Jung's Wandering Archetype Carrie B. Dohe, 2016-07-01 Is the Germanic god Wotan/Odin really an archaic archetype of the Spirit Was the Third Reich at first a collective individuation process After Friedrich Nietzsche heralded the death of God might the divine have been reborn as a collective form of self redemption on German soil and in the Germanic soul In Jung's Wandering Archetype Carrie Dohe presents a study of Jung's writings on Germanic psychology from 1912 onwards exploring the links between his views on religion and race and providing his perspective on the answers to these questions Dohe demonstrates how Jung's view of Wotan as an archetype of the collective Germanic psyche was created from a combination of an ancient discourse on the Germanic barbarian and modern theories of primitive religion and how he further employed völkisch ideology and various colonialist discourses to contrast hypothesized Germanic Jewish and primitive psychologies He saw Germanic psychology as dangerous yet vital promising rebirth and rejuvenation and compared Wotan to the Pentecostal Spirit suggesting that the Germanic psyche contained the necessary tension to birth a new collective psycho-spiritual attitude In racializing his religiously inflected psychological theory Jung combined religious and scientific discourses in a particularly seductive way masterfully weaving together the objective language of science with the eternal language of myth Dohe concludes the book by examining the use of these ideas in modern Germanic religion in which members claim that religion is a matter of race This in depth study of Jung s views on psychology race and spirituality will be fascinating reading for all academics and students of Jungian and post Jungian studies religious studies and the history of religion

Dialogical Thought and Identity Ephraim Meir,2013-11-27 In discussion with Martin Buber Franz Rosenzweig Abraham Joshua Heschel Franz Fischer and Emmanuel Levinas Ephraim Meir outlines a novel conception of a selfhood that is grounded in dialogical thought He focuses on the shaping of identity in present day societies and offers a new view on identity around the concepts of self transcendence self difference and trans difference Subjectivity is seen as the concrete possibility of relating to an open identity which receives and hosts alterity Self difference is the crown upon the I it is the result of a dialogical life a life of passing to the other The religious I is perceived as in dialogue with secularity with its own past and with other persons It is suggested that with a dialogical approach one may discover what unites people in pluralist societies Gershon Scholem
