Origins Of The:

Origins of the English People and the English Language Jean Roemer, 1888 Origins of the Higher Groups of Tetrapods Hans-Peter Schultze, Linda Trueb, 1991 This edited volume explores the various views on the origins of tetrapods amphibians reptiles birds and mammals views that agree or differ depending in part on how certain fossil animals are classified and which methodology is used for classification Eighteen chapters by an international group of paleontologists and neontologists here present current hypotheses emphasizing the kinds of data needed to answer controversial questions as well as the variety of solutions that emerge from different analyses of the same data set The book is arranged in five sections each of which contains an overview essay that either describes the development of various schools of thought regarding the origin of the tetrapod group in question or critically summarizes the arguments presented in the section The first section addresses the origins of tetrapods as a group focusing on lobe finned fishes and early tetrapods Next is a section dealing with amphibians followed by one on reptiles The fourth section concerns avian origins and the final section treats the origins and early diversification of mammals With an overall goal of stimulating critical evaluation by the reader rather than providing unequivocal answers this volume will be of particular interest to vertebrate paleontologists evolutionary morphologists and ichthyological herpetological avian and mammalian systematists Global Origins of the Modern Self, from Montaigne to Suzuki Avram Alpert, 2019-05-01 Explores how writers across five continents and four centuries have debated ideas about what it means to be an individual and shows that the modern self is an ongoing project of global history In Global Origins of the Modern Self from Montaigne to Suzuki Avram Alpert contends that scholars have yet to fully grasp the constitutive force of global connections in the making of modern selfhood Alpert argues that canonical moments of self making from around the world share a surprising origin in the colonial anthropology of Europeans in the Americas While most intellectual histories of modernity begin with the Cartesian inward turn Alpert shows how this turn itself was an evasion of the impact of the colonial encounter He charts a counter history of the modern self tracing lines of influence that stretch from Michel de Montaigne's encounter with the Tupi through the writings of Jean Jacques Rousseau into German Idealism American Transcendentalism postcolonial critique and modern Zen Alpert considers an unusually wide range of thinkers including Kant Hegel Fanon Emerson Du Bois Senghor and Suzuki This book not only breaks with disciplinary conventions about period and geography but also argues that these conventions obscure our ability to understand the modern condition Alpert's scholarship is impressive offering a focused sweep of intellectual history and incisive readings of many important figures and the scholarly literature devoted to them He is a fantastic writer His prose is direct and evocative conveying complex ideas in clear and probing terms This style transforms a long text into a relatively quick and at times gripping read Jane Anna Gordon author of Creolizing Political Theory Reading Rousseau through Fanon Through textual and historical analyses and great interpretive abilities Alpert shows persuasively that Montaigne Rousseau Emerson Suzuki and others separately and together are thinkers not of a Western monopolizing the sense of modern tradition but of global pluralist thought His way of reading these thinkers can be a model for others interested in decolonizing and deracializing modern thought while preserving much of the canon with its present membership with its male Western European and Anglo American membership But Alpert has done more Through his arguments he has made room for Du Bois Fanon and Suzuki to be included in the canon This is intellectually progressive and politically significant and will make a fresh reading experience for many readers Peter K J Park author of Africa Asia and the History of Philosophy Racism in the Formation of the Philosophical Canon 1780 1830 The ^AOrigins of the World's Mythologies E.J. Michael Witzel,2012-12-13 Michael Witzel persuasively demonstrates the prehistoric origins of most of the mythologies of Eurasia and the Americas Laurasia The Origins of the Second Temple Diana Vikander Edelman,2014-12-05 Darius I King of Persia claims to have accomplished many deeds in the early years of his reign but was one of them the rebuilding of the temple in Jerusalem The editor who added the date to the books of Haggai and Zechariah thought so and the author of Ezra 1 6 then relied on his dates when writing his account of the rebuilding process The genealogical information contained in the book of Nehemiah however suggests otherwise it indicates that Zerubbabel and Nehemiah were either contemporaries or a generation apart in age not some 65 years apart Thus either Zerubbabel and the temple rebuilding needs to be moved to the reign of Artaxerxes I or Nehemiah and the rebuilding of the city walls needs to be moved to the reign of Darius I In this ground breaking volume the argument is made that the temple was built during the reign of Artaxerxes I The editor of Haggai and Zechariah mistakenly set the event under Darius I because he was influenced by both a desire to show the fulfillment of inherited prophecy and by Darius widely circulated autobiography of his rise to power In light of the settlement patterns in Yehud during the Persian period it is proposed that Artaxerxes I instituted a master plan to incorporate Yehud into the Persian road postal and military systems The rebuilding of the temple was a minor part of the larger plan that provided soldiers stationed in the fortress in Jerusalem and civilians living in the new provincial seat with a place to worship their native god while also providing a place to store taxes and monies collected on behalf of the Persian administration The Origins of the Islamic State Aḥmad ibn Yaḥyá Balādhurī,Philip Khuri Hitti,Francis Clark Murgotten,1916 The Origins of the Druze People and Religion Philip Khuri Hitti,1928 The History of the Origins of Christianity Marcus-Aurelius Ernest Renan,2025-07-13 Reprint of the original first published in 1875 The Antigonos publishing house specialises in the publication of reprints of historical books We make sure that these works are made available to the public in good condition in order to preserve their cultural heritage The Origins of the Idea of Scientific Progress Daniel Špelda,2024-06-21 This volume offers a new interpretation of the genesis of the idea of scientific progress in early modern science and philosophy The interpretation argues that the idea of scientific progress was not a historical category but an epistemological one The main thesis of the book posits that the idea of scientific progress was a methodological means of dealing with the contingency of nature To illustrate the novelty of the idea the individual chapters compare several features of Renaissance natural philosophy with a new regime of knowledge that included time as an inevitable factor of empirical research The temporal regime of knowledge is illustrated by the work of Bernard de Fontenelle and his colleagues at the Acad mie des sciences in Paris at the end of the 17th century The new interpretation remedies a gap in recent scholarship where the idea of scientific progress has been overlooked even though the early modern natural philosophers themselves used it to describe the nature of their research The book places both well known texts and less studied documents in a new light thus contributing to the lively and rich debate on the origins and nature of early modern science and philosophy It is of interest to scholars studying the history of early modern philosophy and science The
