communities and in reference to the principles of the EAAE Charter By engaging with mobility through a transversal approach the conference explores how architectural design can contribute to reimagining spaces to overcome functionalist engineering limitations

also considering the ecological climate and social impacts of mobility spaces as something more than mere built objects Through the examination of design methodologies and prototype case studies the conference attempts to unveil the potential of architectural design and research tools to enrich unconventional discussions about mobility in urban and peri urban contexts its spatial configurations and experiential qualities Although mobility is intended as a framework the discourse will focus on the spaces above below in between and to the sides of the ordinary boundaries of architectures of flow as well as on the spaces of new forms of movement The conference Passages Architecture for Flowing and Connecting Spaces invited contributions which critically address the role of Architecture in the Shaping the spaces of mobility and in their interference around the sessions of Intersection Collateral and Evolution

Neoliberalism on the Ground Kenny Cupers, Helena Mattsson, Catharina Gabrielsson, 2020-02-25 Architecture and urbanism have contributed to one of the most sweeping transformations of our times Over the past four decades neoliberalism has been not only a dominant paradigm in politics but a process of bricks and mortar in everyday life Rather than to ask what a neoliberal architecture looks like or how architecture represents neoliberalism this volume examines the multivalent role of architecture and urbanism in geographically variable yet interconnected processes of neoliberal transformation across scales from China Turkey South Africa Argentina Mexico the United States Britain Sweden and Czechoslovakia Analyzing how buildings and urban projects in different regions since the 1960s have served in the implementation of concrete policies such as privatization fiscal reform deregulation state restructuring and the expansion of free trade contributors reveal neoliberalism as a process marked by historical contingency Neoliberalism on the Ground fundamentally reframes accepted narratives of both neoliberalism and postmodernism by demonstrating how architecture has articulated changing relationships between state society and economy since the 1960s

Russia Richard Anderson, 2015-11-15

This book offers a comprehensive account of Russia's architectural production from the late nineteenth century to the present explaining how its architecture was both shaped by and came to embody Russia's rapid cultural economic and social revolutions over the past century Richard Anderson looks at Russia's complex relationship to global architectural culture exploring the country's central presence in the Rationalism and Constructivism movements of the 1920s as well as its role as a key protagonist during the Cold War Looking deeply at Soviet Russia he brings the relationship between architecture and socialism into focus through detailed case studies that situate buildings and architectural concepts within the socialist milieu of Soviet society He tracks the way Russian architectural institutions departed from the course of modernism being developed in capitalist countries and he reappraises the architecture of the Stalin era and the final decades of the USSR Finally he traces the influence of Soviet conventions on contemporary Russian architecture which is now a more heterogeneous mix of approaches and styles and how it made a lasting and little known impact on territories extending from the Middle East to Central Asia and into China A bold new assessment of Russia's architectural legacy and contemporary contributions this book is a fascinating exploration of a tumultuous place and the creativity that has come from it

Drawing the Unbuildable Nerma Cridge, 2015-06-12 Architecture is conventionally seen as being synonymous with building In contrast this book introduces and defines a new category the unbuildable The unbuildable involves projects that are not just unbuilt but cannot be built This distinct form of architectural project has an important and often surprising role in architectural discourse working not in opposition to the buildable but frequently complementing it Using well known examples of early Soviet architecture Tatlin's Tower in particular Nerma Cridge demonstrates the relevance of the unbuildable how it relates to current notions of seriality copying and reproduction and its implications for contemporary practice and discourse in the computational age At the same time it offers a fresh view of our preconceptions and expectations of early Soviet architecture and the Constructivist Movement A History of Russian Exposition and Festival Architecture Alla Aronova, Alexander Ortenberg, 2018-10-03 This collection of thirteen vignettes addresses several important episodes in the history of Russian temporary architecture and public art from the royal festivals during the times of Peter the Great up to the recent venues including the Sochi Winter Olympics The forms and the circumstances of their design were drastically different however the projects discussed in the book share a common feature they have been instrumental in the construction of Russia's national identity with its perception of the West simultaneously a foe and a paragon looming high over this process The book offers a history of multidirectional relationships between diplomacy propaganda and architecture

Housing Estates in the Baltic Countries Daniel Baldwin Hess, Tiit Tammaru, 2019-08-27 This open access book focuses on the formation and later socio spatial trajectories of large housing estates in the Baltic countries Estonia Latvia and Lithuania It also explores claims that a distinctly westward looking orientation in their design produced housing estates that were superior in design to those produced elsewhere in the Soviet Union between 1944 and 1991 Estonia was a member republic of the USSR The first two parts of the book provide contextual material to help readers understand the vision behind housing estates in Estonia Latvia and Lithuania These sections present the background of housing estates in the Baltic Republics as well as challenges and debates concerning their formation evolution and present condition and importance Subsequent parts of the book consist of demographic analyses of the socioeconomic characteristics and ethnicity of housing estate residents past and present in the three Baltic capital cities case studies of people and places related to housing estates in the Baltic countries and chapters exploring relevant special topics and themes This book will be of interest to students scholars and advocates interested in understanding the past present and future importance of housing estates in the Baltic countries

Analogical City Cameron McEwan,2024-01-18 In Analogical City Cameron McEwan argues for architecture s status as a critical project McEwan revisits architect Aldo Rossi as a paradigmatic figure of the critical rational tradition studying a neglected aspect of his thought the analogical city to excavate its potential McEwan develops a grammar of the analogical city under the headings of Imagination Transformation City Multitude and Project McEwan argues that the analogical city is critical collective and emancipatory Analogical thought and understanding cities as analogical might open the conditions of possibility for rethinking the critical project in architecture At a time when the humanities and the sciences are threatened by irrational thought from climate denial to post truth narratives and when architecture has seemingly disavowed its critical capacity and political possibility through its commodification as an instrument of the neoliberal city McEwan offers critical strategies conceptual tools figures of thought and knowledge practices to articulate modes of thinking and acting differently within architectural criticism and practice Today knowledge is a common terrain of struggle and thought requires constant reinvention The task of architecture and critique more broadly must be to interpret the world in order to change it Consequently Analogical City proposes modes for imagining the city the subject and the world otherwise towards a more egalitarian and critical architecture of the city Ultimately the analogical city is not a fully developed theory nor is it only an intuitive poetic or purely formal practice as some critics propose McEwan argues that the analogical city is poetic and political it always refers beyond itself towards a collective and critical project of the city and yet it invites a series of formal spatial and graphic operations comprising erasure and negativity followed by substitution and remontage The Struggle for Utopia Victor Margolin,1997 Focusing on the difficult relationship between art and social change Margolin brings important new insights to our understanding of the avant garde s role in a period of great political complexity The Architects' Journal ,1991
