Leaders Who Transform Society: Micha Popper, 2005-10-30 In this wide ranging historical exploration of transformational leadership Popper examines why followers are influenced by leaders and what psychological dynamics exist between leaders and their subordinates and in the process redefines the phenomenon of leadership Exploring the emotional connections that bind charismatic leaders and those who support them he contends that this multifaceted relationship is based on reciprocal need By focusing on prominent figures throughout history who have altered the lives of their followers in profound ways Popper shows how these leaders reinvented and disseminated value systems for good e g Nelson Mandela but often for ill e g Hitler Whether the influence of a charismatic leader is destructive and negative or constructive and positively transformative this intriguing work argues that the reciprocal process that takes place between leader and follower as well as key formative events in the lives of leaders are surprisingly similar Using such famous and infamous leaders as Mahatma Gandhi Nelson Madela Franklin Delano Roosevelt Hitler Charles Manson and Jim Jones Popper defines and explores three types of leader follower relationships Regressive relationships which are characterized by mutual dependence Symbolic relationships which are rooted in symbolic meaning Developmental transformational relationships which permit positive moral and emotional development

Can't Find My Way Home Martin Torgoff, 2004-05-13 Can't Find My Way Home is a history of illicit drug use in America in the second half of the twentieth century and a personal journey through the drug experience It's the remarkable story of how America got high the epic tale of how the American Century transformed into the Great Stoned Age Martin Torgoff begins with the avant garde worlds of bebop jazz and the emerging Beat writers who embraced the consciousness altering properties of marijuana and other underground drugs These musicians and writers midwived the age of marijuana in the 1960s even as Timothy Leary and Richard Alpert later Ram Dass discovered the power of LSD ushering in the psychedelic era While President John Kennedy proclaimed a New Frontier and NASA journeyed to the moon millions of young Americans began discovering their own new frontiers on a voyage to inner space What had been the province of a fringe avant garde only a decade earlier became a mass movement that affected and altered mainstream America And so America sped through the century dropping acid and eating magic mushrooms at home shooting heroin and ingesting amphetamines in Vietnam snorting cocaine in the disco era smoking crack cocaine in the devastated inner cities of the 1980s discovering MDMA Ecstasy in the rave culture of the 1990s Can't Find My Way Home tells this extraordinary story by weaving together first person accounts and historical background into a narrative vast in scope yet rich in intimate detail Among those who describe their experiments with consciousness are Allen Ginsberg Timothy Leary Robert Stone Wavy Gravy Grace Slick Oliver Stone Peter Coyote David Crosby and many others from Haight Ashbury to Studio 54 to housing projects and rave warehouses But Can't Find My Way Home does not neglect the recovery movement the war on drugs and the ongoing debate over drug policy And even as Martin Torgoff tells the story of his own addiction and recovery he neither romanticizes nor demonizes drugs If he finds them less dangerous than the moral crusaders say they are he also finds them less benign than advocates insist Illegal drugs changed the cultural landscape of America and they continue to shape our country with enormous consequences This ambitious fascinating book is the story of how that happened

The Roots of Evil John Kekes, 2014-02-15 Evil is the most serious of our moral problems All over the world cruelty greed prejudice and fanaticism ruin the lives of countless victims Outrage provokes outrage Millions nurture seething hatred of real or imagined enemies revealing savage and destructive tendencies in human nature Understanding this challenges our optimistic illusions about the effectiveness of reason and morality in bettering human lives But abandoning these illusions is vitally important because they are obstacles to countering the threat of evil The aim of this book is to explain why people act in these ways and what can be done about it John Kekes The first part of this book is a detailed discussion of six horrible cases of evil the Albigensian Crusade of about 1210 Robespierre's Terror of 1793-94 Franz Stangl who commanded a Nazi death camp in 1943-44 the 1969 murders committed by Charles Manson and his family the dirty war conducted by the Argentinean military dictatorship of the late 1970s and the activities of a psychopath named John Allen who recorded reminiscences in 1975 John Kekes includes these examples not out of sensationalism but rather to underline the need to hold vividly in our minds just what evil is The second part shows why in Kekes's view explanations of evil inspired by Christianity and the Enlightenment fail to account for these cases and then provides an original explanation of evil in general and of these instances of it in particular Nation and Race Jeffrey Kaplan, Tore Bjørgo, 1998 The unprecedented growth of hate movements on both sides of the Atlantic is thoroughly explored in this groundbreaking collection of original essays Sexual Trauma: A Challenge Not Insanity K.
